GAME WAS ONE SIDED.

Scranton Team Defeated Picked Nine by a Score of 12 to 3 at Athletic Park.

Saturday's base ball game at Athetic park was a disappointment, both to the patrons and players, as only four of the All-Collegiate team put in an appearance, and Manager Southteam was also handicapped by he absence of four of his regular playrs. The game, however, was fairly ell played up to the seventh inning, then the score stood 4-3 in South cranton's favor. In the seventh and eighth innings larding was batted for a total of two feubles and seven singles, which netted Southard's men eight runs and the game. Crossin pitched a steady game, allowing but six hits, two of which were of the scratch order. He has excellent command of the ball, plenty of speed and fields his position well. With little more experience he will be able to hold his own in fast company.

The features of the game were Crossin's pitching, Perris' batting and the fielding of Blandin and Cleary. The former's error was on a foul fly and he latter's two on thrown balls. Bradey and Frantz also played good ball and their errors were excusable. The detailed score of the game is as fol-

PRAYERS FOR PRESIDENT

OFFERED IN EVERY CHURCH IN CITY YESTERDAY.

Nation's Chief Executive at Buffalo Friday Served as Text for a Discourse-The Crime Was Denounced as an Outrage Past Conception and the Clergymen Sternly Declared That Anarchy Is Something That Should Be Crushed Out.

In every church in the city yester my prayers for the recovery of Presient McKinley were offered, and in many instances reference to Friday's ragedy at Buffalo were made. Rev. Dr. I. J. Lansing, of the Green

Ridge Presbyterian church, offered prayer for President and Mrs. McKinley at both the morning and evening services, and moreover during the for mer, spoke forcefully and to the point regarding the tragic shooting and the freumstances which are responsible for it. He said in part: We stand in the shadow of a great rime which throws its dark lines over this and all the nations of the world. The president of the United States, a man singularly gracious and kindly apparently having III will towards one and desirous to befriend all, has been stricken by the hand of a wouldbe assassin in the midst of a great ssemblage. "This is the third time within the ast thirty-five years that an American resident has been made the victim of a murderous attack. The first ocleft the passions of men in a state of intense excitement. The second was in the midst of a fierce political contro that this third, unlike the others. curs in a time of profund peace, and, is we hoped, of universal good will Mr. Lincoln died at the hand of a man who hated his country and the president, its representative. Garfield was murdered by an insane egotist. who represented no one but himself. President McKinley was shot down by man possessed of no feelings of rsonal hostility and who professes casure and satisfaction in his deed because he stands for a certain prinlple, or tack of principle, commonly denominated as anarchy.

"A simple definition of anarchy would suggest something atterly antagonistic to law and control. It afarms the right of the individual to do as he pleases, irresponsive of law and God. It is such men as these who have within a few years shot the president f France and the good king of Italy They are persons who affirm their hos tility to all rulers and their purpose to put them all out of the world.

"It has frequently been said by well meening people that the would-be assawsin of President McKinley should have been forn limb from limb rather than incarcerated in prison to meet trial for his crime. This seems shortsighted and unwise. The thirst for blood, which lynching suggests and generates is almost as great an exil as anarchy itself. The nation cannot afford to be lawless. It is better that law, in order that his accomplices, it any, may be discovered and punished whole atrocious principle for which he stands shall be held up to th condemnation of the whole world.

DUTY OF THE CHURCH.

"The event so sorrowful and fearful renders more emphatic the duty of the Christian church to inculcate reverence for God, obedience to law and love of one's fellow men. Anarchists, so far as I know, are generally atheists, and a logical consequence of atheism is anarchy. To us, then, belongs the duty of not merely expressing our profound sorrow, nor of offering up of our fervent prayers for the recovery of the stricken head of the nation, but of inculcating that solemn sense of responsibility to God, and to law, which shall render anarchical principles impossible and protect the world from their dire onsequences.

Rev. Albert Hatcher Smith, pasto of the North Main avenue Baptist church, in the course of his sermon yesterday morning said: "The nation is in tears tonight in consequence of one of the most atrocious crimes that ever blackened the page of history. Our nation has loved not wisely, but too well. The scum and off-scourings of Europe have been welcomed to our shores and as a result anarchy is rampant. There are only two proper places for anarchistseither the insane asylum or the penitentiary. Colonel Boies was right in an interview in Saturday's Telbune when he said that an anarchist had no more right to be at large than has a tiger. They are murderers at heart

The accounts of how the terrible accident which resulted in her death occurred differ. Some of the passengers on the train which was inbound and crossed the bridge about 11.30 o'clock, say that the approaching train, sprang forward to drag her out of harm's way. In doing so she put herself directly in the engine's path and with the little girl was thrown to the tracks below. Others say that Mrs. Chaplin and the girl were sitting on the ties, eating lunch, and that the train in passing brushed them both off. The train stopped immediately after pass-ing over the bridge and the two young people, for Mrs. Chaplin was but 18 years old, were removed from the track. Mrs. Chaplin breathed but a few times having sustained the brunt of the blow about the head. Her skull was completely fractured. On the way to the city the little girl was examined by Dr. A. J. Connell, who was a passenger on the train. CHLORAL HYDRATE CAUSED DEATH.

Large Dose of It Taken by Samuel Lee, of Mayfield.

Samuel Lee, a resident of Mayfield, ited at his home at 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning, under circumstances which point to suicide. Chloral hydrate was used. Coroner Roberts will the girl was half way across the perform an autopsy this morning to bridge, and that Mrs. Chaplin, seeing determine the exact cause of death, Lee had been drinking for some time and Saturday night went to Dr. Hardng, who prescribed chloral hydrate to produce sleep. The doctor gave him thirty grains of the drug, and it is believed he swallowed all of them.

At 11 o'clock Saturday night, Dr. Harding was called and found Lee in an unconscious state. Dr. Graves was also called and both worked energetically over the man, but their efforts were unavailing and death resulted. Deceased was the son of Philo Lee, well known resident of Jermyn, and vas about 50 years of age.
