The new foundry of the Carbondale Metal Working company in Russell Park, that large tract of land in and around the old swamp near the tracks of the Honesdale branch of the Delaware and Hudson road, was the magnet which drew over a thousand' per-brick yard baseball field and cover considerable ground. The structure is of wood, the roof being covered with water proof material. The front section facing the city is of one story and will be used for moulding purposes. The rear part is of two stories, in which the engine-room, machine shop and offices are located on the first floor, and on the second floor are the B. Lewis. pattern shop and shipping room. The latter place faces the railroad and is most conveniently located for the loading of heavy material to the cars The switch runs within a few feet of the large doors of this department.

Persons who had not visited that section inside of a year or two were struck at the wonderful transformation of the old swamp site into building lots. The change is noticeable from the township school house. In place of the old beaten path to the founder site a wide road in fine condition has been made from Park street, direct to the foundry site, and a passable vagon road even farther. The stone for the foundation of the foundry was all secured from that part in the close vicinity of the "Cold Spring" grove termed the "Rocks," Telephone lines have been extended from the city proerty to the new structure and the shapely poles are on the right hand side of the road the whole distance. The old ice house of the "Palace Creamery" has been removed from its former place near Chapman's field to the center of the "Creamery's" pond, a short distance to the rear of the foundry, In place of the slaughter house Butcher Hick's near the pond the ground it occupied is now used as an extension to the pond and the slaughter house is now over two hundred yards back of the old location. One house, a two story structure, [

Lots which were bought for fifty dollars could not be secured now for less than two hundred dollars, and several offers of the latter sum have already been refused by property owners, who are of the opinion that more industries
