CHANGES IN NEW JERSEY CENTRAL MANAGEMENT.

It Is Likely to Have an Effect in This City—Superintendent Hixson Went Over Part of the Line on a Railroad Bicycle—Railroad Men Want a Semi-Monthly Pay—Rumored Extension of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern Railroad—The Board for Today.

Through the appointment of W. W. Wenzel, Jr., as general superintendent of the New Jersey Central, to succeed J. H. Olshausen, retired, owing to failing health, a number of changes are anticipated in the general management of the various divisions.

Just how this will affect the Scranton terminal is as yet a matter of conjecture, but it has already affected the Wilkes-Barre force and their tributary stations, and rumor has it that similar changes will be made in Scranton in the near future.

The company's business at Wilkes-Barre, Ashley, Parsons and other stations in that vicinity is now looked after by one general agent, and his "clerks" at reduced salaries. Through this change the salary list of the company in Wilkes-Barre and adjacent towns has been reduced a hundred dollars a month or more.

The prevailing opinion among the Scranton employees of the company is that the system now in vogue in Wilkes-Barre will be extended to Scranton, and possibly the business here will be under the supervision of the Wilkes-Barre agent. It is understood that but three principal divisions or terminals, between Jersey City and Scranton will prevail after the contemplated changes are made. How many men will thus be affected cannot now be estimated.

Returned from a Chilly Ride.

Superintendent Hixson of the Lackawanna Railroad Bridges and Buildings Department, returned home yesterday afternoon from a long and chilly ride over the road. The distance covered was not so great, but it was the manner in which it was covered that made the trip anything but pleasant.

Mr. Hixson and three of his assistants started from Portland on Tuesday on a "railroad bicycle," which is rigged up with four seats and is operated by hand and foot power. A speed of over twenty miles an hour can be attained on this modern invention, but the passengers seldom ride that fast, as it is necessary for them to make a number of stops along the line.

KNIGHTS OF MALTA.

William McKinley, commander, No. 410, at Beaver Falls, Beaver County, Pa., was honored on the evenings of Oct. 7 and 8, by Grand Recorder Sir George H. Pierce, assisted by Deputy Grand Commanders Sir John G. Miller and Joseph T. Varnell, and a chapter still from Pastoral Commander No. 29 of Wilkes-Barre. The honor of presenting the insignia were awarded to Sir Franklin P. Bush, who accompanied the recorder to him a lame, but commanding jewel, in recognition of his labors in promoting the growth of the new body. The principal officers installed were: Sir Knight Commander, Sir J. Blaine McGough, recorder, Sir John H. Surgeon, treasurer, Sir George S. Mason, a baronial knight, and Sir John H. Jefferson, commander, No. 285, at Reynoldsville, Jefferson County, Pa., was installed on Oct. 8, by Grand Recorder Sir George H. Pierce, assisted by Past Commanders Sir John E. C. Kindle and Elmer L. Besler of Reynoldsville and Sir Elmer P. Elzogard and Doctor H. Northamer of Phillipsburg. The principal officers and Sir Knight Commander Sir Franklin P. Bush, recorder, Sir William J. Weir, treasurer, Sir James H. Hough, and others of the Past commandery were installed at Sir William J. Weir, to whom a beautiful past commander's jewel was presented by the new body. A banquet was prepared at a midnight. The regular convocation will be held on Wednesday evening in Odd Fellows' hall.

Colonel commander, No. 285, of this city, received a class of novices last week.

The supreme commander of America has just received from the Imperial Body of Scotland a copy of the "Address to His Majesty, King Edward VII, from the Imperial Body of the Knights of Malta," in which the organization claims that His Majesty's declaration as a Christian sovereign pledges their loyalty to His personal throne and family and pray for "peace within thy kingdom and prosperity within thy dominions." The document is signed and sealed by Sir William G. Ingram, imperial grand master, and Sir William Sholto, imperial grand excommunicate.

The annual convocation of the supreme grand commandery of the continent of America holds its sessions at Rochester, N. Y., on Oct. 16 and 17. A large attendance is assured. Among the topics to be discussed will be the proposed plan to increase the cast of characters, the creation of a body to be known as the Dame of Malta, and to consist exclusively of the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Knights of Malta; action upon greater assistance to the monthly journals; the approval of the numerous chapters and auxiliary organizations; superintendents during the past year; action upon a number of fundamental and many other matters of especial interest to the order.

Extension of W. B. & E.

The Wilkes-Barre and Eastern railroad has just completed the surveying of a new route from Wilkes-Barre to Williamsport. It is not yet decided whether the road is to be built.

It is stated that the proposed new line will connect near Williamsport with the Beach Creek road, and will give the Erie, of which the Wilkes-Barre & Eastern is a part, the most direct route from this section to Williamsport. It is also stated that the extension will pass through vast timber territory—Scranton Times.

OBJECTIONS IN CORAY CASE

Large Number of Witnesses Called Before Dauphin County Courts.

DECISION EXPECTED NEXT MONDAY

Mr. Coray's Nomination Objected to by John M. Garman, of Nanticoke, and Patrick Donahue, of Philadelphia—Mr. Garman Testifies Regarding Transactions at the Recent State Convention.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Harrisburg, Oct. 18.—The objections to the certificate of Representative E. A. Coray, Jr., of Pittston, Democratic nominee for state treasurer, were heard today in the Dauphin county court by Judge Shummon and Welsh. A large number of witnesses were called on both sides, and it is expected that a decision will be given on Monday, when the time limit for certifying the nominations by the state department expires. Mr. Coray's nomination is objected to by John M. Garman, of Nanticoke, former chairman of the Democratic state committee, and Patrick Donahue, of Philadelphia. Their objections are sustained his name will be stricken from the Democratic column on the official ballot. Mr. Coray was nominated originally by the Union and Municipal leagues parties, and in order to effect fusion with these parties on the state ticket, Representative Andrew J. Palm of Meadville, who was nominated for state treasurer last August by the Democratic state convention, withdrew at a special meeting of the state committee held in Harrisburg last Friday. At the convention which nominated Mr. Palm, a motion was offered by Mr. Garman, and adopted, that in case of a vacancy on the ticket such vacancy should be filled by a Democrat. The convention also adopted a resolution authorizing a committee, of which Captain Hasson, of Oil City, is chairman, to take charge of party affairs in Philadelphia. The Hasson committee recommended to the executive committee, at a meeting held in this city last Thursday, the expulsion of the six Philadelphia members of the state committee for alleged party disloyalty. Its recommendation was approved by the executive committee, and at its suggestion these members were expelled by the state committee and their places filled by other Democrats, one of whom is ex-Governor Patterson.

This and That.

The officials of the Lackawanna Railroad are determined to put a stop to the practice of carrying passengers free of charge on all train lines, particularly the professional and local "freight jumpers," who make a practice of stealing rides. A large number of arrests have already been made in this respect, and all the special officers have been instructed to be especially vigilant in this respect. It behoves the train jumper to pay his fare or walk, it will be cheaper in the end.

Plasterers have been engaged for a number of days to repair the wall in the main lobby of the Lackawanna passenger station, where the plaster has fallen down several times. A sheet ceiling has been erected, which has been plastered over, and when painted and properly decorated will be in keeping with the many other noticeable improvements that have been made at various times in and around the station.

The Delaware and Hudson company's new freight station is fast nearing completion, and when finished will afford ample room for the handling of the company's extensive local business. A driveway next to the passenger station, and a switch will be run along the east side of the building.

R. W. Polson, chief clerk in the freight department of the Lackawanna Railroad company in this city, has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative one with the Lackawanna Elevator company. He has been succeeded by H. W. Bishing, who has been cashier at the Scranton freight office for a number of years.

Mr. Garman's Testimony.

Mr. Garman testified at today's hearing that he offered a motion at the meeting of the recent state convention that in case of a vacancy on the ticket it should be filled by a Democrat and subsequently a motion was adopted that a committee be appointed to notify the state candidates of their nomination. He was corroborated by J. W. C. Austin, one of the York delegates; H. H. Murphy, secretary of the Philadelphia city committee, and several other persons who testified they were present.

Tried to Poison His Parents.
