

JURY SECURED TO TRY HULL

TWELFTH MAN ACCEPTED AT ADJOURNING TIME.

Questions Propounded in the Examination of Jurors Tend to Indicate That a Plea of Self Defense Will Be Made to Save Hull's Neck—Effort to Have the Jury Disqualified Because Four of the Panel Were Excused Before Being Examined. Now Ready for Taking Testimony.

The contest over the choice of a jury in the homicide case against William Hull, of Carlisle, in progress at the Wayne county court house, at Homestead, was renewed with vigor yesterday and waged with spirit and determination until the second panel of jurors, 108 in all, was exhausted before the last juror was accepted and sworn.

The skirmish in the legal battle to decide Hull's fate was close and was hot. It was unexampled in Wayne county, and it is doubtful if such a contest was ever witnessed even in Lackawanna county. The scene of so many close combats.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays, Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything, at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhic poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of the stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Gaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no opiates, opium or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, douches and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure."

At about spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty-cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

FIRST CASE OF ITS KIND

GREEN GOODS 'COME ON' PLACED ON TRIAL.

J. F. Dymond of Wilkes-Barre Arraigned Before Judge Archbald on the Charge of Being an Accomplice of W. A. Gray in the Use of the United States Mails for Fraudulent Purposes—Grand Jury Completed Its Work—Two Bills Ignored—Russell Case Resumes Today.

For the first time yesterday the United States secret service had a green goods "come on" arraigned for trial. Heretofore the bureau has been content to follow the men who were working the game. Recently, it was decided to also prosecute those who enter into negotiations for the purchase of the stuff, it being deemed that they too are guilty of a fraudulent use of the mails, when they correspond with a view of entering into what they imagine to be a legitimate business.

This first victim is J. F. Dymond, of Dorrancecon. He had dealings with W. A. Gray, alias Frank Wallace, who was arrested in March, 1901, last July for operating in green goods, and against whom a true bill was returned Tuesday.

Dymond admits he negotiated with Gray, but claims it was for the purpose of entrapping him. In substantiation of this his counsel, A. J. Colburn, of Wilkes-Barre, produced evidence to show that Dymond is an excellent sort of a fellow, with a penchant for busy-ing himself about affairs that do not directly concern his every day affairs.

THE GOVERNMENT, represented by United States Attorney McCarroll and Special Service Agent M. W. Malone, contended that Dymond was in the game for all that he could get out of it, and produced evidence to show that Dymond's claim of a highly moral purpose in negotiating with Gray was not supported by the circumstances.

On July 10, 1901, he received a regulation green goods circular from W. A. Gray, addressed to his matrimonial agency non de plume, J. D. Smith, of Wilkes-Barre.

Gray's letter, which was not to be written until he got permission, and to be signed by Gray, nothing more, less or other than the instructions dictated.

May 15, Dymond sent the telegram as directed, but as he was about to move to Dorrancecon, he added at the bottom of his initials, Dorrancecon, Pa.

MOVED TO DORRANCECON. A week later, he moved to Dorrancecon and engaged a post office box in his own name. Expecting that a letter would come to him from Gray, addressed J. D. Smith, he requested the postmistress, Mrs. Agnes, to give him the letter, which she did.

Gray's letter, which was not to be written until he got permission, and to be signed by Gray, nothing more, less or other than the instructions dictated.

Gray's letter, which was not to be written until he got permission, and to be signed by Gray, nothing more, less or other than the instructions dictated.

turned the letter over to United States commissioner Gustave Hahn, of Wilkes-Barre, and he, in turn, placed it in the hands of Inspector Malone. Dymond was arrested and when examined by Inspector Malone at Commissioner Hahn's office, explained that the only purpose was to entrap Gray. He also made the claim that a day or two after the receipt of the first Gray letter, he showed it to Commissioner Hahn, and that the commissioner told him he had no jurisdiction in the matter. Mr. Hahn denied ever having seen Dymond.

A letter sent by Dymond to a matrimonial paper enclosing his advertisement, for a wife was admitted to show that he had previously used the name of J. D. Smith. The letter and advertisement, which went to the jury, provoked a continued run of loud laughter in which even the august court joined.

This case was given to the jury at adjourning time. The jury is composed of Messrs. John J. Adams, lawyer, Shamokin; Henry W. Chamberlain, lawyer, Milton; Thomas A. Gallagher, clerk, White Haven; William E. Gellatt, farmer, Gibson; William J. Jones, editor, Olyphant; M. V. Larrabee, farmer, Trouton; J. N. Newton, merchant, Shinglehouse; Bridge Painter, editor, Muncy; H. A. Scoville, attorney, Connersport; Edward Smith, Justice of the Peace, Wyalusing; Luther L. Woodley, merchant, Beech Lake; William Yale, farmer, Cold Spring.

GRAND JURY THROUGH. The grand jury finished its session yesterday morning, after a discharge with the thanks of Judge Archbald. Two bills were ignored; United States against Bert Nichols passing counterfeit coin, and United States against James L. Falls, having possession of a counterfeit coin. The jury made a recommendation in the line with Judge Archbald's suggestion, that a second jury room be fitted up on the third floor of the federal building.

THE RUSSELL case was adjourned yesterday, inasmuch as the Dymond case being tried. It will be resumed this morning.

THEATRE NEWS. TODAY'S ATTRACTIONS. LYCEUM—"Are You a Buffalo?" Night. ACADEMY—Benedict & Moulton Repertoire company. Afternoon and night. STAR—"The New York Stars." Afternoon and night.

"Are You a Buffalo?" Salt & Haber, comedy musical artists par excellence, and the famous singing dog, "Blondie," are delighting audiences this season with "Are You a Buffalo," a musical farce, which will be seen at the Lyceum theater tonight.

"Queen of Chinatown." The play that will be presented at the Academy tonight is the Bennett & Moulton company's "Queen of Chinatown," which has been secured at great expense.

Henry Miller. According to the reports which come from Henry Miller's tour this season, the new play, "The Army of the Gods," which he offers at the Lyceum theater on Friday evening only, is being different from the others in which he has been seen here. Unlike "Hearse" and "The Only Way," it has strongly contrasting serious and comedy scenes for the character assumed by Miller, which tend to make it much more agreeable to the audience.

"Winchester," at the Lyceum. This new melodrama will receive its first production at the Lyceum theater Saturday afternoon and night.

"The Dairy Farm." It will be no doubt be of great interest to the lovers of the rural drama to know that the most successful of them all, "The Dairy Farm," will be presented at the Lyceum next Monday evening.

Consumption

Is a disease of civilization. When the Indian was a stranger to the white man he had no name in his vocabulary for this dreaded malady.

Without arguing as to the curability of consumption, it may be stated positively that Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures weak lungs, hemorrhages, bronchitis, deep-seated cough, the cancerous, stubborn cough, and other diseases which if neglected or unskillfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

HEADACHE CHARMED.

It is the Experience of Scranton People That Proves the Magical Effect of Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills with Sick and Nervous Headache.

It has never come to any other medicine—never to all medicines—never to any medicine showing the unparelleled merit established by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. There is probably no case of nervous sick headache that they will not cure.
