Henry G. Koch and Miss Marie Schuster were Tuesday night united in marriage at the home of the bride's uncle, August Schuster, on Franklin avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jacob Schelling, pastor of the German Presbyterian church. The young couple were attended by William Pfeifer and Miss Louise Rouff. Mr. and Mrs. Koch will reside at 522 North Hyde Park avenue.

John Murray, of Dunmore, a well-known conductor on the Lackawanna railroad, and Miss Margaret Godwin, of Stone avenue, were united in marriage at St. Peter's cathedral by Rev. Father Griffin at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The bride was attended by Miss Belinda Kerrigan, and the groom by Patrick Kinnally. Mr. and Mrs. Murray left at 3:30 o'clock for New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other points of interest.

THIS AND THAT.

E. A. Niven, of the Leader, and D. L. Hart of New York this morning on important business. Mr. Niven is to be the guest of George Lederer, the well known theatrical manager, and is to read to him the libretto of a new opera he has just completed. The scene is set in the island of Cuba, and the opera is a masterpiece of Uncle Sam, where the Sultan reigns in all the state of a wealthy eastern monarch.

The plot, of course, introduces a lot of galant offices, some charming American girls and he ducky beauties of the Sultan, and it is bright and clever in every part. There is need of good light opera and Mr. Niven's is timely and patriotic, and moreover, far cleverer than many of the same things which are set to music. It should meet with the approval of Mr. Lederer and be given an elaborate production. Mr. Niven has the ability to write good opera and keep on writing it and his many friends here hope to see him make a decided success of it.

Mr. Niven has been invited to collaborate with Paul Kester, the noted dramatist, in the construction of a historical play, and he is going down to have a talk with Mr. Kester and look the ground over. He is not yet sure that he will accept the offer, as he has a lot of other work on hand. —William-Barre Leader.

Michael Spillman, of Meadon, who is visiting at the home of his brother, P. F. Spillman, Archibald, was overcome by the heat recently and was quite ill, but is now recovering. Mr. Spillman is quite well known in the Lackawanna valley. He says the people of Meadon seldom suffer from the heat and that ice water is practically unknown in that country.

A special party of twelve people will be transported over the Lackawanna railroad next Monday from Morristown, N. J., to Buffalo, in the Pullman palace car "Gloria." The party will go through to the Pacific coast before returning. The cost of the trip for transportation alone, exclusive of provisions, will be over $200.

WHITE WANTS A DIVORCE

Woman He Had Arrested on a Charge of Bigamy Will Not Oppose Petition.

J. R. White, of Daleville, who had his supposed wife, Anna May Ferrans arrested for bigamy, petitioned Judge Carpenter yesterday for a decree declaring his marriage null and void. A subpoena was issued directing her to appear at the next term of common pleas court and show cause, if she has any, why the marriage should not be revoked.

Miss Ferrans will not appear to oppose the petition. This was agreed to at the hearing yesterday, in Alderman Kesson's office in the bigamy case.

Miss Ferrans was brought here at 11 o'clock the previous night and committed to the jail. She refused to go and said she would cut her throat before the cell door could close on her. She appeared to be a very resolute woman and fearing a big fuss would result if any attempt was made to use force to take her by force, the alderman decided to allow her to be paroled in custody of Constable Firestone until the time for the hearing.

Mrs. Ferrans was very defiant until Mr. White arrived, declaring he was unable to prove her guilt. When, however, she was confronted with a copy of a marriage certificate, showing that Nellie May Smith, of New Milford, and Martin Ferrans, of New York, were married by a Presbyterian clergyman, at Syracuse, in 1892, she was no longer defiant but admitted the truth of the charge.

She claimed, however, that in marrying Mr. White she did not commit bigamy, as it developed that Ferrans was a married man already when she married him in Syracuse. The reason she left him, she says, was because Mrs. Ferrans No. 1, came on the scene and had Ferrans arrested for bigamy. She does not know what became of the case, but she understands he is at present working on a railroad with his home in New York.

She was only fifteen years of age, she says, when she married Ferrans. It was in 1898 that she married White. She is now 24 years of age. Cornelius Comessa is attorney for Mrs. White.

A FURTHER CONVENIENCE

Giving Benefits of Free Delivery of Mail to Persons Living Along the Star Routes.

A detailed order was received at the postoffice yesterday, in regard to the establishing of private mail boxes along the star routes. It is from Second Assistant Postmaster General W. S. Shallenbarger, and reads as follows:

"Any person living on or near the route and not within the corporate limits of any town or within eight rods of any postoffice, who desires his mail deposited in a box on the line of the route and erect a suitable box on the roadside, located in such manner as to be reached as conveniently as practicable by the carrier, and such person shall file with the postmaster the postoffice to which his mail is addressed (which shall be one of the two postoffices on the route on either side of and next to the box) a request for the delivery of his mail to the carrier on the route for deposit into said mail box, at the risk of the addressee.

It shall be the duty of the postmaster at every such office, upon a written order from any person living on or near the route, to deliver to the proper mail carrier for that route any mail matter, except registered mail, with instructions as to the delivery of his mail to the carrier on the route for deposit into said mail box, at the risk of the addressee.

The carrier will be required to place on the line of the route for this purpose, such service by the carrier to be without charge to the addressee.

The carrier must be able to read and write the English language and be of sufficient intelligence to properly handle and deposit the mail for boxes along the route.

The person proposing any such service, but for design of box to be used for this service, and the person providing a box shall see that it is of such character as to afford ample protection to his mail. If it is a lock attached, a key is not to be held by the carrier, as he is expected to deposit the mail into a box through an opening so arranged as not to admit of the mail being abstracted from the box thereby. The box should be on a level on the roadside that the carrier can deposit mail therein without leaving his vehicle.

The carrier is not required to collect mail from the boxes, but the law provides that every carrier of the mail shall receive any mail matter presented to him, if properly prepaid by stamps, and deliver the same for mailing at the next postoffice at which he arrives, but that no fee shall be allowed him therefor.

The contract price covers all the service required of the carrier that is indicated herein.

The person proposing such service, as required by the contracts effective July 1, 1901, on all the star routes (with but few exceptions) in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

TELLERS DID NOT COMPLETE WORK YESTERDAY.

It Is Expected That at This Morning's Session of the United Mine Workers the Vote for the Various Candidates for Office Will Be Announced—Judge Edwards Is Asked to Remove Vaughn Richards from the Board of Examiners. Ask to Be Consulted Hereafter.

Contrary to all expectations the tellers did not bring in a report yesterday morning at the convention of Mine Workers of District No. 1, and the anxious delegates eager to learn who the successful candidates were, were forced to go through the day with their curiosity still on edge as no report was forthcoming in the afternoon session either.

The work of counting the ballots is a long and arduous one, but it is expected that the task will be completed before the opening of this morning's session. Yesterday there was little business of importance transacted save the adoption of resolutions endorsing the strike of the car builders and regarding the matter of Vaughn Richards.

HEARING OF STRIKERS.

They Were Charged With Creating a Disturbance—Another Arrest Followed Hearing.

Seven of the eight strikers arrested for participating in the turbulence at Cedar avenue bridge on the morning of July 8, were given a hearing before Alderman Miller last night. John H. Schroeder, Louis Knoeller and Albert Zeigman or South Scranton, the three ex-strikers, who encountered the crowds at the bridge while on their way to work, and M. F. Spellman, one of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company's deputies, identified the defendants as having been in the crowd, and told that stones were thrown, violent language used and opprobrious names called.

Attorney E. E. Boyle who represented the defendants asked that they be discharged on the grounds that the testimony failed to connect any of them with a distinct breach of the peace.

Hon. C. P. O'Malley, of Willard, Warren and Knapp, who appeared for the prosecution argued that act of assembly makes each member of a turbulent or disorderly assemblage liable for the acts of any or all who compose the gathering.

Mr. Boyle contended that the defendants were innocent offenders.

The alderman then gave an explanation of the presence of so large a crowd of the place in question at such an early hour.

Mr. Boyle replied that they were members of the union and had assembled to attend a meeting called for 5 o'clock a. m. in one of the daily papers.

The alderman held that this was a rather shallow pretense and could have no weight with him in excusing their presence.

The alderman then imposed a fine of $10 each on the defendants. Mr. Boyle appealed the case and had the defendants enter recognizance for twice the amount of the fine and costs, which amounted to $10, P. W. Gallagher qualified as bondsman.

The throng that jammed the office to overflowing was making its way down the steps when one of the strikers, John P. Keller, who was among the spectators made use of some indecent language.

Officers Spellman and Seidman took him into custody and marched him back to the alderman's office, followed by the crowd.

The officers testified to having arrested him for having used indecent language in a public place. Keller admitted that he used an obscene word but earnestly protested he had not directed his remarks to any one in particular but simply made a comment on a hat worn by a lady who was passing.

The alderman thereupon fined him $5 and costs, amounting to $2, with the alternative of spending twenty days in jail.

Attorney Boyle protested that deputy sheriffs had no right to make an arrest on men for an offense of this nature, and directed Keller to decline to pay the fine, saying he would secure Keller's release on habeas corpus proceedings in the morning and make Spellman and Seidman dance in the bargain. He also added that he would have the alderman arrested for false imprisonment if he sent Keller to jail.

The alderman explained that he was acting as a police magistrate under the second class city laws and had power of summary conviction in such cases without permitting of an appeal such as was taken in the previous case.

After Attorney Boyle had departed and the alderman was engaged in making out the commitment, Keller decided that he would pay the fine and costs, and avoid going to jail.

The alderman toned down the costs a little and Keller went his way.

Another of the strikers, H. H. H. Minsberger, charged with participating in the bridge episode has not as yet been apprehended.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Today the reports of the various committees appointed on the first day will be heard and these, coupled with the alderman's report, will probably close the business of the convention this afternoon. National Board Member Frederick Dillcher gave the delegates a surprise yesterday afternoon by returning from Nelsonville, O., in time to attend the afternoon session and address the convention. Organizer Charles J. Thain, of Wilkes-Barre, was also in the city and in the company of the delegates during the day.

Following the session, the delegates will be entertained by a drive to Lake Scranton and other methods of enjoyment employed. The local association of lumber dealers has constituted itself a committee of the whole to entertain the visitors.

BAILEY IS MUCH WANTED.

Obtained Over One Hundred Dollars by False Representations.

The whereabouts of a very ingenious young man who gave his name in this city as William Bailey are now causing the police a great deal of anxiety as William is alleged to have left here with over $100 belonging to Scranton men, upon whom he practised a very smooth little game.

He came here last Saturday and took a room in the Conway House, on Penn avenue, after which he inserted in the daily papers the following ad: "Wanted—Three young men to travel, advertising 'Union' William Bailey, Conway House."

Fully fifty men answered the advertisement and each applicant was informed by Bailey that it would be necessary to join the advertised union and pay a $5 initiation fee, before obtaining his commission. He secured a large number of fees and made fully twenty contracts, in which his dupes were promised $10 a month expenses, including railroad fare and board. He told them all to report at the hotel for duty at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday morning. He left the hotel Monday night, and the police are now attempting to deduce his whereabouts.
