AMUSEMENTS.

Opening at the Lyceum.

James A. Herne's favorite novelists were Charles Dickens and Honore Balzac, and he seems to have imbibed many of the leading traits of these famous writers. Mr. Herne has always been a close student of character and he could impersonate the southern darkey with as much ease as the New England fisherman or the French peasant, and this ability has helped him greatly when he decided to win success as a playwright.

Those who are familiar with "Shore Acres," "Hearts of Oak" or "Margaret Fleming" will admit that these plays owed their success to the original character creations far more than to their stories or plots, which are almost free from complications. "Shore Acres," which is to have a fine scenic production at the Lyceum next Monday afternoon and night (Labor day), is unquestionably the best, as it is the most successful, of Mr. Herne's many plays and is accepted the most artistic pastoral comedy drama known to the stage. Special Labor day matinee, 25 and 50 cents. Evening prices, 25, 50, 75 and $1.

"Kidnapped in New York."

Barney Gilmore, who will be seen in "Kidnapped in New York" at the Academy of Music for three nights and usual matinees, commencing Monday, Sept. 2, has been starring successfully in this piece for three seasons, and Manager Duffy promises that in presenting it he will offer the comedy-drama success of the season, and the theater-goers of Scranton should not miss the opportunity of seeing it.

Mr. Gilmore has surrounded himself with the strongest company of players possible. The story is founded on the sensational kidnapping of Baby Marion Clark, which was one of the most startling cases in the criminal history of New York. In the character of Dudley, the detective, Mr. Gilmore has surely reached the pinnacle of success.

Opening of the Star.

Manager Herrington, of the Star theater, announces as his attraction for the opening of this popular resort next Monday afternoon "Clark's New Royals," an organization of burlesque and vaudeville talent of the highest class. Exchanges from Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburg, where the show has played this season, speak highly of the entertainment, and the Star will undoubtedly have an exceptionally strong attraction for the opening.

Both American and European talent will be found on the roster, the foreign talent embracing Miss Lillie English, a most beautiful London music hall singer, who has achieved much success in this country since her arrival here a few weeks ago. Miss English will offer a choice repertoire of English songs that are entirely new to this country.

Others in the olio include Coulter and Starr, the well known black face singers and dancers; Fiddo and Woolley, German comedians of the Weber and Fields type; Leslie and Richards, novelty soubrettes; the Trolley Car Trio, eccentric acrobats entirely new to patrons of vaudeville in this portion of the country; Carroll and Elliston, comedy sketch artists.

The burlesia, "Off to Buffalo," will be found a merry conceit replete with novel songs and dances. A bevy of twenty charming young ladies will add additional attractiveness, displaying some new and catchy costumes of the most elaborate kind.

Monday being Labor day, the regular evening prices will prevail for the matinee. Special matinee for ladies on Tuesday afternoon. Ladies admitted free.

HITCHCOCK'S LETTER.

Explains Why He Did Not Continue as a Candidate for the Republican Nomination.

Appended in the letter sent by Colonel F. L. Hitchcock explaining why he withdrew from the candidacy for the Republican nomination for additional law judge:

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 27, 1901.

Mr. D. J. Davis, Chairman Republican County Committee, City Hall, City.

Dear Sir: Very much to my regret I am forced to withdraw my candidacy before the Republican primaries for the office of additional law judge of Lackawanna county. I registered as a candidate in the utmost good faith and have pursued my canvass until yesterday, when I received notice from the county committee of my assessment of $1,000, for the expense of holding the primary election, which must be paid today. This amount is entirely beyond my means and I cannot ask by friends to assist me in raising it, because I am unwilling to be under pecuniary obligations if elected. The sum of $1,000 for the privilege of submitting one's name to the people as a candidate for nomination to office is too costly for a man of my limited means. There must be something radically wrong with the administration of a system which places a practically prohibitory expense upon a candidate for public office, especially the office of judge.

Under these circumstances I shall be compelled to submit my candidacy directly to the people.

Very respectfully yours,

F. L. Hitchcock.

FOR A FEDERATION.

Conference of Lackawanna Road Employes Called for This City Next Week by Chairman Grace.

Federation of the employes' organizations on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad is to be effected next week.

For years this proposition has been discussed and while quite generally favored, it never came to be consummated because of an inability to agree on minor details.

This obstacle no longer hinders and all that remains to be done is to go through the formalities incident to the undertaking. This will be done at a meeting in this city some day next week. The exact date will be set by P. H. Grace, chairman of the general federation committee, after consultation with the chairmen of the federation committees of the respective organizations.

The federation will include the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

The switchmen have not as yet decided to come into the federation. They favor a national federation instead of a federation comprising only the organizations on a particular system.

The New York Ontario & Western Railway company have completed arrangements with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, for interchange of traffic at Fishkill. This will open up to manufacturers along the Ontario & Western all New York, New Haven & Hartford territory, and will no doubt result in increasing the output of a majority of them. It has until now been impossible for the New York, Ontario & Western to make this arrangement. The tariff will become effective Sept. 1st. **

ZIZELMANN OUT; H. F. FERBER IN

CHANGES IN THE BUREAU OF FIRE MADE YESTERDAY.

Chief Zizelmann Resigned Under Pressure to Make Room for "Hank" Ferber, the Veteran Fireman, Who Enters Upon His Duties on Sunday. Permanent Men Andrew Phelan, Charles Knowles and John R. Kime Removed and Five New Permanent Men Appointed.

Chief F. W. Zizelman, of the fire department, was yesterday removed and former Chief H. F. Ferber appointed in his place. There was a general shake-up among the permanent men, three being removed and five new men being appointed.

It is perhaps incorrect to say that Chief Zizelman was removed. It is probably more accurate to say that he resigned under pressure. The pressure came from Director of Public Safety F. L. Wormser, who told the chief on Tuesday night that he had better resign.

The chief thought the matter over during the night and decided, yesterday morning, to resign. He notified Director Wormser of his decision in the following letter:

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 28, 1901.

F. L. Wormser, Director of Public Safety.

Dear Sir: By request, and without reason, I hereby tender my resignation as superintendent of the bureau of fires, same to take effect on Sept. 1, 1901. F. W. Zizelmann.

As soon as this resignation reached Director Wormser he called in Chief Zizelman and offered him the captaincy of the Nay Aug Engine company. The offer was refused.

OTHER REMOVALS.

The director then sent out letters to the following permanent men, notifying them that their services will not be required by the city after Aug. 31: Andrew Phelan, of the Columbias; Charles Knowles and John R. Kime, of the Franklins. All these men were appointed by former Director of Public Safety F. L. Hitchcock when the fire department was first reorganized in April last.

The general order appointing H. F. Ferber as chief of the department and naming the five new permanent men was issued late in the afternoon. All appointments are to take effect next Sunday, Sept. 1.

The new men who are appointed are as follows: William T. Sproats, appointed at the Franklin company; Joseph Foster, appointed as driver for the Phoenix company; George R. Suydam, appointed as permanent man at the Nay Aug company; F. J. Franz, appointed as permanent man at the Hook and Ladder company; William Seagraves, appointed as permanent man at the Columbia company.

Frank Hutchinson is promoted to the rank of captain of the Franklin Engine company, vice John R. Kime removed, and A. E. Spencer is transferred from the Phoenix company to the Franklins, in place of Charles Knowles, removed. Franz and Suydam take the places of Ollie Beemer and John Martin, who recently resigned voluntarily.

ARE SEASONED MEN.

All of the new men with the exception of Foster have served as either hunk or call men since the reorganization of the fire department. Foster is an old volunteer fireman, having served as a member of the Nay Aug company for a number of years.

Chief Zizelman was appointed by Mayor Moir as chief of the fire department in the summer of 1900 to succeed Chief John H. Walker, who resigned. Before that he was common councilman from the Eighth ward.

H. F. Ferber, the new chief, has already served as chief of the fire department several times. He was elected to the position by the firemen away back in 1884, nearly twenty years ago. He was afterwards defeated by the late Harry Madison.

He was elected chief again a little later on, but was again defeated when he came up for election a third time. Former Mayor John H. Fellows appointed him as chief of the fire department near the end of his term as mayor and he served throughout Mayor Connell's term. Former Mayor Bailey removed him to make room for P. J. Hickey.

"Hank" Ferber, as he is popularly known, is recognized from one end of the city to the other as one of the best firemen in Scranton. He has first class executive ability and the reputation of never losing his head at a critical moment. He does not shirk responsibility but rather courts it and can be depended upon to once more serve the city acceptably and well as chief of the fire department.

W. G. PARKE JR. INJURED.

In Attempting to Stop a Runaway Horse on the Pittston Boulevard He Sustains Serious Hurts.

W. G. Parke, jr., of this city, son of W. G. Parke, the well known coal operator, met with a mishap on the Pittston boulevard yesterday morning, and was quite fortunate in that the accident had no fatal results, although the first reports that reached this city were to the effect that he had met with fatal injuries.

Mr. Parke was on an equestrian jaunt and had just reached the Yatesville end of the boulevard when a horse owned by an Italian became frightened and ran away. As the fleeing animal approached, Mr. Parke endeavored to head it off by crossing and recrossing the road in front of the runaway. He had done this several times when his own horse stumbled, throwing him to the ground.

Mr. Parke landed head foremost on a pile of stones and was rendered unconscious. Liveryman James Fitzpatrick, of Pittston, was driving by and took the injured man to the Pittston hospital, where he remained in a comatose state all afternoon. Reports from the hospital were to the effect that while his condition is not considered extremely serious, he is nevertheless quite badly injured, and it will be several days before he will be able to be taken to his home. The doctors found no bones broken and no fracture of the skull, the injuries being considered bad contusion of the head and shoulders. The young man's father was notified and was at the hospital all afternoon.

IT WILL BE A GREAT EVENT

PROGRAMME OF CARBONDALE'S GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Outline of the Exercises That Will Commemorate the Semi-Centennial of the Pioneer City—Three Immense Parades—Reunions of Military Organizations—Addresses by Former Residents.

Carbondale, the pioneer city of the anthracite coal regions is almost on the eve of the celebration that will fittingly commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of its incorporation. This golden jubilee will be an extraordinary event and extraordinary preparations have accordingly been made to observe the occasion.

The city is now a splendid picture of color. The town is dressed in its jubilee garb and Carbondale's hospitality, which is proverbial, will be more warm-hearted, if possible, during the first half of next week, the period of jubilation.

This big celebration appeals to hundreds of residents in Scranton, for there are scores of families here who have descended from the sturdy ancestors who were responsible for the birth of the great anthracite mining industry which took place in Carbondale.
