HAWKES ANGRY AT HEISTAND HEARING. Resents Insinuation That He "Whimpers"—Senator Cockrell Rebukes Him—Mr. Allen Contradicts Colonel Heistand.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 6.—Charles H. Allen, former assistant secretary of the navy and later governor of Porto Rico, was a witness yesterday before the senate committee in the Heistand investigation. He declared in his most emphatic manner that he never had any connection with the proposed hemp company. He added that he had not taken, and had not been asked to take, any stock in such company or combination. He also asserted that in no circumstances would he have taken stock or engaged in any such business.

This testimony contradicted that of Colonel Heistand, who had said that he had approached Assistant Secretary Allen and asked him to take stock. Heistand had expressed the belief that he was all right. Mr. Allen said he had no recollection whatever of such a conversation with Heistand on that subject.

Mr. Allen asserted that his first recollection of the proposed hemp commission was a telephone message to Heistand that he was being used as a witness in New York in connection with it. Investigation showed that Major Hawkes was using his name upon authority of Colonel Heistand. Mr. Allen at once went to see General Corbin. Heistand had expressed the belief that he was all right. Mr. Allen said he had no recollection whatever of such a conversation with Heistand on that subject.

Mr. Allen said he next heard of the matter when Hawkes came to him and said he wanted a settlement of his claim. He told Hawkes he had nothing whatever to do with the concern, and never had, and after a brief conversation, Major Hawkes expressed the same opinion, but asserted that Heistand had told him that the witness was in. He again saw General Corbin, who said that Hawkes had been to him also, with the same claim. General Corbin had said he had nothing to do with the concern.

Nothing of importance was developed by the cross-examination of Colonel Heistand. At its close the committee adjourned until Monday.
