CHURCH FREE FROM DEBT

HAMPTON STREET METHODISTS REJOICE IN JUBILEE.

History of the Church From Its Inception Prepared by H. C. Hinman—One Workman Impersonated Another in Order to Obtain Goods—Assyrians Have Their Priest Arrested—Excursion to Harvey's Lake—Sabbath Desecraters Heavily Fined—Other Notes and Personals.

The congregation of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church held their jubilee services on Sunday in observance of their being free from debt. Probably the most interesting feature of the services was the address given by H. C. Hinman on "The Church of the Past," which was in reality a history of the church from its inception. The paper prepared by Mr. Hinman is as follows:

The history of this society from the year of 1875 is a most interesting one. The Protestant Methodist built a church where this anniversary now stands. In the lecture room attached to this church, the Protestant Methodists worshipped. Ten years of happy life were spent in this denomination in the little church, but ominous signs of discontent could be seen and a decision was followed.

The trustees of this denomination invited some of the brethren, from what was known as the Holy Park Methodist Episcopal church (Simpson street), to come over into Macedonia and help them. The presiding elder, Rev. Austin Griffin and W. W. Van Scholck, after looking the field over, decided to purchase the property and hold it as a mission.

Thomas P. Arndt, Henry Smith, C. W. Trevorton, John R. Hall and H. C. Hinman were appointed the trustees. This was formed the South Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church in June of 1880. On July 2 of this same year the Rev. John L. Laffay was appointed the first pastor. He preached his first sermon from the text, "For I determined to know Nothing Among You Save Christ and Him Crucified."

For the remaining months of that conference year he continued to earnestly proclaim the gospel truths. Sister Margaret Fagart, who is present with us today, was the first to join the new society, and the first to pay a dollar into the treasury. Others followed and a nucleus for a good work was begun. A Ladies' Aid society was soon organized, consisting of men, women and children. That same society is still in existence, with many of the old members still at work. It is the right arm of power of the church.

A Sunday school was organized consisting of about fifty members. Some of the officers continued to serve for ten consecutive terms and saw the school grow from 50 to over 250 members. A choir was also brought into action at this time and still continues to sing good music. As soon as a charter could be procured the new society bought the old church property for $1,200 from John R. Hall, who held the title at that time. A debt of $200 which remained was soon provided for. The church was painted and other improvements made. The old society presented to the new their library, church organ and many other articles which cannot now be recalled.

The annual conference of 1883 appointed a young man by the name of George C. Lewis, to succeed the pastor. He was an extraordinary man, but being a man full of Christian zeal and a faith that reached to heaven the church wonderfully prospered. During the pastorate of his good brother, the church doubled its membership, the mortgage was cancelled, a parsonage erected at a cost of $1,100 and all paid for but $400.

In the midst of the incessant toll his health failed and the angels came and here away one of the most earnest pastors in the vineyard of the Master. In the year of 1887 Brother Lewis was succeeded by Rev. W. R. Norton, who for two years proved himself a "workman of the first magnitude," a powerful preacher and faithful pastor. During this pastorate many souls were brought to the kingdom, some of which remain to this day.

The conference of 1890 appointed Rev. Stephen Elliott, who for two years was earnest and zealous pastor. He was an extraordinary man, but being a man full of Christian zeal and a faith that reached to heaven the church wonderfully prospered. During the pastorate of his good brother, the church doubled its membership, the mortgage was cancelled, a parsonage erected at a cost of $1,100 and all paid for but $400.

In the midst of the incessant toll his health failed and the angels came and here away one of the most earnest pastors in the vineyard of the Master. In the year of 1887 Brother Lewis was succeeded by Rev. W. R. Norton, who for two years proved himself a "workman of the first magnitude," a powerful preacher and faithful pastor. During this pastorate many souls were brought to the kingdom, some of which remain to this day.

There was also a revival in the winter in which many souls were converted. It would be well to mention here the valuable services rendered by R. W. Henderson, who came to the church from the central city. He was a willing worker in all departments of church work and especially along financial lines. While in his hands he was able to give large sums of money which he had the faculty of getting it from others.

Another valuable man was James Shiffer. There came a time in the history of the church when she was greatly embarrassed owing to financial difficulties. The trustees were unable to procure money, and Brother Shiffer borrowed $2,000 on his own responsibility and turned it to the church.

Brother Henry Smith, who is still an active member, must not be forgotten as a faithful, conscientious servant of God, faithful to all his duties and a most liberal giver.

The conference of 1893 appointed Rev. A. W. Cooper, who remained in the charge two years. He was amply endorsed for the work being in which he was engaged. In the spring of 1893 Rev. F. P. Doty came as the pastor, remaining three years. He was a very pleasant pastor and the work of the pastorate resulted in spiritual profit.

Time would not permit a detailed account of all the sacrifices, the encouraging words, the sick rooms visited and the sad hearts comforted. Suffice it to say eternally alone will reveal the work done.

In the spring of 1898 your present pastor, Rev. James Benninger, was appointed to the charge. He was a man of radical change in many things the very first year. In the spring of 1898 he entered upon the work. The first Sabbath he was met and welcomed by one of the brethren who had come his warm friend and still remains in the church. He will continue while life shall last. The work done on the charge during his pastorate is familiar to you all. The debt of previous years increased to something over $1,200. On his hands was a church that needed repairs and a society that needed reorganization, but with friends who stand by every pastor and the blessing of Almighty God, a great work has so far been accomplished.

The entire debt has been paid off, which work the church has had some needed repairs, all of which has been paid. Two new lots have been secured on the Room Woods plot, a most beautiful sight for a new church. The life ones have been weeded out and workers have taken their places. The fact that a new church is being built in this city in these years have been years of prosperity and growth.

"The Church of the Present" was ably referred to by William Parsons, in which he spoke of the work the present membership has accomplished towards establishing a new home for themselves. Rev. James Benninger, the pastor, spoke of "The Church of the Future," in which he prophesied great things for his flock in Greater West Scranton, as they progress building the new edifice in a section which affords ample opportunity for building up a large congregation. Special music was rendered during the service by the choir, and a large congregation was in attendance.

Impersonated Another Man.
John Kivildis, an employe at the Mt. Pleasant colliery, has only been in the country six months, and knows but little about it, but he does know about man's duplicity. He received a due bill from the mine clerk for his pay last week amounting to $15.00, but the clerk refused to give him the money, found that all that was coming to him was $3.44.

He could not understand why he received so little, and upon making inquiries it was learned that another man had been impersonating him, and ordered a bill of goods amounting to $13.56. The goods were loaded on the delivery wagon and hauled up to Cayuga street. When the driver inquired for "John Kivildis," another fellow claimed to be the right man and the goods were left in his care in a small shanty.

As soon as the driver disappeared, the impersonator procured a wheelbarrow and hauled the goods away. The strangest part of the whole thing is that the man whose name was used did not know the company, neither does he know who the fellow is that obtained them. All he knows is that he is out $10.06.

The victim sought Alderman Kellow's advice in the matter yesterday afternoon and brought it to the attention of the store company. The latter agreed to make good Kivildis' shortage, and will also make an effort to find the fellow who impersonated him.

Assyrians in Trouble Again.
At the next term of court there will probably be another case similar to the one which was tried last term, in which a dozen or more Assyrians will appear against each other. The trouble revolves about Salma Zadie, of 916 Loneragan court.

The latter is a pretty widow, and the trouble started on July 10, when a crowd of her countrymen, at the home of one of their periodical seances. At that time, the young woman was seated in her quarters when there came down from the apartments above a quantity of beer, which soiled her clothing and otherwise spoiled her general appearance.

On July 18 she appeared before Alderman Kellow and caused warrants to be issued for the arrest of Thomas Amane, Joseph Mozl, Calm Sarz and Minner Mausoor, charging them with assault and battery. The only evidence adduced in the hearing was from Amane, who admitted spilling the beer on the young woman, but contended that it was accidental. He was held in $200 bail and the other three were discharged.

The outcome of this was that seven men conspired to ruin the woman's reputation by alleging that the Rev. Petrus Asman was guilty of improper relations with her, and from the testimony given, they composed a letter which, it is alleged, was forwarded to the bishop.

Upon learning this the priest had warrants issued for George Nicholas, Najab Younis, Alms Mackeol, Joseph Massaad, Thomas Amane, Kerib Saab and Minner Mausoor, charging them with criminal libel. There was no evidence to substantiate the charge, and the case was dismissed.

Minner Mausoor, of 916 Loneragan street, then had Rev. Petrus Asman and Salma Zadie, the woman, arrested on charges of assault and battery and making threats to kill him. There was no evidence to show that the priest had assaulted Mausoor, and he was discharged on that count, and held in $200 bail for making threats. The cases against the woman were dismissed. The priest has now begun an action for damages, to be tried by Judge Conroy, as is reported in another column.

Joint Excursion.
The joint excursion of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal, Washburn Street Presbyterian and Simpson Methodist Episcopal churches will be run to Harvey's lake on Wednesday, July 31. The Tribune was in error yesterday in announcing the Hampton street church excursion for tomorrow.

The committee representing the three churches met last evening at the home of Jenkin T. Reese, corner of Washburn street and Hyde Park avenue, to perfect the arrangements. The route will be by way of the Delaware and Hudson and Lehigh Valley railroads direct to the lake.

The following races have been decided upon for the day: Three-legged race, prize valued at $1; sack race, prize valued at 50 cents; relay race, half mile, three participants from each church, prize valued at $1.50; potato race, prize valued at 50 cents.

There will also be a game of base ball between the married and single men, and it is expected there will be yacht races on the lake that day. If the weather is unfavorable for outdoor sports, suitable exercises will be held on the pavilion.

A regular meeting of Enterprise Lodge, Local Knights of America, was held last evening at 7 o'clock. Brother W. A. Phillips was installed by National Grand Master Joseph Oliver. The lodge also decided to engage Knowles' orchestra for their outing at Harvey's Lake on August 13.

The residents of South Hyde Park avenue, between Washburn and Division streets, complain that the pavement in front of their properties has not been washed in six weeks, and that the street flushers overlook that block when they are washing the pavement.

A slight fire occurred yesterday morning in the house occupied by Joseph Mathias and family on Grand avenue. It was caused by a defective fire, but was extinguished when the firemen arrived.

Boys Found Money in Belt.
Two boys, Charles Boyd and Michael Coniff, living on West Market street, found an old leather belt in the street recently, and their curiosity led them to rip it apart. To their surprise they found between the two strips a number of silver dollars and greenbacks.

Before opening the belt, however, the boys had carelessly thrown it into a Mrs. Furry's yard, and she threw it out again, fearing that it would breed disease. The money and belt is now in the possession of Mrs. Boyd, of 1983 West Market street.

A Flower Bed.
G. R. Clark has donated to the Niagara Hose company a handsome flower bed, which is situated in front of the new hose house of the company, at the intersection of North Main avenue and Providence road.

DUTIES TO BE RETURNED.
Government Will Take No Chances in Porto Rico Case.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, July 22.—Attorney General Knox today declined to render an opinion which was asked for by the secretary of the treasury, whether under existing laws the secretary is authorized to refund the duties collected on goods imported from Porto Rico between the date of its ratification of the Spanish treaty and the date that the Foraker act went into operation.

The attorney general says that inasmuch as the comptroller of the treasury has given his decision on the subject, it is a matter for him the comptroller alone, and he, therefore, cannot give a decision as required. It is authoritatively stated at the treasury department that the government will proceed immediately to refund these duties, acting upon the decision of the comptroller of the treasury.
