ATTACKS MADE ON THE CARS

STONES THROWN AT THEM IN THREE SUBURBS.

Genet Street Once More the Scene of Turbulence—Crowd on Luzerne Street Stones Two Cars and Starts One of Them Under Full Power with No One Aboard—Company Is Fitting Up Its New Machine Shop as Winter Quarters for the Imports.

That idleness begets mischief was once more instanced in the street car strike yesterday.

One week ago yesterday two riots occurred on the South Side, after the city had been practically free from disorder of this kind for a week previous. During the six days subsequent to this outbreak peace once more prevailed. Yesterday the lawlessness broke out afresh, and before the day was done three serious disturbances were to be chronicled.

The first occurred on Genet street, South Scranton, the scene of one of the riots of the Sunday previous. A crowd gathered at the intersection of Genet street and Pittston avenue, and just before noon stone throwing at the cars began. One after the other of the four cars running on that line were greeted with a fusillade of stones and nearly every window in each car was demolished. The car tracks were not obstructed, and the cars were allowed to proceed after they had run the gauntlet, but as a car was departing the crew received warning from the crowd that if they came back again they would be given a warm reception. The crews didn't go back. Manager Silliman decided to close the line rather than run the risk of further disturbance on the Sabbath.

ON LUZERNE STREET.

On the Luzerne street line, near Fourteenth street, a crowd assembled about noon time and from knolls commanding the track on either side, pelted the cars with big stones. One crew succeeded in safely running the late afternoon train, but the stones on a high peg and then lying down at full length on the floor of the car until it had gotten out of range of the stone throwers.

Another crew deserted the car and traced for some time across the fields. The motor lever was left behind and some one of the crew seizing it turned on the power sending the empty car swinging along at a high speed towards Main avenue. A police officer on his way to the scene espied the running car and brought it to a standstill. It was afterwards taken to the central city by a crew despatched from the office. The line was closed for the remainder of the day.

A South Main avenue car was attacked near the "Farm house" switch, below "stratford" avenue, Lincoln Heights. A number of its windows were smashed by stones.

A Petersburg car was struck by a stone during the early part of the afternoon, and John Costello, a Petersburg youth, was arrested later in the day on the charge of being the stone thrower. He will have a hearing today.

Altogether ten cars were brought in yesterday by their windows smashed. The company is undisgusted by these weekly outbreaks and proposes to persist in its policy of gradually extending its service. The new machine shop, near the Providence road power house, was completed last week and the steam was turned on to dry its cement work and painting.

FITTING UP QUARTERS.

Today the company will begin fitting it out as a boarding and lodging house for its imported men, this move being made necessary by the fact that the company is to bring on another big force of men that it may run its cars until midnight. The shop will be fitted up with a view of being used for hotel purposes.

On Saturday last the strikers issued a statement to the public, declaring that the strike was still on, and asking for a continuance of the support thus far granted.

J. H. Blodgett, an "ex-import" has been hanging around strike headquarters for the past two days seeking assistance from the executive committee in his effort to apprehend one Farley, an agent of the Drummond agency, who, according to Blodgett's information, made to Alderman Ruddy, assistant city clerk, and again on Saturday when he refused to work and made demand for his pay.

At midnight, Constables Ira Mitchell and John Hawley, accompanied by Blodgett and followed by a crowd of strikers, went to the company's offices with a warrant for Farley's arrest. Janitor Kane interfered with the constables when they were about to search the building and was arrested. When the constables got back from the station house, after leaving Kane, they made a search of the whole building, but could not find Farley. At the time of going to press, they had the building surrounded, believing that Farley was hidden within, and intending to keep an all-night vigil.

Chief Clerk Landis, of the Traction company, and Detective Quinn, one of Drummond's men, secured the release of Kane by making a $25 deposit.

The strikers have received reports from various sources of imported men insulting women and otherwise mistreating them. They are greatly enraged at not being able to identify them and have them dealt with by law.

A young boy named Costello was caught in the act of stoning a car on Prescott avenue yesterday afternoon and was promptly arrested by Superintendent Patterson, who has been sworn in as a special officer. He was locked up in the central police station.

Local Union 213 of the United Mine Workers has adopted earnest resolutions of sympathy with the cause of the striking street railway employees and has voted to give moral and practical aid.

Greatly Reduced Excursion Rates to Buffalo.

A SPLENDID ADDRESS.

L. F. Bower Spoke at Y. M. C. A. Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

L. F. Bower, general manager of the Allis-Chalmers company's local plant, delivered a most able address at yesterday afternoon's meeting in the Young Men's Christian association rooms. His topic was "The Importance of the Invisible," and he based his remarks on a portion of the eleventh chapter of Paul's epistle to the Hebrews reading as follows:

"For He endureth as seeing him who is invisible."

Mr. Bower said that the seen and unseen are both factors in our daily life. "The seen is the material world about us, but this material world is all actuated by laws and forces absolutely unseen. He laid stress on the great unseen law of the certainty of results and pointed out that "as a man sows, so shall he reap."

He urged the large gathering of young men to pay more attention to the unseen and spiritual things which are real and eternal and to shun the allurements and temptations of the material world.

RIDGEWAY EXONERATED.

Court of Inquiry Renders a Report in Which the Charges Preferred Are Dismissed.

Sergeant of Police Ridgeway has been exonerated of the charges preferred against him by Simon Hingerfeld, who alleged that he was illegally arrested and clapped into a cell by the sergeant some two weeks ago. The exoneration comes in the form of a report from the court of inquiry which this report was given out yesterday by Director of Public Safety Wormser and reads as follows:

F. L. Wormser, Director of Public Safety.

Dear Sir: We, the undersigned officers, acting as a court of inquiry on the charges preferred by Simon Hingerfeld against Sergeant Ridgeway for unjust incarceration, respectfully report that we have well and truly tried the case and have carefully examined the testimony offered at said inquiry and find, after due deliberation, that Sergeant Ridgeway acted in the discharge of his duty, and we therefore recommend his exoneration. Respectfully submitted,

Thomas L. Williams, captain of police; James F. Emery, lieutenant first precinct; Amos W. Palmer, lieutenant third precinct.

VERDICT IS FOUND.

Announcement Will Be Made This Morning of the Result of the Russell Coal Case.

The big coal case of Russell and others against the Delaware and Hudson company is at an end, the public announcement of the verdict being the only remaining step to make the trial a matter of history. The jury retired late Saturday afternoon and came to a unanimous decision during the night. Its finding was reported to Judge Archibald at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He read it, said it was satisfactory, and thanked the jury. After instructing the clerk to make it public this morning, the judge left to attend the bi-centennial of his alma mater, Yale college. It was a quite general guess that the jury found for the plaintiff in a small amount.

The case is the longest ever tried in the United States court here, occupying a full two weeks.

The address of ex-Judge Jessup was one of the finest efforts of that kind ever heard in this county. For an hour and a half, on Friday afternoon, and for nearly an equal time on Saturday morning, he held the close attention of the jury, while he detailed to them the full history of the mining operations of the company in the vicinity of the plaintiff's land and reviewed the testimony of the defense and presented it. It was a plain, clear, forcible presentation of the case, with a grasp that was remarkable and a memory for details that was marvelous. He not only held the close, undivided interest of the twelve jurors, but of everyone else in the court room, and received the warm congratulations of many of those present on the conclusion of his address.

A masterly closing address for the plaintiffs was made by Attorney S. B. Price. He spoke for an hour and three quarters. Judge Archibald occupied three hours in the delivery of his charges.

The jurors spent the night in the court room, sleeping on sofas borrowed from the offices, there being no provision at present in the jury room for the accommodation of a jury over night.

POLICE AND ALDERMEN.

John McGee, a young boy residing on Second street, was arrested on Saturday and arraigned before Alderman Ruddy for stealing base from the Lackawanna yards. He was committed to the county jail in default of $100.

John Smith, arrested for begging and using foul language at the Lackawanna station, was committed to the county jail for sixty days on Saturday by Magistrate Miley.

MARRIED IN BINGHAMTON.

W. D. Langerfeld Wedded to Miss Edda Schoonover.

Wallace D. Langerfeld, of this city, was united in marriage on Saturday night to Miss Edda J. Schoonover, at the home of Mrs. Mattie Frost, in Binghamton, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Hayes.

The bride was becomingly attired in a brown traveling gown and was attended by Miss Sallie Clifford, of Binghamton. The groomsmen were George D. Bergen, of New York, while Dr. Allan Chase, of this city, and Harry Bergen, of Binghamton, acted as best men.

Mr. Langerfeld is a trusted employe of the firm of C. B. Scott & Co., of Franklin avenue, while his wife is an accomplished young woman, who lived here up to a short time ago. The couple will reside on Franklin avenue.

WILL BE INTERESTED.

Once they put their money here they will take an interest in the place, and as the property of this region is necessary to the prosperity of their present undertaking, it is as good as certain they will do much to contribute to that prosperity. It is probably no exaggeration to say that all the parties directly interested in the new road and its allied enterprises represent $300,000,000.

To attract towards Scranton the studios attention of men with about a third of a billion at their control is, to put it negatively, something that augurs no ill for our future.

SLASHED WITH A RAZOR.

Patrick Gray Terribly Injured by Bert Gray, in Rieley's Saloon, on Saturday Night.

Patrick Caffrey, a young man, residing at 1221 Albright avenue, was frightfully slashed on the face with a razor by a negro named Bert Gray, in Rieley's hotel, on Penn avenue, Saturday night, and is lying at the Lackawanna hospital in a serious condition. His assailant was arrested yesterday morning, and is being held at the central police station.

Caffrey had been in Rieley's saloon for some time on Saturday night, and got into an altercation in the back room with George Dolpus, a one-legged colored man. Gray took up the one-legged man's side of the case and became engaged in a fight with Caffrey.

It was apparently getting the worst of it, and found that he had left his razor at home. He left Caffrey and came into the barroom to borrow one. Caffrey became frightened and ran out into Raymond court, which runs in the rear of the saloon. Gray succeeded in getting a razor from one of the men in the barroom, and started after him. The crowd started to follow him, but according to the stories told by eyewitnesses a big colored man stood in the doorway and blocked the passage. About five minutes later Caffrey staggered into the back room, covered with blood, which was pouring from two horrible wounds on his face.

He was quickly taken to the Lackawanna hospital, where it required no less than thirty-six stitches to close the two gashes on his face. One of these cuts ran from the left temple down the side of the face and across the ear, nearly severing it. Another cut ran from the ear across the face to the chin. Part of the edge of the razor, which had been broken off, was found in the cut, and the doctors are fearful that another piece is yet lodged in the wound. Caffrey's condition was reported to be very serious last night. Gray was arrested yesterday morning by Superintendent of Police Rub-

SCRANTON GLADDENED BY TRIBUNE'S BIG "SCOOP."

Sole Topic of Conversation Everywhere That Two Men Got Together. Seemingly "Too Good to Be True," but The Tribune Vouched for Its Accuracy and the Story Was Accepted Without Question—Property Values Caused to Jump and Business Men Forget the Strike.

No Scranton newspaper ever printed a story that gave more general and genuine gladness to its readers than the exclusive article in Saturday's Tribune concerning the local plans of the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valley Rapid Transit company. It was the one topic of conversation Saturday. Both people and papers credited it with being the best news that has been told Scrantonians in many a day, and incidentally one of the biggest, if not the very biggest, newspaper scoops local journalism has record of.

What was particularly gratifying to the Tribune was the fact that while the story was seemingly "too good to be true," its appearance in "The Tribune," with its facts stated unequivocally, removed all doubts as to its authenticity.

The main immediate effect of the publication of the story was to boom real estate values in the neighborhood of the new company's holdings. The departure of the steel mills greatly depreciated this property. To what extent it dropped can not be told. That it was a considerable drop, however, is generally admitted.

PRICES WENT UP.

Saturday the prices of such of the property as holders were willing to market, jumped suddenly from fifty to one hundred per cent, and even at that sellers were not as anxious as buyers. Whether or not any actual transfers were made could not be learned, but several investors were encountered Saturday who were looking for options on anything in the line of real estate they could get hold of in the neighborhood of Lackawanna and Adams avenues. One of these property owners, who was holding his building and lot at $12,000, declared Saturday he would not sell now for $25,000.

The longest effect of the story was felt throughout the whole city. Everywhere could be heard exclamations in "The Tribune's" contention that the removal of the steel mills now develops into a blessing in disguise. Business men depressed over the dullness resulting from the street car strike, forgot their losses in the contemplation of the general and permanent gain that was to come to the city. As the Telegram and Free Press put it, yesterday, in commenting on the effect of the story, the street car strike was, for the moment, the most important feature of the story is that telling of wealth and influence behind the new enterprise. These parties, possibly, knew little or nothing of Scranton, the naturally wealthy territory which it is the center and inducement it has to offer for profitable investment.

Whatever else has been accomplished in Cuba, the health of the island has been wonderfully improved.

In Havana the change has been magnificent; streets have been asphalted, sewers built, buildings whitewashed, and drug stores supplied with scientific, up-to-date preparations. The demand for Paine's celery compound has grown to enormous proportions.

The following statement from E. J. Molina, of the Havana Custom House, shows the standing Paine's has already secured among the most progressive, energetic people of Havana:

Havana, Cuba, Feb. 4, 1901.

Wells & Richardson Co.:

Dear Sirs—I take great pleasure in stating that I have used your Paine's celery compound, both while in the United States as well as in this city, and find it to be of wonderfully restorative power, especially in this enervating climate.

He went to the next house and was informed that Gray lived in the first house visited. He hastened back and ran upstairs just in time to find his man hurriedly pulling on his clothes. The Income which an estate will bring is always an important factor. Opportunities for safe and profitable investments are becoming more and more scarce, and the individual executor, guardian or trustee often has to leave money belonging to the estate idle because he cannot find a proper safe investment. In appointing a trust company as trustee or guardian you get the advantage of the financial experience and business ability of its officers and directors, together with large opportunities for investment which a financial institution always has. A trust company has special opportunities for putting out money on bond and mortgage.
