Scranton to Have Visit from Celebrated 48th Highlander Band.

Everybody within twenty-five miles of Scranton will learn with interest and pleasure that the famous band of the Forty-eighth Highlanders ("The Kilties") with its bandsmen, vocal choir, Highland dancers, bagpipers, etc., will be here on Monday, Aug. 5, under the auspices of the Caledonian club of this city, in the new armory.

The "Kilties" band, outside the time employed in annual drill with the regiment, has been touring the United States the past year and has visited over 200 American cities, being welcomed enthusiastically everywhere. In Chicago over 10,000 people paid to hear them on Thanksgiving Day in the great Coliseum. The coming fall and winter Cameron Brown, the president, will take them out to the Pacific coast and down through the extreme south. Among this summer's engagements are ten days at the Pan-American exposition in August, two weeks at Lincoln Park, Pittsburgh, a week at Manhattan beach and other important summer resorts. The prices for this celebrated band have been placed at 25 and 50 cents for the afternoon matinee, and 25 cents for children, 50 and 75 cents, and $1 in the evening.

The Green Ridge dog poisoner is to be given over to the officers of the law for punishment. He failed to live up to his part of the agreement with the men whose dogs he caused to shuffle off and they will ask the district attorney to indict him.

It was largely through the efforts of Deputy Constable T. S. Huffling, of the Thirteenth ward, and C. P. Jones that he was apprehended. Charles Sivelly by name, and he gave every evidence of being a man-maniac.

About six months ago several valuable dogs in Green Ridge were poisoned and died in great agony. From that time on there were at least half a dozen dogs poisoned every week and on one particular morning there were no less than seven different animals found dead.

The symptoms displayed by the animals who were seen dying were those of strichnine poisoning and scraps of poisoned meat were found in many instances near the dead dogs. As might be supposed, the citizens of Green Ridge, whether dog owners or not, became very much enraged and every effort was made to locate the poisoner, but they were unsuccessful, and nearly every day came the announcement that another dog had been killed.

Druggist C. P. Jones, who lost two especially valuable dogs, which had been household pets for some time, happened to be in Matthews' drug store about six weeks ago and noticed an old man, who was endeavoring to purchase some strichnine to "poison some old cats," as he told the clerk. Matthews' Bros. had heard of the Green Ridge dog poisoning and had instructed their clerks not to sell any of the poison.

TRACKED TO HIS HOME.

The old man was accordingly refused, and Mr. Jones followed him out and down the street until he saw him take a Green Ridge Peacock car. He at once decided that he had located his man and by the use of private detective work, when a Tribune man called at the home of Neave last night the unfortunate lineman was still unconscious.

The doctor found no bones broken as far as he was able to see, but will be unable to tell the full extent of the injuries till Neave recovers from the stupor in which he is.

He was standing on the down track near Jackson street, waiting for a train to pass, when he was struck by a caboose being backed down by a switch engine. He was thrown to one side of the track, but one of his hands was unfortunately caught under the wheels and cut off. His back was very badly sprained.

He was taken in the ambulance to the West Side hospital, where his condition was said to be serious early this morning.

NEWSBOYS TO MEET.

They Think They Pay Too Much for Sunday Papers.

A special meeting of the Newsboys' union has been called for tonight at 8 o'clock in Guernsey hall. The question of making a demand for a cheaper price for out-of-town Sunday papers is to be discussed.

The boys now pay five cents to the newsdealers for these papers and sell them for seven cents, making two cents on each. Many of them believe that they should get the papers for four and a half cents, and a demand for such a price may be one of the results of to-night's meeting.

Sivelly told him that strichnine was the best kind of poison to use, but said that he had great difficulty in securing it. Huffling succeeded in getting some, and easily secured it at one of the Green Ridge drug stores. Sivelly was much elated when the poison was shown him, and got a quantity of meat, which he cut into small pieces.

TEN DAYS TO LEAVE TOWN.

A meeting was held and a conference was had with Sivelly's relatives who were told that if they got the old man out of the city and paid the costs no prosecution would be instituted. This they agreed to do, it is said, and they were given ten days in which to do it, and as the ten days expired over a week ago and as there was no sign of a settlement another meeting was held on Monday night.

It was then decided to wait no longer, but to lay the facts before the district attorney at once and request that he act immediately. This has been done and it is thought that Sivelly will be arrested some day this week.

There have been no dogs poisoned in Green Ridge since Sivelly confessed, but there were two poisoned in Dunmore, just across the city line the other night.

Sivelly told Huffling that he had poisoned scores of dogs and told him of another method which he sometimes adopts to kill these animals, which for Hendish cruelty rivals anything ever chronicled.

He said that he sometimes fried sponges in boiling fat until they looked and tasted like meat. These he fed to dogs who ate them greedily. The sponges were, of course, indigestible, and when they reached the dog's intestines swelled up, distending the folds of the intestines to almost double their normal size and causing the animal's excruciating torture before finally killing them.

LINEMAN'S AWFUL FALL

J. R. Neave Dropped from Cross Beam of Telephone Pole Yesterday Morning.

J. R. Neave, of Washburn street, a lineman in the employ of the Lackawanna Telephone company, received very serious injuries yesterday morning by falling from a telephone pole at Green Ridge street and North Main avenue.

He was working on a cross beam near the top, when about 10 o'clock he suddenly swayed back and forth violently and then lost his balance and fell to the ground. An electric shock caused the fall, the lineman's hand striking a charged wire.

When picked up he was unconscious, and the blood was flowing from cuts in the face and neck. Neave's shoulder was dislocated by the fall, he having struck upon his head and shoulder.

He was removed into the West Ridge Coal company's store and from there to his home.

Medical aid was given him at the store and for about a minute he was conscious. He is 30 years of age and is well known in West Scranton.

When a Tribune man called at the home of Neave last night the unfortunate lineman was still unconscious. The doctor found no bones broken as far as he was able to see, but will be unable to tell the full extent of the injuries till Neave recovers from the stupor in which he is.
