Cable Snapped Near the Corner of Ninth Street and West Lackawan-Cars-Doubt Entertained for G. A. Williams' Recovery-T. J. Luce Injured - Social Events - Diamond

Shorty after 19 o'clock last night passengers on the east-bound trolley cars were thrown into a flutter of excitement by the snapping of the trolley cable on West Lackawanna avenue in the vicinity of Ninth street, and the break extended up as far as Robinson street, where all the in-bound cars were stalled up as far as Chestnut

Electric currents were scattered in every direction and pedestrians tled E. B. Evans, Hugh Evans and Rennie from possible shocks and injury. The Thirenian. force of the break taxed the remaining wires, and as a result the guide wires near the corner of Jackson and Chestnut streets were drawn in contact with other wires and the result was a lively blaze for a few minutes

One of the light wires snapped and curled up towards the post, making a wonderful electrical display, which from a distance gave the appearance of an illuminated column, Many people were attracted by the strange light and others expected a flerce fire to occur, but fortunately the damage was slight.

All traffic between the central city and West Scranton was suspended for nearly an hour.

Little Hope Entertained.

The friends and relatives of G. A. Williams, who is so seriously ill with Monagher, Taylor, Mulroy and Beck. typhoid fever at Middle Granville, have but slight hopes for his recovery. A terday stated that his relatives could expect his death at any time.

Mr. Williams has been in ill health for a long time and his weakened system cannot stand a siege of typhoid very long. It is understood that the attending physician has given up hopes of his recovery.

His wife, mother and father are at his bedside and everything has been done to prolong his life, but without apparent auccess. Less than three years ago Mr. Williams, was married,

August Diesing, er., of Prospect avenue, is confined to his home by a broken leg, which he received yesterday morning while he was out driving. Mr. Diesing and his 14-year-old son were enjoying a drive, and about down Brook street, the horse became frightened and dashed down the street. When it got near Pittston avenue, it made a sudden turn and one of the wneels of the wagon collided with a curb-stone. The shock threw the occupants into the street. Mr. Diesing's fall was unfortunate, as he received a broken leg. His son, with the exception of a few bruises, escaped injury. Mr. Diesing was removed to Dr. J. J. Chased the Wrong Man.

An exciting chase occurred on Cedar avenue last evening about 6 o'clock when a young man came along Colar avenue on a wheel, riding as fast as he could work the pedals, and about forty feet behind him ran another man shouting, "Hold the fellow. He stole the wheel."

In a few minutes there were hunfreds of people running after the cyclist, but the fugitive did not stop until he reached his home on Prospect avenue, where he was followed by Constable Woelkers. The young man, whose name is Harry Whalen, called his uncle, Mr. Dieter, who proved his innocence by declaring the wheel belonged to his son. The man who had done the chasing afterwards stated that a bicycle was stolen on Lackawanna avenue, and when he saw Whelan's, he thought it was his wheel.
