AGED WOMAN KNOCKED DOWN

VICTIM OF RECKLESS DRIVER ON SOUTH MAIN AVENUE.

While Waiting for a Car, Mrs. Jones, of Taylor, Was Run Over and Dragged a Considerable Distance. Another Race Meet on Sept. 19. Young People Married in Wilkes-Barre-Funerals Yesterday-Other News Notes and Personal Paragraphs.

An aged woman named Mrs. Jones, a resident of Taylor, while standing on South Main avenue, at the intersection of Locust stree, yesterday afternoon, was run down by a carriage and dragged a distance of several hundred feet before she was rescued from her perdous position.

Two young men in the carriage, who were intoxicated, saw the woman down and drove away without paying any attention to her. Her screams attracted several people in the neighborhood and when picked up she was in a semiconscious condition.

The unfortunate woman sustained severe body bruises and her clothing was badly torn. A carriage was later cured and she was removed to her home, where she is now in a serious condition. A description was telephoned to Captain Williams in the central city of the young men in the carriage and he succeeded in arresting one of them. The other fellow is known and he will also be held to await the result of Mrs. Jones' injur-
