SCRANTON, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 12, 1901.

TWO CENTS.

DANGER SOURCES ARE PRACTICALLY OVER

The Condition of the President Continues Favorable---Nothing Shakes Faith of Physicians.

HIS WOUNDS HEALING RAPIDLY

The Holes in the Stomach Proper Caused by the Perforation of the Bullet Are Now Considered Healed by Dr. McBurney. Mr. McKinley in Excellent Spirits, but He Confesses That He Is Getting Lonesome. Desires to Hear the News of the Day--A Cabinet Meeting at the Glenney House.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 10 p. m.:

The president's condition continues favorable. Blood count corroborates clinical evidence of absence of any blood poisoning. He is able to take more nourishment and relish it. Pulse, 120; temperature, 100.4.

P. M. RIXEY, ROSELL PARKE, EUGENE WARD, GEORGE B. CORTEYOU, Secretary to the President.

M. D. MANN, HERMAN MYNTER, CHARLES M'URNEY, Secretary to the President.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—The condition of the president continues favorable throughout the day and nothing occurred to shake the faith of the attending surgeons and physicians who expressed that he will recover. The danger from two sources was pronounced practically over today. The holes in the stomach proper, caused by the perforation of the bullet, are now considered healed by Dr. McBurney and his associates and the eminent surgeon pointed to the fact that the best juice fed to the patient last night, was readily digested, as proof of this. Sufficient time has elapsed to warrant the doctors in asserting that the danger of inflammation where the bullet lodged has disappeared. It is believed that the hole has now become encysted in the muscles of the back and unless its location should prove troublesome later on there will never be any necessity for removing it. Dr. Mann in speaking in regard to this today said he knew a man who lived for years with a bullet in the muscles of his back.

The attention of the physicians is now, therefore, mainly directed to the care and treatment of the wound caused by the incision made in the abdomen above the navel when the operation was performed. This wound is progressing satisfactorily. "Decided benefit followed the dressing of the wound last night," is the way the doctors put it officially. The slight sore which followed the incision at midnight last night of the opening of the wound did not have a leg to stand today when further details of its insignificant character and importance were obtained. The "incident" as it is termed, would not have been mentioned in the history of an ordinary hospital case and the physicians last night debated for some time upon the propriety of making it public. As they have promised to take the public into their confidence they finally concluded that the recognition of that pledge compelled them to announce it.

Bulletins Have Been Reliable. Their fairness has already had one excellent effect. It has convinced all who may still have harbored doubts as to whether the public were getting the whole truth from the sick room that their skepticism was unfounded. Another indication passed on the road to recovery was the discontinuance today by the doctors of the Rixey showing respiration variations in their official bulletins.

The president now breathes deeply and normally, and the addition of the respiration record to the bulletin was considered valuable. The president's pulse was slightly accelerated in the afternoon, but his change was not deemed material and his temperature remained practically stationary at 100.2 from daylight until dark. The evidences of improvement were the president's keen relish of the beef juice given him during the night and the increase of his allowance from one to three teaspoonsful, and also the fact that the wound is becoming "more healthy." Dr. McBurney expected this afternoon that the slight irritation of the wound still remaining should pass away within the next twenty-four hours.

The president continues in excellent spirits, but he confessed to one of the attendants today that he was getting lonesome. He requested that he be placed in another bed. A depression had formed in the mattress on which he has lain since he was taken to the Milburn house and had caused some discomfort. Another bed was provided and this evening he was carefully moved from one to the other without difficulty. He has asked several times

YELLOW JOURNALISM SCORED.

Hazleton School Children to Be Made Aware of Its Evil Effects.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 11.—Yellow journalism was strongly condemned at last night's meeting of the city school board. A resolution was adopted fixing Friday afternoon next as the time for celebrating, with appropriate exercises in all the local public schools, the recovery of President McKinley, notwithstanding a murderous assault by one following the teachings of those degenerates calling themselves anarchists. The resolution concludes with the following: "As part of the exercises the teachers shall instruct their pupils upon the evils of sensational journalism as seen in certain dailies from New York and Philadelphia, calling their attention to the fact that the minds of anarchists are inflamed and their business sustained by those sheets; that their owners know not patriotism nor truth; that their so-called staffs consist of men who have sold their honor for pieces of silver; that those who purchase the papers are equally guilty with those who publish them, for without them they could not live; and finally that in those sheets there is danger to the individual, to the family and to the republic."

EVIDENCE SECURED AGAINST THE REDS

Buffalo Police Believe That Czolgosz Was a Selected Assassin.

Buffalo, Sept. 12.—The Courier says this morning: "Superintendent Bull now has in his possession the code of instructions imparted to the selected assassin, Czolgosz. THE ISAACS HELD UNTIL FRIDAY

They Will Not Be Allowed to Enter Bail Until After the Hearing on That Day.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Abraham Isaak and the eight men arrested with him as anarchists will be held until next Friday without bail. At 10 o'clock that day Judge Chetlain, sitting on the charge of the chief executive of the city, heard the case. The chief executive presented him today by their attorneys, Leopold Sallied and C. P. Brown. Attorney Sallied brought the writ into court this morning, but he had neglected to give the city and county authorities notice. Before he would look into the matter at all Judge Chetlain sent him away on this errand and it was nearly 1 o'clock before the court would take up the matter again. Then City Prosecutor Taylor appeared, to answer to the court in behalf of the authorities. He said he would make no objection to the filing of the writ if he could get the hearing postponed until Friday. Judge Chetlain after reading the petition remarked that the offense charged against Isaak and his companions was before the law, but that no such request was made in the petition. Attorney Sallied acted upon the hint and asked that his clients be admitted to bail and for fifteen minutes the attorneys discussed the point and they finally reached an agreement that the defendant shall be held without bail until the hearing of the writ on Friday.

SHAFER SAYS BATTLE IS ON

He Continues to Deny That There Is Any Possibility of Settlement of the Strike.

STEEL PLANTS START UP

It Is Officially Announced That a Sufficient Number of Men Stand Ready to Operate the Monongahela Plant as Soon as the Mills Are in Readiness to Start--Workmen Apply for Positions Under Assumed Names.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 11.—While stories of a peaceful settlement of the strike of the Amalgamated association were heard today with many more and persistence, President Shaffer continued to deny them emphatically and said that the battle of the steel workers would go on until they won. He declared that the executive board had instructed him to settle the strike on any terms, and said that he would not go to New York or make any further peace move for the present. While the president of the association was standing in this position, the officials of the United States Steel corporation were putting forth active efforts to start their plants. This was particularly the case on the South Side. During the day the company held the strikers' pickets back by a show of force, and got a lot of provisions, cooking utensils and cots for the men to sleep on into the Monongahela plant of the American Tinplate company. It was officially announced at the same time there was an ample number of men ready to enter the plant and start the mills, as soon as they were in readiness.

While the strikers were busy watching the movements of the South Side, the officials of the company showed greater activity about the Star mills. About 11 o'clock in the morning a car loaded with skilled men for the Star plant arrived in the Union station. These men were taken to the plant without any interference from the strikers, as none were about at the time. The pickets that had been guarding the works had gone over to the South Side to take part in the movements of the strikers there. In the carload were about sixty men. They were all men who had worked in the tin mills, and among them were rollers, roughers and catchers. They came from the east, and it is said many of them had looked away from the ranks of the strikers in other mills and had sought work in new localities under assumed names. With this increased force the Star plant is practically filled with skilled men, and will be able to operate all of the mills, except on full turges. The efforts of today, it is believed, have practically ended all possibilities of the Amalgamated association ever getting back the Star mills in their control, as the men who have gone to work there have declared their intention of remaining as individuals for all time.

PLOT TO MURDER MR. CHAMBERLAIN

A Remarkable Story Told in London Courts by Martial Faugeron.

London, Sept. 11.—Martial Faugeron, a Frenchman, who was charged today at Clerkenwell police court with the murder of Herman Jung, an old Jeweler of Clerkenwell, about ten days ago, told a remarkable story of a plot to kill Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary. Faugeron said he had been the recipient of small loans from Jung. The day of the murder Jung summoned him to his shop, where they discussed the misery caused by the South African war, for which Jung declared Mr. Chamberlain was responsible, and Jung told Faugeron that if he could kill Mr. Chamberlain, he would guarantee him a fortune, tendering him ten pounds to buy good clothes in order to enable him to approach his victim. Faugeron says he refused, whereupon Jung declared he should not leave the shop alive, and picking up a heavy iron, rushed on Faugeron and felled him to the ground. Faugeron, in self defense, drew a knife and stabbed his assailant in the neck. The prisoner, who signed the foregoing statement, was committed for trial. Jung was a noted socialist, the last survivor of the group of which Carl Marx was a member. They formed the red international in London in 1864 and looked away from the ranks of the strikers in other mills and had sought work in new localities under assumed names. With this increased force the Star plant is practically filled with skilled men, and will be able to operate all of the mills, except on full turges. The efforts of today, it is believed, have practically ended all possibilities of the Amalgamated association ever getting back the Star mills in their control, as the men who have gone to work there have declared their intention of remaining as individuals for all time.

THE WOMAN STATES THAT SHE WILL BE HER OWN ATTORNEY--SHE ASKS TO BE RELEASED ON BAIL BUT COURT REFUSES--CHARGED WITH HAVING ENTERED INTO "CONSPIRACY TO MURDER PRESIDENT MCKINLEY."

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Magistrate Prindiville today decided that Emma Goldman, the anarchist lecturer, under arrest here, should be held without bail pending the decision of similar cases in the superior court. The action of Justice Prindiville in holding her without bail extends only to Friday of this week. At that time the question will be considered, and the magistrate will decide whether she shall be held without bail or released under bonds until the preliminary hearing of the charge against her, which is set for Sept. 19. Miss Goldman appeared for a hearing before the magistrate during the forenoon. She had not secured counsel, but in a determined voice declared that she was ready to act as her own attorney. The assistant city prosecutor obtained a continuance of a hearing till Sept. 19, the date set for the hearing of other anarchists in custody here. Mr. Owens, the prosecutor, stated that the result of an investigation at Buffalo was being awaited. The court postponed its decision in the matter of her bail until Friday. When he said he would hear arguments in the application for writs of habeas corpus. As the charge against Miss Goldman, "conspiracy to murder President McKinley" is the one lodged against the local anarchists who are named as co-conspirators with Miss Goldman, Magistrate Prindiville thought it wise to await the decision of the higher court.

It said it would not be necessary for counsel to apply for a writ for Miss Goldman as he would hear directly with Miss Goldman as Judge Prindiville did with the other prisoners. Miss Goldman was represented by lawyers Brown, Getting and Saltier. They were busy in the habeas corpus case during the forenoon, but intervened there this afternoon to appear for her in the hearing in its matter of bail.
