COMMONERS AND BOARD

CITY FATHERS IN A LONG-WINDED DISCUSSION.

Mr. Keller Protests Against the Passage of the Costello Resolution Because of Its Strictures on the Board of Trade—President Calpin and Others Defend the Resolution and Say the Board Deserves Condemnation—Time for Paying City Taxes to Be Extended.

In the presence of a large gallery and with twenty-eight members present, the common council last night spent nearly two hours in a discussion of the Costello resolution, adopted by select council a week ago. Some very wise, and otherwise, thoughts were unloosed. Another thought, expressed by a member who was drunk, could not be regarded, because his words were unintelligible. It is supposed, however, that it was an otherwise thought.

The Costello resolution criticizes the board of trade for passing a resolution with reference to the strike. The board of trade resolution referred to was adopted at the special meeting held behind closed doors a week ago Monday night, and re-adopted at the open regular meeting last Monday at noon. It reads as follows:

Believing that the lawless spirit shown in several parts of our city during the past few days is seriously injuring our business interests, reflecting on the character and law-abiding spirit of our citizens, and seriously timorizing the moral and commercial interests of the community; Resolved, That we enter our protest against all acts of lawlessness, such as obstructing the streets of our city, calling of the names of our fellow citizens, or using any other means of intimidation, or any other illegal ways, and we call upon the authorities of the city to enforce the law and maintain order, and pledge our hearty support and cooperation to assist in bringing about this desired end.

Mr. Keller opened the discussion by entering a vigorous protest against the passage of the resolution particularly the first part reflecting on the board of trade.

OBJECT OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Nothing can be accomplished, he said, by calling names. The board of trade is composed of men banded together for no purpose other than to subserve the best interests of the city. The board of trade resolution does not criticize anybody, and does not take sides. It is a great mistake, Mr. Keller maintained, for the council or the board of trade or any like body to take sides in a matter of this kind.

All the board of trade did in passing the resolution, Mr. Keller went on to say, was to protest against all acts of lawlessness. It contained no reflection on the law-abiding character of our citizens. Mr. Keller concluded by moving to strike out the paragraph referring to the board of trade and Mr. Patridge seconded the motion, adding that council would do wrong to pass a resolution reflecting on men who try to do all they can for the city and who have made such earnest efforts to settle the strike.

Mr. Keller declared the council ought to take sides, as representatives of the people, as it is now a fight of the people against the company.

Mr. Paine paid some high compliments to the board of trade and contended that the board's resolution reflected only on lawless men, and, on that account could not support a resolution which condemned a body of conservative representative business men for protesting against lawlessness.

Mr. Paine went on to relate that he ran across an Ohio county weekly a few days ago and was surprised and chagrined to find therein an article which would make its readers believe that people's lives were not safe riding on the cars or even walking the streets in Scranton and that we are nothing but a lawless mob.

Joseph E. Evans thought the board of trade was not above criticism and should not shrink from it. He believed the board deserving of condemnation.

MR. SYKES' POSER.

"If the Scranton board of trade supports law and order, why don't it look after these people who carry revolvers?" inquired Mr. Sykes. "If we carry revolvers, we will be arrested. These imports can carry them and wave them, though. Why don't the Scranton board of trade look into that?" No one attempted to answer Mr. Sykes' poser.

President Calpin took the floor to explain why he proposed to vote against Mr. Keller's amendment.

The board of trade did wrong to pass the resolution, Mr. Calpin believed, and he was glad there were only twenty-eight of its members present when the resolution was adopted. The action of the board in re-adopting the resolution at a larger meeting was for the purpose of pulling these twenty-eight out of a bad hole. The strike might have been settled before now, Mr. Calpin believed, if the board had attempted mediation at the time it was passing the resolution.

As worded, the resolution does not say much of Calpin's averred, but in referring to boycotting and the like it implies that it is the strikers who are the lawless ones referred to. Not for what it said, but for what it implied, the board should be censured.

Mr. Calpin added that if council should take sides there is no question as to which side they should take. The men have made all sorts of advances towards settling the strike, while the company has done nothing at all in this direction.

Mr. Keller was evidently disappointed keenly in President Calpin, and not a little perturbed at some of the chairman's expressions.

CAUSTIC REMARKS.

"That miserable resolution criticizes a lot of men who, when compared to the men who will vote for it, well, the men who will vote for it don't begin to have the interest in the city that they have," Mr. Keller's manner and tone, while delivering this, indicated that he had intended to say something caustic, but suddenly changed his mind and was charitable.

"What do the members of the board of trade care for your censures?" asked Mr. Keller, answering the question simultaneously with a snap of his fingers. "I am objecting to this because I do not want a body of which I am a member to have such a thing as this miserable resolution on its minutes."

Referring to Mr. Calpin's remark about taking sides, Mr. Keller, with some warmth, said: "When you say the wrong in this strike is all on one side, you don't know what you are talking about."

Joseph E. Evans refuted the statement of Mr. Keller that any member of the board of trade had the city's interests at heart more than he. The vote on the Keller motion to cut out the reference to the board of trade was then taken. It was as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. J. E. Evans, Spinden, Patrick, Paine, Barry, Keller, Schip—9.

Nays—Messrs. Clark, Joseph E. Evans, Bogert, W. W. Evans, Egan, W. Evans, A. L. Lewis, Hamilton, Conditon, McGivney, Baines, Healy, Sykes, Emmell, William Lewis, Fish, Joseph Barker, Connelly, Calpin—21.

Mr. Nagell moved to lay the resolution on the table because it was not for councils to take notice of the action of every independent body. This was lost by a vote of 8 to 20. Mr. Nagell being the only one to change from the majority to the minority.

Mr. Keller next attacked the resolution generally, saying that it was unwise to take sides. For the present, mediation seems hopeless, he said, but in a week from now it may be effective. Councils should remain independent that it might not destroy its usefulness as a mediator.

THE TIME TO TAKE SIDES.

President Calpin said he felt that way a week ago, but now he had come to the conclusion it was time to take sides. Here, Mr. Phillips broke out in a strenuous strike dissertation.

"The only way to settle the strike is to fire this man Silliman. It shows he doesn't know how to run a street car company, when you take your wife and children and get into the cars for a ride and what do you bump up against but farmers and hoodlums running the cars that will flirt with every woman on the car. Good men won't work for him."

Mr. Phillips was bent on explaining just what he meant, but Mr. Keller interrupted with a glad cry. "Ah! He's settled it. The strike is at an end. Phillips has it settled. Discharge Silliman and the thing is done. Some one get down and pay Mr. Silliman $100 or whatever he wants and tell him he is discharged."

Mr. Troy mumbled something at this juncture but his words were not understood at the front of the room.

Mr. Phillips, not to be squelched by Keller sarcastically launched forth in an approbation of Mr. Kemmerer and Mr. Dickson of the board of trade. Mr. Keller remarked that if Mr. Dickson were present he would say amen to everything that he said.

The motion to concur in the Costello resolution as it came from select council was then put and only a few voices were heard when "those opposed" were called to vote. No one took the trouble to call for the ayes and nays.

Mr. Galvin, for the special committee, appointed to confer with the solicitor regarding the power of the city to annual trolley franchises reported that the solicitor would require a couple of weeks to answer the questions submitted by the committee, as they entailed an examination of all the charters and franchises. The report was received and the committee continued.

REPORT OF MEDIATORS.

The report of the joint committee appointed to mediate in the strike was read and received and filed, without a word of comment. The report was similar to the one made in select council.

Among the measures introduced was an ordinance, by Mr. Curroll, providing for a board of electric railway safety, composed of three members, who are to examine all trolley car employees, with a view of ascertaining their qualifications, and making it a penal offense for a company to permit a man to work on a car who is not provided with a certificate issued by this board. It was referred for printing.

The ordinance is similar to the one defeated in select council last year. Other new measures were introduced, as follows:

Joseph E. Evans—An ordinance authorizing the use of $1,100.75 of unexpended balances for the purchase of new house equipment from the volume companies.

W. W. Evans—An ordinance for a sewer line at the corner of Jackson street and Rebecca avenue.

An ordinance for electric lights at the corner of Porteford street and Rebecca avenue, the corner of Third street and Port street, and on Evans court, between Scotland and Lafayette streets.

Mr. Galvin—An ordinance for two electric light on Front street.

Mr. Coleman—An ordinance providing for paying in front of the car property, on Penn avenue, by private contract.

Mr. Paine—An ordinance for electric lights at the corner of Ridge Row and Harrison avenue, and the corner of Ridge Row and Colfax avenue.

Mr. Connelly—An ordinance for lightposts at the corner of Webster avenue and Port street, and the corner of Prospect avenue and Reed street.

Ordinances passed third reading as follows: Appropriating funds for remodeling the common council chamber; committing the city to the payment of one-half the cost of recovering upper Lackawanna avenue; calling on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company to place a gatepost at the Bellevue place crossing; providing for two electric lights in the Second ward; transferring $180.25 to pay late taxes on the payment of city taxes until December 1 was concurred in.

No action was taken in the matter of decreasing the membership of the estimates committee.

Adjournment was made to next Thursday night.

WRIGHT GRANTED A DIVORCE.

His Wife Deserted Him for Another Man.

Court yesterday granted a divorce to Walter Wright from Mrs. Margaret Wright. The petitioner was represented by Attorney Charles E. Daniels.

The testimony showed that the couple were married in South Wales and came to this country, settling in West Scranton. There Mrs. Wright became acquainted with Thomas Graham and the two of them subsequently went to Wales, where they are now living as man and wife.

Above figure will secure the brand new modern house at 40 Prescott avenue. If purchase is made before November 1. The house contains eight rooms, besides bath-room, laundry, pantry, closets, etc. Best open plumbing, finest furnace in market and large hot water tank. Remember, this offer only good until November 1, and first come first served. W. T. Hackett, real estate dealer, Price Building, 126 Washington avenue.

DEATH OF THE REV. HIORNS

ONE OF BEST KNOWN CLERGYMEN OF THIS REGION.

Was Born in England in 1831 and Came to This Country in 1855. He Was Active in the Work of the Methodist Ministry Until About Fifteen Years Ago When His Health Broke Down—Funeral Will Be Held on Saturday Afternoon at Elm Park Church.

Rev. Richard Hiorns, a clergyman grown old in the service of the Master and who has spent the last fifty years in this city, died yesterday morning at his home on Gibson street, after a lingering illness.

Rev. Mr. Hiorns had been ill since 1885, when the condition of his health compelled him to give up the active work of the ministry but he was able to be about until a few months ago when he began to sink into a gradual decline, which resulted in his death yesterday.

He was born in Edmonton, England, on July 27, 1831, and was baptized in infancy, his parents being devout members of the Church of England. In his boyhood years he manifested deep religious convictions and entered the British and Foreign normal school in London at an early age to fit himself for teaching. He later secured an appointment as master of the British Free school which had been established in Paris, France, under the patronage of the British ambassador and took charge in 1852.

ENTERED BUSINESS.

He remained in charge until 1859 when he left the school and established himself in business, marrying two years later, Mrs. Clarisse Leantine Laurent, a Parisienne, who died in 1864. While in Paris, Mr. Hiorns became a Methodist and had charge of the music in the English Wesleyan chapel for several years. In 1865 he was given a license as a local preacher and when he came to this country in 1865 he secured authority to preach in New York state.

In April, 1866, he was married to Miss Emily Frances, the eldest daughter of Seth Valley. At the Wyoming conference held in Owego in 1866 he was designated as supply preacher at Flemingtonville. In 1867 he was sent to Newport, Pa., and later had charge at Boston, Plymouth, Jersey, Thompson, Peckville, Yatesville, Danby, N. Y., and Narrowsburg, N. Y. While serving at Yatesville, Danby, N. Y., and Narrowsburg since that time he has not been able to take an appointment, but for several years from 1885 to 1887 he occasionally acted as supply at churches in this county and vicinity.

HIS EARNEST DEVOTION.

All who knew the dead man will remember him for his simple faith in the promises of the Saviour and for his earnest devotion to His cause. He had the tenderest of pity for the poor and unfortunate and during the last few years, when he was weakened by the ravages of disease so as to be barely able to walk about, he spent many hours in visiting the sick and lowly and giving to them hope and encouragement.

He is survived by a wife and two children, L. E. Hiorns and Mrs. Charles Edwards, both of this city. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at the Elm Park church. Friends desirous of viewing the remains may do so at Jones' undertaking rooms on North Washington avenue tomorrow between the streets of 10:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock, and interment will be made in the Dunmore cemetery. The casket will not be opened in the church.

A MERITED APPOINTMENT.

W. L. Pryor Is Made District Passenger Agent of D. & H.

William L. Pryor, who has been for eight years past the local passenger agent for the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, has been appointed district passenger agent of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad company, with headquarters in this city. Mr. Pryor succeeds H. W. Cross, who was recently appointed to an important position in the passenger department of the Erie Railroad company.

Mr. Pryor's new appointment comes to him after fifteen years of labor in the railroad world during which time he has risen from an assistant telegraph operator on the famous Mauch Chunk switchback railroad. He is a young man, being but 33 years old, and if he displays the same untiring energy and zeal which have marked his career so far, he will undoubtedly advance to higher positions of trust in the company by which he is now employed.

FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Both Parties to the Street Car Strike Settling Down for a Long Contest.

The street car men and the trolley company are both declaring they have no expectation of an amicable settlement on one side being reached and that the thing must be fought to a finish.

The strikers' executive committee was in session all of yesterday afternoon, and at the conclusion of the meeting it was given out that work had begun on plans for a six months' campaign.

The company made its first attempt at running cars outside the city, yesterday. A number of cars were dispatched to Carbondale with imported crews, and in the course of a few days the company intends to have them running on schedule time, between Carbondale and Peckville. The line from Scranton to Peckville and the other out-of-town routes will be gradually opened up, until cars are running as usual throughout the whole county.

The Marvone colliery local of the United Mine Workers made the strikers a donation of $100 and agreed to give them $100 a month as long as the strike continued. Local 1296, of Moosic, also sent a liberal donation.

There was no disorder reported yesterday.

At a meeting of Local No. 68, National Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, held Wednesday, resolutions were adopted endorsing the strike, promising moral and financial assistance and pledging the members of the union to refrain from riding on the cars.

Howard Davis, Willie Anderson and Wendell Phillips, three small boys, residing on Summer avenue, were arrested yesterday by Special Agent Stephen Dyer, of the Scranton Railway company, for throwing stones at a Lafayette car on Tuesday and breaking four windows.

They admitted their guilt when arraigned before Magistrate Howe, and were let off on payment of the costs and a promise on the part of their parents to pay $10 to the railway company.

A committee consisting of D. W. Evans, James Roche and Ed Longacre, walked on the streets last night and presented resolutions of sympathy and support adopted by Tent No. 253, Knights of the Maccabees.

POLICE AND ALDERMEN.

Johnie Harding was yesterday arrested at the instance of Joe Webster, the lunch-wagon man, who charged her with defrauding him out of a board bill. The case was settled in Alderman Binkley's office, before any evidence was heard.

M. C. Donohoe, the well-known contractor, and his two employees, John King and Michael Conroy, were held in jail on Tuesday night by Alderman Binkley for the larceny of five loads of stone from a quarry near Canfield park, owned by M. J. Ruddy.

Received a Fatal Shock in the American Locomotive Company's Shop, Cliff Street.

James Carden, a young man employed as a helper at the American Locomotive company's works on Cliff street, was killed by a shock from an arc electric light, at 8:30 o'clock last night.

The carbon on the lamp at the place he was working became damaged and the light was extinguished. By prodding the lamp with a stick the carbon can be ordinarily re-adjusted.

Carden thoughtlessly seized a long piece of iron with which to do the prodding and proceeded to do so while standing on the sheet iron which composes the floor of the shop at that point.

The moment the iron touched the lamp he was thrown unconscious to the floor, and half an hour later expired.

Telephone messages were sent for physicians and the Lackawanna hospital ambulance, but he was beyond medical aid.

The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Cluick and removed to the Carden home on Prospect avenue, South Scranton. He was twenty-six years of age and unmarried.
