be assigned the survivors of the company whose homes are hereabouts and who can reach Carbondale without great inconvenience, are requested to come to this city tomorrow evening to meet with the reunion committee of the Semi-Centennial association. The meeting has been set for 7.30 in the association rooms in the City Hall building. As this will be a sort of reunion in itself, and is sure to be marked by pleasant and interesting incidents, beside the discussion of plans for the old solders' observance of the city's jublice, the attendance of every survivor who can possibly come is

The Wurtz guards, as will be seen from the appended list, embraced men who are now prominent in civic and business life hereabouts, notably in Scranton, and their presence here on the occasion of the jubilee will lend great interest to the celebration.
