IMPORTANT FEAST DAY OBSERVED

Imposing Ceremonies by Congregation of the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, in Celebration of Day Dedicated to St. Michael, the Archangel—Procession and Devotions.

Yesterday will be conspicuous in the annals of the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, which is the congregation of the Catholic Italians of this city and vicinity.

It was the feast of St. Michael, the Archangel, and the solemn observance of the day made it a religious fete that placed it on a level with similar celebrations in Italy, where so many like processions are held throughout the year.

The observance of the feast commenced on Saturday, with a procession by the Roma band, of Dunmore, which discoursed patriotic, as well as sacred, selections. In the evening there was vespers and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Antonio Cerruti. It was intended to hold a lawn social for the benefit of the church building fund, but the rain held away and accordingly the enterprise had to be abandoned.

Yesterday the programme of devotions and processions was fully carried out. In the morning, commencing at 10 o'clock, the pastor celebrated high mass, at which the church choir rendered music that had been diligently rehearsed for several weeks for the feast day. The imposing procession took place in the afternoon, about 4 o'clock. The Roma band led. After the musicians came the members of the church, walking with burning candles and tapers, and Father Cerruti, robed in cassock, surplice and stole. The beautiful statue of St. Michael, the Archangel, which occupies a niche in the church, was borne throughout the procession. The line of march was from the church, along Dundaff, Fallbrook and Hospital streets. Returning to the church, the congregation joined in the vespers and benediction. Father Cerruti delivered a sermon on the feast day, before the devotions concluded.

Last night the members of the congregation and the large number of Italians, who came from up and down the valley, witnessed a splendid display of fireworks, and were regaled with American and Italian national airs by the Roma band.

The houses in the Italian settlement were decorated in a fashion somewhat new to residents hereabouts. Following the custom in Italy, decorations comprising linen sheets, bedecked with finely figured laces, were suspended from windows and were draped about the porches of the homes of the settlers in the colony.

ANOTHER LECTURE COURSE ARRANGED

Carbondale Will Be Well Provided with Brilliant Talkers This Season. Hon. W. Bourke Cochran, Henry Austin Adams, Major Littlefield, Dr. James Walsh and Father Daly to Appear Here Under Auspices of Knights of Columbus.

This season in Carbondale promises to be a brilliant one in a literary way. Some of the finest speakers in the land, several of whom are unapproached in their field, will be heard by Carbondale audiences, thus affording a series of treats which it can be predicted will be appreciated by the people of this city.

It was supposed that the limit of good things was reached in the High school course and the other entertainment course, when such orators and gifted men as Dr. Stafford and Henry Watkinson would be heard, but, in the meantime, a special surprise course through the announcement of the course which Carbondale council, of the Knights of Columbus, will conduct, beginning Oct. 16.

This course will present to Carbondale audiences five speakers, all of whom are known throughout the land, and one or two who have an international reputation through their achievements bringing them before the public eye. These are Hon. W. Bourke Cochran, Dr. James Walsh, Ph. D., of New York city; Henry Austin Adams, M. A., Hon. John R. Littlefield, of Maine, and Father Daly, of the Catholic university of Washington.

Bourke Cochran's attainments are so well known as to need no comment. Dr. James Walsh, while he has never been heard in this city, his gift and eloquence and his learning have been enjoyed by numerous persons of Carbondale, particularly when he lectured in Scranton. His subject then was one of Shakespeare's tragedies, which he will also discuss on this occasion. Dr. Walsh is a native of Parsons, and with his brother has a great measure of success since his graduation from the University of Pennsylvania, where he won signal honors. He is one of the editors of the New York Medical Times, is professor of general medicine in the New York Polytechnic and is a frequent contributor to leading magazines.

Henry Austin Adams, editor of Donahoe's Magazine, is a gifted orator. His lectures have been keenly enjoyed by Scranton audiences on several occasions.

Hon. John Littlefield has masterpieces which call for the highest appreciation. His subject will probably be "Daniel O'Connell."

Father Daly is a member of the faculty of the Catholic university at Washington. He will deliver an illustrated lecture on a subject that is sure to appeal to the popular taste.

The Poor Board's New Rule. The poor board is enforcing and intends to enforce without the least relaxation, the rule recently adopted of honoring only those bills which are presented for payment within sixty days from the time they were contracted. It has been a practice, and an annoying one, on the part of the board's creditors, to withhold bills without any apparent reason, for months after the debt, which they represented, without being brought to the notice of the directors in their meetings. The effect was to confuse and on several occasions the authorization of the bills could not be satisfactorily traced. A recent example of this was several months ago, when a raft of claims came to hand which were two

FALL OPENING

TUESDAY
WEDNESDAY
THURSDAY
FRIDAY

Tuesday next starts the opening of this new store. We say new store because you can hardly recognize the corner of a month ago. It's so changed, both inside and out. The tireless energy which animates every impulse and move of this great store will show itself this season, not only in the beautiful interior and exterior, but in the high standard we have reached in every department as Complete Outfitters to Men and Boys. There is a magnetism about this tireless energy which brings us friends and customers from far and near. They have learned from past experience that the stamp of Samter Brothers' means the newest of style, the best of quality, and the lowest possible price.

We Invite You to be present at our Opening. Not necessary to buy, just to encourage us in our efforts to serve you well. We will show you through this great Outfitting store, which has been built by your support.

Our Shoes

It's the department we are most proud of because it is entirely new, covers one whole floor and shows a stock as complete as is possible to make it. Exclusive styles for gentlemen and youths. That's going to be our study, and we promise you that the best and the lowest possible price will be found in every shoe. The best of leather and the best only.

Our name is in every shoe. "That's the guarantee." See our large display windows.

Ready-to-Wear Clothes

The Atterbury System of clothes making was introduced by us last season. It's a success—a great success, especially to the man who has "always left his measure." The Fall Styles are a little different, but the system of making remains the same. We think it perfect. A demonstration will convince you how much better it is than the custom tailor's way.

Our Boys' Clothes

This department has been recognized for many years as the most complete juvenile store in this city. We have had to enlarge it a little to better accommodate our increasing patronage. For the interesting little fellows the Fall Styles are very novel this season. Some are American, others are taken from foreign fashion plates. For the larger and manly boys who wear long trousers, no better qualities, styles and cloth patterns can be found even in the larger cities. You can see them in our show windows.

Hat Styles The mirror or looking glass may convince you that a hat suits your face, but the wearing capacity or quality you leave to us. Our Fall Styles will not disappoint you. See our window.

Gent's Furnishing Our business is to look out for every new fad that appears in the market. If you look at our neckwear and shirt styles, you will admit we have attended to our business.

COMPLETE OUTFITTERS TO MEN AND BOYS.

years old, and whose responsibility could not be fixed. This led to the adoption of the rule to ignore those claims which might not be presented within sixty days. As the first sixty days of the new law is passed the board serves notice anew that it will enforce the regular which was forced to be adopted. Claims, therefore, which are over sixty days old, will meet with some opposition when presented for payment.

Individually, the work of Jay Hope, quarterback for the Indians, was conspicuous, while Manley, right end for Scranton, took the honors on Scranton's side by his clever and fierce tackling. The feature of the game was the passing of the ball from Hadjinas to Henschel, when a gain of about twenty yards was made.

It is needless to assure the enthusiasts that the Indians will profit by Saturday's contest and that the line, which seems to be the weakest point, will be strengthened as the case requires.

the assassin of President McKinley and expressed himself as being opposed to granting a trial to Czolgosz; he ought to be disposed of, sent to his death without a trial, Hull says.

plays, comes from a determined effort to give the best possible production for the smallest sum possible. On its appearance at the Grand Opera house this week, "On the Wabash," the bill tonight, will be found as excellently staged as the most exacting theatergoer can look for. Mr. Lane Hasley is the leading man this season.

A Splendid Production. "The Prides of Jennico" was superbly presented before the most appreciative audience of the season at the Grand on Saturday. It was by far the finest production of the season.

NEITHER ELEVEN SCORED.

Good Playing, but No Dashing Work in Opening Game of Foot Ball. The foot ball season was opened at Alumni park on Saturday with an interesting contest between the Indians, of Carbondale, and an eleven from Scranton, which represented the most dashing kickers of the pliskin of that city.

WINANS HULL'S CASE.

Will Be Presented Before the Grand Jury in Honesdale Today. The meeting of the Grand Jury of Wayne county which takes place this morning in the court house at Honesdale, will be an important one, for it will deal with the case of Winans Hull, of this city, who is in jail on the charge of taking the life of Edison Schonover, of Scranton, in the woods near Lake Lodge station in June last.

THE FIVE YEAR CLUB.

An Unique Organization of Young Men Who Meet Once Every Five Years. An unique club was organized among well known youths of the city yesterday. It is known as the five year club, deriving its name from the fact that it will hold a session but once every five years. The purpose of meeting is to review the doings of the years, compare notes and see how each one has succeeded.

REMOVE THE ARCHES.

Criticism of Delay in Taking Down the Unsightly Reminder of Semi-Centennial Celebration. The failure to remove the arches which did service during the semi-centennial celebration, is causing more than a whispered comment. It isn't the fact of the delay that is the subject of the talk, but it is the unsightly appearance that is presented by what were once acceptable and presentable arches. This was in the long ago, but now neither of the two that remain, the one at the Delaware and Hudson street, the other on South Church street, is any city's pride.

News About the Telephones.

J. S. Hughes, manager of the Carbondale Telephone company, is making changes on the lines between this city and Scranton, that will be of interest to those who have occasion to use the company's lines between these points.

MOOSIC.

Moosic, Sept. 29.—John Pearl left Saturday for Philadelphia, where he will continue his study of chemistry. David Robertson is at the Pan-American exposition. Harry Miller, of Carbondale, is visiting relatives in town. Harry Capwell has returned to Philadelphia to study chemistry.
