SUN BURNED SOLDIERS RETURN FROM MT. GRETTA.

The Thirteenth regiment arrived home at 8:10 o'clock Saturday morning from Camp Magee, Mt. Gretna, after a long but not unpleasant ride.

A Washington correspondent says of Hon. James T. DuBois, of Hallettsdale: 'The Hon. James T. DuBois, consul general of the United States to Switzerland, has recently resigned his post under protest of the state department and treasury department. Mr. DuBois was appointed to Switzerland upon the personal request of that veteran statesman, Representative Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania. The resignation amounts to a transfer, instead of the severance of the relations of Mr. DuBois with the administration, and he has accepted a position in the state department known as editor of the laws of congress, which is not only agreeable to him, but is a position for which he is especially fitted. Mr. DuBois gave up his post at St. Gall for purely personal reasons, namely, he desires to educate his two boys in American colleges for which they are now fitting. As consul general to Switzerland Mr. DuBois has made an enviable record, and it is intimated that in addition to the position which has been tendered him in the state department, he will be called upon for important missions where tact, ability and thorough Americanism are required.'

PETER PITT'S AWFUL DEATH

Burned at the L. I. & S. Co's Blast Furnaces at Lebanon.

Peter Pitt, the 19-year-old son of Gottlieb Pitt, of 409 Pittston avenue, was burned to death yesterday morning at 4 o'clock while at work at one of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company's blast furnaces at Lebanon, Pa. A dispatch was received by his father about 11 o'clock reading as follows:

Lebanon, Pa., July 28. Mr. Pitt, Pittston avenue, was burned to death this morning. Answer.

General Superintendent L. I. & S. Co. Young Pitt was employed at one of the blast furnaces when one of the chutes which conducts the ore into the furnace became blocked. Young Pitt took a bar and tried to loosen the ore, when it suddenly slipped into the furnace and fell and was burned to death in sight of his fellow workmen, who could do nothing to save him.

August Dressing, who was a friend of Young Pitt, left for Lebanon last night to have the remains removed to the Pitt home. Deceased is survived by a father and three brothers.

Peter Pitt left for Lebanon about nine months ago and was employed at the furnaces ever since. He was well liked by all that knew him for his bright and friendly disposition.

WALSH'S FATAL JUMP.

He Leaped from a Moving Train to Recover His Boy's Hat and Was Ground Under Wheels.

Anthony Walsh, of Olyphant, lost his life near Mountain Park on Saturday morning by jumping from a moving passenger train to rescue his boy's hat, which had blown out of the window.

Walsh and his family were on an excursion run over the Jersey Central to the park by St. Patrick's congregation of Olyphant. Just as the train had begun to slacken its speed and was nearing the park, the hat of one of Walsh's boys blew out of the open window. Walsh hurriedly arose from his seat and got upon the rear platform of the car, jumped from the train.

He got off backwards and in landing struck some railroad ties which were lying alongside the track. This caused him to slip and his body in falling was sent under the wheels of the train, where it was crushed and mangled almost beyond recognition. The grief of Mrs. Walsh and her large family of children when they learned of the accident and viewed the remains was pathetic in the extreme.

The body was viewed by Coroner McKee, of Luzerne county, who personally inquired to have it removed to Olyphant. The dead man was a miner by occupation and had lived on Dempsey street, Olyphant, for a number of years. He was 45 years old and is survived by a wife and three children.

There were no less than three other excursionists who were injured by falling from swings at the park. These were Frank Ferguson, of Olyphant, who sustained a dislocation of the left arm and twisted wrist, and Joseph McHale, of Dunmore, one of whose fingers were broken.

NEW LAW FOR PEDDLERS.

They Must Now Secure a License from the County Treasurer.

An act relating to licensing hawkers and peddlers in the boroughs and townships of the county, which has been approved by Governor Stone, and provides that any county treasurer is authorized to issue a license to any person to hawk, peddle or sell within the county where the license is granted.

The act provides that any person who is unable to procure a livelihood by manual labor, the penalty for not procuring a license is, upon conviction in the court of quarter sessions, a fine of not less than $5 or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than three months nor more than one year, at the discretion of the court. The act does not affect cities of the first, second and third classes, nor any existing local or special laws now in force.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Jeremiah Simmons Fatally Hurt on the Lackawanna Railroad.

Jeremiah Simmons, of Edwardsport, received injuries on the Lackawanna railroad, near the Diamond street crossing, Monday morning, from which he died shortly after being taken to the Lackawanna hospital.

Just how the accident occurred is not known, but it is believed that he was walking along the track at the time he was struck by some empty cars, which were being backed into a switch, and had his left leg cut off at the knee. He also sustained a fracture of the skull and died a few moments after being received at the hospital.

The tie for second place in The Tribune's Educational Contest remains unbroken this morning, neither Miss Wilhelmina Griffin nor Henry Schwenger having scored a single point on Saturday. The only two contestants that increased their points were Miss Norma Meredith and Garfield Anderson, but neither scored sufficiently to advance their positions.

Saturday closed the eleventh week of the contest, and the table below shows the smallest number of points recorded of any week since it opened. Meyer Lewis, who is in first place, did not score a single point; neither did William Miles, who is fourth. Only eight of the entire list of contestants brought in points, and the result shows that the young ladies are doing the greater part of the work. The three young ladies secured nearly three times as many points as all the young men together, Miss Griffin alone scoring more than half the number turned in for the week. The table below shows in detail just what each contestant did:

Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. Fri. Sat. Total.

Miss Griffin 12 19 30 61
Miss M. Griffin 15 15 15 45
Miss Pedrick 4 19 19 42
Miss Meredith 1 3 4 8
Brunner 7 7 7 21
Schwenker 1 1 1 3
Griffin 1 1 1 3
Totals 3 33 22 58 7 107

There are still five weeks of the contest, and the above table shows what an excellent opportunity there is for some ambitious young people to enter and win one of the valuable rewards. Think of the possibility of securing a four-year scholarship, valued at $1,000, for the work of five weeks! Last year, the winner of the fourth special reward was in the contest but three weeks.

Those who wish to enter must do so before August 15, as positively no entries will be received after that date.
