

WEST SCRANTON

SHE WANTS TO GO TO JAIL

REQUEST OF A WOMAN PICKED UP BY POLICE.

She Says She Is a Member of One of the Most Prominent Families of the West Side—John Hardell Crushed to Death by a Fall of Roof in Archbald Mine—Daughter of J. H. Hoffman Died in Philadelphia—Notes of Many Kinds.

A woman who gave her name as Mary Carmody, and residence as Pittsburg, was picked up by the police last night and locked up in the station house. She was throwing money among a crowd of boys on Jackson street when first observed, and later defied into the Co-operative hall building, where she was picked up by Acting Lieutenant Thomas Evans and Patrolman Thomas Collins.

Constable John Davis, of Alderman John's court, advised that the woman might be suffering from heat exhaustion, and had visions of another Duggan case, but the patrolmen were able to analyze her condition as a case of drunk.

When the woman was locked up in cell No. 1, she divested herself of nearly all of her wearing apparel and modestly called for a bunch of cigarettes to while away the hours of her incarceration. She seemed to be unconcerned about her arrest, and volunteered the information that she is closely related to one of the most prominent families in West Scranton.

On being questioned, she mentioned a number of the members of the family in question and seemed to be familiar with their names and places of residence. She was fairly well dressed and had a small sum of money left when placed under arrest. The woman will be given a hearing this morning by Police Magistrate Davis.

She says her brother, a resident of Pittsburg, is looking for her, and that she wants to go to jail to keep out of his way.

Mrs. Mary Walsh was arraigned before Alderman Lentjes last evening, on a charge of disorderly conduct, and using vile language. Mrs. Margaret McVeigh was the prosecutrix. After hearing the witnesses the alderman fined Mrs. Walsh $2, or thirty days in the county jail. She paid the fine.

Later, Mrs. Walsh had Mrs. McVeigh arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. The suit between the women, who are neighbors on Cherry street, grew out of boys throwing stones into their premises. Two Men Injured by an Explosion of Gas in No. 1 Shaft—Excursion Tomorrow

At No. 1 shaft of the Erie railroad, two men were seriously injured by an explosion of gas yesterday morning, as they were about to begin their day's work.

Joseph Humminick, a miner, and his laborer, Corin Matusch, both residing at Troop, were hurt, the latter suffering from severe burns about the face and limbs, while the former was badly bruised, being thrown some distance by the force of the explosion, which was powerful enough to break several mine cars in fragments.

Matusch was removed to the Lackawanna hospital. Humminick being taken to his home. The men were engaged in opening a new chamber, which had only been driven about twenty feet, and as they were about to enter, the explosion occurred. No explanation of why the presence of gas had not been discovered by those in charge was given, gas being very rarely found in that part of the mine.
