PRESENTED WITH A CHAIR

RICHARD H. WILLIAMS AGAIN HONORED.

This Time It Was by the Continental Mine Accidental Fund, Whose Treasurer He Had Been for Twelve Years—Numerous Police and Aldermanic Cases—Rev. Peter Roberts Has Written a Book on the Anthracite Industry—Driving Club Races—Funerals Yesterday—Other Notes.

The Continental Mine Accidental fund tendered a reception to their retiring treasurer, Richard H. Williams, at St. David's hall last evening, which was a pleasurable event in every sense of the word. Mr. Williams has been custodian of the fund's funds for over twelve years, and retired from the office recently. As a mark of appreciation the members presented him with a handsome upholstered rocking chair and a smoking set.

The presentation speech was made by William O. Jenkins, and was ably responded to by Mr. Williams. In his final report of the fund's standing, it showed a balance on hand December, 1900, of $1,487.73. He collected during the last term $1,271.75, making a total of $2,759.48. Of that sum $1,296.78 was paid out during the term, and there remained on hand July 31, 1901, a cash balance of $1,462.70.

The session was presided over by M. S. Lavelle, and the programme included selections by the William Connell Club, remarks by John D. Griffiths, William J. Davis and Richard Woodard. The present officers of the fund are: President, M. S. Lavelle; secretary, Thomas Parry; treasurer, William H. Evans.

In the Circle of the Law. The police, constables and aldermen were kept quite busy yesterday issuing warrants, serving them and making arrests, and the day's round-up included a number of disorderly characters.

The first victim was John Coleman, who was arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was taken to the police station and held for a few hours.

James McLoughlin, of 161 South Seventh street, resisted Patrolman David Davis, Tuesday night, and caused the officer much trouble. His whole family interfered. He was arrested again yesterday and fined $25, or ninety days in jail.

"The Anthracite Coal Industry." Rev. Peter Roberts, Ph. D., a former pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, has written a book entitled, "The Anthracite Coal Industry," which is now in the hands of the publishers, and will be issued for sale in a short time. The introduction to the work was written by Prof. W. C. Sumner, L.L. D., of Yale university, who says the book contains the greatest amount of information of the highest importance.

The work deals with the anthracite coal deposits, developing of coal beds, capitalization, transportation, mining, management and inspection, employees and wages, accidents, strikes, unionism, reclaiming the waste, and various other phases of the mining industry, which are covered in a thorough manner. The book will be issued this fall, and the subscription price is $2.50.

Blame the Umpire. County Detective Phillips, the captain of the base ball team which played against the St. David's team at Harvey's Lake on Tuesday, claims that his team won the game by a score of 14 to 11, but the umpire Thomas Maschall, awarded the game to the Davis team.

The Phillips team have a suspicion that the umpire "fixed" the game, and were thus flim-flammed out of the game. Captain Phillips says his team will stand ready to play the Davis team, if they have to wait until the next annual outing of the Loyal Knights of America to get justice. This year's outing was the most successful ever held by Enterprise lodge.

The first race will be a club race, for members only, and this will be followed by a trotting race for the 230 class. Then will come the free-for-all, which promises to be a "bummer." The closing event will be a running race, in which several good horses are expected to participate.

Nearly five hundred people were on the train and all reached their destination without any mishap. The arrangements for the trip were admirable, and in addition to a special baggage car on the train there was also a refreshment car attached.

The committee in charge of the arrangements cannot announce just now when the reunion will take place, but will give out the date later.

NORTH SCRANTON NEWS.

Much Excitement at a Constable's Sale Yesterday—Enjoyable Band Concert Last Night.

There was much excitement yesterday afternoon in the hotel run by B. Atlas, on West Market street, when Constable Clarke, of Alderman Kelly's court, attempted to sell the hardware fixtures at constable's sale. The sale had only proceeded a short time, when a cash register owned by Harry Campbell, and leased to Mr. Atlas, was put up for sale.

At this point, Attorney Dawson, who represented Messrs. Atlas and Campbell, objected to the sale of the cash register, but Attorney Murphy, who represented Clarke, told the constable to proceed with the sale. After a lively discussion, Alderman Kelly, the only bidder in the place, bid $15, and while the auctioneer was making the sale, Constable Clarke hustled out the side door to a nearby livery, where he hired a hack and drove off with the register.

Pleasantly Surprised. Last evening the Providence Silver Cornet band gave an open-air concert at the corner of Brick avenue and West Market street, and nearly a thousand people enjoyed the music. It was the first appearance of the band since its organization, several months ago.

The concert began at 8:30 o'clock, opening with a very attractive and up-to-date piece, entitled "Triumphal Post-March," by V. E. Corry, for which the band received a hearty applause. The band is composed of some of the best instrumental players in the valley, some of whom have played with leading orchestras of this city.
