TALK ON SOCIALISM.

Howard J. Caldwell, of Philadelphia Defines This Party's Belief, Points Out Difference Between a Socialist and an Anarchist, and Tells What the Socialist Would Do to Banish the Trials of the Workingman and Give Him More of What He Produces - Small-Sized Audience in Academy of Music.

The members of the recently organ ized Socialistic party in this city gathered in the Academy of Music last night to listen to an address on socialism and wherein it differs from anarchism, with which it is so frequently associated in the public.

The speaker was Howard J. Caldwell, of Philadelphia, Mr. Caldwell is t lecturer, or speaker, under the direction of the state organization of the National Socialistic party. He has had connection with trades unions since his youth, particularly in Philadelphia where he was an active worker and a leader in the fight led by the labor unions of that city. He is also general organizer of the American Federation of Labor. He is a powerfully built man, he is intensely earnest and would impress one as being a man of force in organizations to which he might attach himself.

Mr. Caldwell spoke for over an hour o a somewhat meagre attendance After being introduced by F. C. Hert gog, of the Central Labor union, leader in this city of the Socialist party, the speaker dwelt for over an hour on th definition of socialism, of its opposition of belief to anarchy and what the socialists hope to achieve and how they propose to reach their ends.

Mr. Caldwell made a lengthy review of labor conditions, suggesting and affirming that the trials of the workingman, the "wage slave" he dubbed him were due to a surplus of labor, this being the consequence of the change from the domestic system of labor of years ago to the "commercial" system of today. 'The trade unions' movement was the effort of the workingmen to meet this condition of under consumption, caused by the laborer not getting his share of what he produced. The aim is to remove the competition of labor by demanding the shortening of hours and thus increasing wages, because of the demand that would be created for help. Mr. Caldwell argued that the "wag slave" was getting but 15 per cent. of what he produced, and that he could hope for no more while the "commercial" system prevailed, the system that permits of such enormous profits for the capitalist, while the laborer is forced to be content with about oneseventh, according to statistics, of what he has produced.

Trusts are a good thing, said Mr. aldwell, that is if they are public rusts, trusts in the profits of which the workingman could share to the extent to which he has produced them. This could only be brought about by the public ownership of all industries, the steel industry, the mining industry and the rest. The items of rent, inter est, etc., would be thus removed, what they represented would go to the 'wage slave" who produced the money He pointed out the success of the gov ernment's ownership and control of the postal affairs of the country as an example of what could be achieved by a public trust. This he affirmed was the cate of total abstinence and he was one greatest of trusts; and if a citizen could send a letter to the Klondike for two cents, the actual cost there was no reason why under the same system over industrial concerns the workingman could not have the necessities of life at cost, and thus get back an equivalent, or nearly so, of what his cost produced, instead of 15 per cent

As proof of the government's suessful management of the postal affairs, he pointed to the fact that of the millions handled by this department last year, but two hundred dollars were unaccounted for, while in one bank alone the loss yearly might be thousands of dollars.

Uncle Sam, he continued, is a friend of labor unions; he recognizes then and in the government printing office the men are better paid than elsewhere and the work produced is gotten out at cost. There is no deduction for interest, rent. etc., and a consequent loss to the producer, would have been no steel strikes or other strikes had Uncle Sam been in charge of these industries, and the labor unions would not be crying for recognition as they are at the present time. The labor unions, Mr. Caldwell insisted, were not in an oppressive movement, but a defensive movement. the outgrowth of necessity to preserve orkingman's rights and to see

TWIN TROUBLES.

They Are Often Together These Days They Work Havoc All Over the Country and in Scranton.

Weak, nervous, the digestion out of order-that is what ails a host of people. It comes about in this way: First from overwork or other causes, the nerves are burdened beyond endurance, nerve waste is not replaced, nerve force is weakened, then the stomach loses its nerve-controlling power and indigestion follows, with strength. When first Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills came to Scranton people could hardly be convinced that this great medicine would remove these troubles. Now it is an accepted fact, because of their cure of very stubborn cases no other medicine would influ-

Mrs. J. L. Johnson, of No. 720 North Main stret, Scranton, Pa., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are excellent. I was so dizzy and nervous, and the stomach digested its food badly. This condition induced a feeling of de-bility and lassitude. Hearing of the nerve pills at Mathews Bros., 320 Lackawanna avenue, I got a box, and the result has certainly been fine. They gave the stomach strength to handle the food properly, the nervousness and dizziness disappeared completely, and my general strength and vigor returned. Consequently I am pleased and glad to recommend the medicine." Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are to it that he received that to which was entitled.

Socialism Against Anarchism. Mr. Caldwell epoke with some warmth of the popular misapprehension of socialism and of its being con founded with anarchism. One, he urged, is diametrically opposed to the other. Socialists believe, in their idea of public ownership of all industries in the furtherest extension of the govern ment, to make it of the people, by the people and for the people. Anarchists are opposed to all government; they believe that government is coercion They do not believe in a unity of government, nor in a unity of anythings of this is the case of the man with the disordered brain who made the whole nation grieve in carrying out his belief that he could remove the condition about him by striking the ruler of the land. "This man was cerainly a fool," exclaimed the speaker While the audience was a small one it was enthusiastic and the speaker showed approbation of his sentiment by hearty applause.

LUKE WHITE, whose expected death was spoken of in the Tribune esterday, passed away at 3.30 in the norning at his home at White's cross ing, the place which bears his name. A general breaking down of his system manifested itself several weeks ago and he declined rapidly until death

OBITUARY.

Mr. White was a pioneer resident of Carbondale and was a greatly es-teemed resident of the community. He was a native of Ireland, where he was born in the county of Roscommon, 68 years ago. He came to America in 1858, and settled in Honesdale. He responded to the call of arms in 1861, and achieved an honorable career in the defense of his adopted country. Mr. White located in Carbondale when the war coased, and later engaged in partnership with B. J. Murphy, at what is nown as White's crossing, a settlement which was owned almost wholly by Mr. White. He was more than ordinarily successful in his business ventures and was noted for his honesty and fairness in all his dealings, a reputation which spread through valleys and which he happily enjoyed to the day of his death, Mr. White wedded Miss May Murphy of Honesdale, who departed this life many years ago. His survivors are two sons, Rev. John White, of Denver, Col., who was ordained in June last, and Lawrence White, of this city; one daughter, Mrs. John White, also of Carpondale, and one brother, James White, of Forest City. Mr. White was a member of William H. Davies post,

JOHN J. FORBES, one time city superintendent of schools of Carbondale for years, died somewhat suddenly Tuesday at his home in New York city, whither he went a few years ago. Heart trouble, from which he suffered attacks for years, was probably the cause of death. His age was 59 years. Mr. Forbes was for many years before the public eye in this city and was always conspicuous as a citizen of high purpose and honest convictions. He was a teacher in the city schools and later was elected city superintendent, a position which he filled with signal results during his term of seventeen years. He was an able man and he served in the interests of education with zeal and deligence and with the high aim of making the public school system the best that was possible to achieve. In every direction in which his influence could be felt.

he displayed the same splendid qualities. Mr. Forbes was an earnest advoof the most active workers in the Father Mathew movement. Strong social ties bound him to his friends and his death will be sincerely mourned. Mr. Forbes is survived by his wife and the following children: Frank, New York city; Frederick F., editor of the Scranton Republican; Maurice, of New York city; Harry, of Omaha, Neb.: John, of the Asbury Park Herald: Paul, Floyd, Roy, Basil and

Relief Comes at Last to a Scranton Citizen.

After years and years of constant misery from backache and the many annoying complications that accompany sick kidneys, a citizen of Scranton finds relief and cure. The public statement which follows will help many a reader:

Mr. Joseph Davis, of 424 Fifth avenue, miner by occupation, says: "The pain in the small of my back across the kidneys was very severe, especially if I stooped and attempted to straighten. At night when in bed my back ached fearfully, thus disturbing my rest, and in the morning I was so lame and stiff I could hardly get up and around. I tried doctor's medicines, but nothing did much good. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Matthews Bros.' drug store and they helped me from the start. I highly recommend them and have already done this to other miners."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

J. M. Anderson left Tuesday to purchase goods in New York city. Among the boys who have left this town to better their condition, there are few more fortunate than John Weir, son of William Weir, a life long resident of this town. "Jack" and his brother left this town about thirteen years ago. Shortly after he married a banker's step-daughter at Boone, Ia. The Boone paper says that Jack's father-in-law a few years ago purchased a copper mine in Laramie, Wyoming, which has panned out to one of the richest in the section. Jack has been given a share and he will leave the cashler's desk to look after his interests in Laramie.

NEW DEPARTURE

A New Effectual and Convenient Cure for Catarrh.

Of catarrh remedies there is no end, but of catarrh cures, there has al-ways been a great scarcity. There are many remedies to relieve, but very few that really cure.

The old practice of snuffing sait water through the nose would often ralieve and the washes, douches, powders and inhalers in common use very little, if any, better than the fashioned salt water douche.

The use of inhalers and the application of salves, washes and powders to the nose and threat to cure catarrh is no more reasonable than to rub the kidney trouble or heumatism and it s just as much a blood disease as kidney trouble or rheumatisf and it cannot be cured by local treatment any more than they can be.

To cure catarrh, whether in the head, throat or stomach an internal antiseptic treatment is necessary to drive the catarrhal poison out of the blood and system and the new ca-tarrh cure is designed on this plan and the remarkable success of Stuart's Ca-tarrh Tablets is because being used internally, it drives out catarrhal infection through action upon stomach, liver and bowels.

Wm. Zimmerman of St. Joseph, relates an experience with catarrh which is of value to millions of catarrh sufferers everywhere. He says: "I neglected a slight nasal catarrh until it gradually extended to my throat and bronchial tubes and finally even my stomach and liver became affected. but as I was able to keep up and do a day's work I let it run along until my hearing began to fall me and then I realized that I must get rid of catarrh or lose my position as I was clerk and my hearing was absolutely necessary.

"Some of my friends recommended an inhaler, another catarrh salve but they were no good in my case, nor was anything else until I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and bought a package at my drug store. They benefited me from the start and in less than four months I was completely cured of catarrh although I had suffered nearly all my life from it.
"They are pleasant to take and so much more convenient to use than other catarrh remedies that I feel I cannot say enough in favor of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets."

A little book on cause and cure of catarrh will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., and the tablets are sold by all druggists in the United States and Canada.
