'PRESERVED' MILK CASES SETTLED

The State Department of Agriculture Drops Prosecution by Accused Dealers, F. C. Mann, Mulholland Brothers and Henry Wademan Pleading Guilty and Paying Fine of $50 and Costs Over to Alderman Morrison—Local Board of Health Not Concerned in the Settlement.

The cases against F. C. Mann, of the Palace creamery; Mulholland Bros. and Henry Wademan, the milk dealers, whose arrest in the middle of August on charges of using formaldehyde to 'preserve' the milk...

The settlement was brought about by a proposition to that effect from the board and the acquiescence of the state department of agriculture...

What moved the accused to seek a settlement without carrying the case to court, was the fact that while they believed themselves free of any guilt...

The penalty is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100, or sixty days imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the court.

'POLICEMAN JACK' RETURNS.

After a Stay of Three or Four Weeks at Mayfield Yard He Resumes His Station with the Night Patrolmen

'Polliceman Jack,' the dog owned by Archie Gurney, the man with the temperament of sunshine and the stock of Gurney's liver pills, is back among us once more, and in his funny squatty body and his abbreviated tail will again be familiar sights on the streets of the town.

'Jack' came near to forfeiting his title, 'Polliceman Jack,' since leaving her and winning that of another, his rival, the 'Railroad Jack.' During his absence he was at Mayfield yard, living among the railroad men and feasting on the sweet-scented crumbs that were left after their luncheons.

'Jack' came near to forfeiting his title, 'Polliceman Jack,' since leaving her and winning that of another, his rival, the 'Railroad Jack.'

THE VALLEY COMPANY GETS 3-YEAR CONTRACT

Common Council Awards City Lighting Job for This Number of Years Independent of the Mayor's Veto of the Same—Long-Drawn-Out Session of Commons Before the Longer Drawn Out Affairs Ends—Councils in Session Until 10.30.

The city lighting contract, which seemed destined to remain in councils until the approach of Carbondale's centennial, was finally awarded last night to the Lackawanna Valley Electric Light, Power and Supply company for a period of three years, independent of the Mayor Kilpatrick's veto of the same on the ground that he was opposed to the principle of involving the city in any litigation which might prejudice its interests...

The veto was passed over by the mayor's head by just the requisite number of votes, eight, as follows: Kennedy, John Masters, Stone, Loftus, W. H. Masters, Pugliese, Thompson, Murphy. Those opposed were: Collins, Nealon, Whitfield and Evans.

As indicated in the Tribune of yesterday, it was the vote of Mr. Pugliese that was the decisive one. At the last meeting he was absent, and it was due to this circumstance that action on the veto was adjourned the story, that has been heard about the town was recalled, namely, that an option had been secured on the Anthracite building, the purpose being to erect a terminal station. This is one of the stories that are scattered about as they approach of the road to the town, was discussed, and as the surveyors approached the location of the Anthracite building in their measurements, it was taken by many as giving color to the story of a terminal at that point.

Finally, seven members drifted into the room and, recognizing this, Chairman Collins called the meeting to order.

When the veto was called up, Chairman W. H. Masters, of the light committee, was not present with the expected report. After some sharp comment on the dilatory tactics of the chairman of the committee, Mr. Nealon got the matter before the house for a vote on the veto. The vote would have gone through and it would have been sustained, to the defeat of the electric light company, but for the timely arrival of Mr. Masters and one or two other of the company's adherents.

FUNERAL OF MISS MARY VAUGHLEY.

The funeral yesterday forenoon of the late Miss Mary Vaughley, whose early rearing has saddened her young friends and acquaintances, were really impressive. There was a high requiem sung in St. Rose church by Rev. George Dixon, who also pronounced the eulogy, that was well deserved. Burial was in St. Rose cemetery.

The pallbearers were: William McGee, Michael J. Nicholas, John Hoffman, Michael Buckley, Frank Bridgeman, Matthew Connor, Joseph Glendon and John Brown.

A Wedding Announcement.

A marriage announcement that will be pleasantly received in society circles in Carbondale, is that of the coming wedding of Bryan, Chedister Gieren, superintendent of the Carbondale Gas company who will be wedded to Miss Florence Adolphine Ensor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Ensor, of Baltimore, Md. The ceremony will take place on Thursday, October 10, at 6.30 p. m., in the Brown Memorial Presbyterian church, and will be solemnized by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Stone. Mr. Gieren will have as his best man, Montgomery H. Butler, of Scranton, with whom he was a classmate, both at the preparatory college at Princeton and the university as well.

Mr. Gieren and his bride will reside in Carbondale, where Mr. Gieren has made many warm friendships since his residence in this city.

Street Improvements on West Side.

City Engineer Kupp and Street Commissioner Killeen, with a force of men, have made commendable improvements on several streets on the West Side. The most important are those along the roadway leading from Scott street, at the top of the hill, and reaching to Emergency hospital. This is a roadway that is used daily by physicians in driving to the hospital, and by ambulances in carrying patients to that institution. The driveway has been too narrow for comfort and safety, but the splendid work done has reduced several high banks and filled in ruts and depressions, so that now it is an acceptable means of access to the hospital.

LIBELLANT ALLEGES THAT HIS WIFE WAS CRUEL TO HIM AND FORCED HIM TO LEAVE HIS HOME—MR. BENKE AND HER CHILDREN TELL QUITE A DIFFERENT STORY—TRESPASS CASE OF JOHN CORRIGAN AGAINST THE SCRANTON TRACTION COMPANY IS ON TRIAL.

The second week of common pleas opened yesterday morning. Judge J. W. Carpenter is on the bench in No. 1 and Judge H. M. Edwards in No. 2. After the list had been disposed of the trespass case of John Corrigan against the Scranton Traction Company was put on trial. On Dec. 5, 1900, at North Main avenue and Dean street his wagon was struck by one of the cars of the company.

Benke against his wife, Henrietta Benke, was tried before Judge H. M. Edwards. Mrs. Benke and her five children reside on Meadow avenue, South Scranton, and have resided there for years. From the undisputed testimony in the case, the couple have quarreled for years, and the children and Mrs. Benke got at the father and husband and gave him an awful beating. Since then, he has not lived at home.

Benke's story was to the effect that his wife quarreled with him and nagged at him for years. That she frequently refused to get his meals, fill his dinner pail or mend his clothes, and that she was also untrue to him, being the mother of three children by another man living in South Scranton.

This charge was most vigorously denied by Mrs. Benke. She said she had been a good wife to him, had mended his clothes, cooked his meals and cared for him as his wife ought, and that he repaid her by coarse language, curses and frequent blows. She said she would drive herself and their children out of doors in the dead of night, and compel them to seek shelter in the houses of the neighbors.

The jury in the case of Julius Benke against his wife, Henrietta Benke, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is able to be out again.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CURED

General Health Greatly Improved by Pe-ru-na.

My general health improved and I have been in good health ever since. I would not be without it for ten times its cost.

Mrs. Frances Mattoon, treasurer of the Minneapolis Independent Order of Good Templars, writes from 12 Sixth street, Minneapolis, Minn., as follows: 'Last winter I had considerable trouble with my kidneys, brought on after a hard cold which I had neglected. One of my lodge friends who called when I was ill told me of a wonderful medicine called Peruna. I had no faith in it, but my husband purchased me a bottle, and asked me to try it. It brought me most satisfactory results. I used three bottles before I was completely cured, but I have good cause to be grateful, for not only did my kidney trouble disappear, but my general health improved and I have been in good health ever since.'
