CORNER-STONE OF A NEW CHURCH

West Scranton to Add to Its Fine Edifices.

Interesting Exercises on the Site of the Proposed Embury Methodist Episcopal Church at South Main Avenue and Bryn Mawr Street. They Were in Charge of Rev. Austin Griffin, D. D., the Presiding Elder of the Wyoming District. Corner Stone Is the Same That Was Laid Under the Hampton Street Church Ten Years Ago—Articles It Contained—John Rogers Charged with Embezzlement—Other West Side News.

REV. JAMES BENNINGER.

The corner-stone of the new Embury Methodist Episcopal church, at the corner of South Main avenue and Bryn Mawr street, was laid with appropriate services yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large number of people. The services were in charge of Rev. Austin Griffin, D. D., presiding elder of the Wyoming district.

After a hymn by the congregation the exercises were formally opened with prayer by Rev. S. F. Mathews, pastor of the First Baptist church. This was followed with the reading of the one hundred and thirty-second psalm responsively by the assemblage and Rev. H. C. McDermott, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. The choir then rendered an anthem and the scripture lesson from I Cor. iii: 9-23, was read by Rev. J. P. Moffat, D. D., of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church.

Another hymn was sung and the address of the occasion was then delivered by Rev. C. M. Giffin, D. D., of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church. He referred to the moral situation of the church of today and of Christ being the chief foundation stone upon which Christianity is based. He complimented the congregation on the selection of such a delightful location, and said the erection of such a handsome building as they propose erecting is a sign of the spiritual growth of the times.

Dr. Giffin's remarks were attentively listened to and were in touch with the spirit of the occasion. After another anthem by the choir Rev. James Benninger, the pastor, explained the object of the enrollment of names of persons who contributed one dollar or more towards the new church and when he had finished receiving the contributions one hundred and twenty-five names were placed on the list.

The copper box was then sealed and placed in the corner stone, and the stone placed in position. Dr. Giffin read the corner stone laying service and formally laid it in the name of the church.

Prayer was then offered by Rev. F. P. Doty, of the Cedar Avenue Methodist church, and the exercises were brought to a close with the singing of the doxology by the congregation and benediction by Rev. Benninger, the pastor.

The corner stone is the same one laid in the foundation of the Hampton street church ten years ago and was removed from its former position to the new church site. It will be topped off with another stone of smaller size. The articles taken out of the box in the corner stone of the old church were as follows:

The daily papers of Scranton bearing date of Aug. 6, 1891. The following Scranton papers were found: Scranton Republican, Scranton Tribune, Truth and two papers not published now, The People and the Scranton Mail. The Tribune was then a four-page paper. Claude G. Whetstone was editor, and E. P. Kingsbury, business manager. The first column contains the speech of the queen of England in relation to arbitration between Great Britain and America. The leading editorials were: "Pennsylvania Is for Blaine," "Growth of the Grand Army," "School House Architecture," "Victoria's Speech."

Other papers were the Christian Advocate, of New York. Dr. J. M. Buckley was editor then, as now; the Northern Christian Advocate, Syracuse, N. Y.; the Epworth Herald, July 25, special college edition, advising young men if possible to attend college.

Conference minutes of 1891. Manley S. Hard, D. D., was then presiding elder of the Wyoming district. The Methodist churches in this city were manned by the following pastors: Asbury, Rev. G. A. Cure; First church, W. H. Pierce; Hampton street, H. B. Benedict; Park Place, John F. Jones; Providence, M. D. Fuller; Simpson, L. C. Floyd; South Scranton, J. W. Nicholson. The present pastor, Rev. Benninger, according to the minutes, was then a local preacher not yet having graduated from school, but supplying the Harvey's Lake charge. A leaflet published by the pastor of the charge, H. B. Benedict, containing church notes, Epworth league topic card, a discipline of the church, copper coins.

All of these and the following additional papers and articles were placed in the stone:

Scranton Tribune, Scranton Republican, the Truth, the Times, Christian Advocate, Wilkes-Barre Record, directory of the church, containing all the names of officers and members, corner stone laying ceremony, the honor roll, containing all the names of persons who contributed one dollar or more.

The new church is re-named from the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church and is an important factor in the religious life of the lower end of West Scranton. The pastor, Rev. James Benninger, whose picture is here printed, is one of the most popular and energetic preachers in the Wyoming conference and has been very successful since he came to Scranton.

Wheelmen's Country Dance.

The members of the Electric City Wheelmen held a country dance and stag social at the club house last evening, which proved to be a corker for fun. A large number of the boys "made-up" as farmers for the event, and, headed by Fidler Whitbeck, from Awayback, did a grand march and old fashioned country dance in great style.

Some of the disguises were very cleverly arranged, particularly those worn by Duncan Hall, Edward Morse, Adolph Bruning, Harry McCracken, Ed. Smith, Andrew Sherrett and others.

The judges were W. Gaylord Thomas, Charles R. Pitcher and Morgan Thomas. After much difficulty they awarded the first prize—a glassful of cider—to "Farmer" Smith. The second prize—a pint of peanuts—was given to "Uncle" Sherrett and the consolation prize went to W. Hayden Evans for the worst make-up of the bunch. Honorable mention was made of Harry McCracken, who was the only "lady" present.

The judges were each assessed thirteen cents for "the campaign fund," and after the contest was over an informal programme of events followed. Andy Sherrett gave an imitation of a man doing a Highland Fling, Jones and McCracken did a skirt dance, and eight members of the social committee went through an old-time square dance.

This was followed by an apple-eating contest and the serving of a lunch by Caterer Robinson. The menu consisted of peanuts and cider, sandwiches and coffee, pickles and milk and other odd combinations. The music for the occasion was furnished by Fidler Whitbeck, who was seated on a barrel during the dances.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

John Rogers was committed to the county jail yesterday by Alderman Kelly in default of $1,000 bail on charges of embezzlement and larceny by bailee.

Rogers was arrested on a warrant issued some time ago at the instance of the Langdon Ink company, for whom he worked. He is charged with falsifying orders which he turned in and obtaining commissions under false pretenses and failing to account for moneys advanced to him.

A warrant which was issued on June 26 against Rogers, at the instance of John P. Mullady, of Carbondale, from whom he obtained a horse and buggy order false pretenses, was also served on him yesterday. He was unable to furnish bail and went to jail.

Events of This Evening.

The West Side Driving club will hold a special meeting this evening at C. C. Deckelnick's cigar store, North Main avenue. All members are requested to be present.

Grand Regent W. H. Dinckenmiller, of Sunbury, will pay an official visit to Lackawanna council, No. 1133, Royal Arcanum, this evening. Several large delegations from other councils are expected to be present.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Robert Bradley, of Pittston, spent yesterday with friends and relatives in town.

Howard Davis, bookkeeper at the Hillside Home, and Will Robertson, one of the attendants, were in town last evening.

Miss Edna Williams, of south Main avenue, will attend the Cornell-Princeton foot ball game at Ithaca, N. Y., tomorrow, as the guest of her brother, Tudor R. Williams, a student at Cornell.

Beginning with Monday evening, November 11, the druggists of West Scranton have agreed to close their stores each night in the week, except Saturday, at 10 o'clock. This rule will remain in force until April 1 next, when, on account of the soda water business, late closing will again be in vogue.

The streets were filled with merrymakers last evening in honor of the occasion of Hallowe'en. A large number of parties were held, all of which were attended by young people in fantastic make-up. The youngsters paraded up and down Main avenue, blowing horns, doing cake-walks and other pranks.

We open this morning a new assortment of Ladies' Raglans, Coats and Jackets, and Misses' Coats. Mears & Hagen.

The members of St. Cecilia's Catholic Total Abstinence and Benevolent society, assisted by committees from St. Paul's Pioneer corps and St. Leo's Battalion, conducted a ribbon social in Mears' hall last evening. It was in charge of Mrs. Lasher, Misses Bina Bolton, Nellie McAuliffe, Margaret McAloon and Nellie Gerrity. Dance music was furnished by the Star orchestra.

NORTH SCRANTON NEWS.

Marriage of Miss Minnie Klees and Joseph Bisbing, at Home of the Bride's Mother.

The residence of Mrs. Klees, on Oak street, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, her youngest daughter, Minnie, and Joseph Bisbing, popular young people, being the contracting parties. The home was elaborately decorated with palms and cut flowers, the tables were tastefully and abundantly provided, and a large company of guests enjoyed the occasion. Prof. and Mrs. Cousins added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening by choice musical contributions.

Little Hazel Hoag, carrying elegant flowers, ushered in the bridal party—Misses Ida Bisbing and Frankie Potter, David Watkins and Edna Klees, and the bride and groom. They grouped themselves before a large fern bank in the parlor, where Rev. G. A. Cure performed the marriage ceremony.

The following are the guests: Hon. and Mrs. A. A. Vosburg, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Chappel, Mr. and Mrs. Crellan, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McConnell and others, including immediate relatives. From out of town: Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Howe, of Lake Ariel; Mrs. George Fisher and Theresa and Grace Sinquat, of Waymart; Mrs. T. B. Gillett, of Ledgedale; Mrs. T. J. Hoag and Hazel, of Throop; Mrs. T. J. Davis, of Shenandoah; Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Erwin, of Carbondale; Miss Emma Barbour, of Fleetville; Mr. and Mrs. William Klees, Edna and James Klees, Mrs. John Orgill, Miss Lottie Winters, Mrs. Joseph Robinson, Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, Miss Effie Balliett, Cornelius Brunskill, John Minnig, Misses Rose Guther, Ida Igler, Myrtle Price, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bisbing, Harry, Mabel Burton and Dewey Bisbing, Mrs. Amy Potter, Ethel Holmes.

Fine Entertainment.

The concert given in the North Main Avenue tabernacle last night attracted a very large audience and was greatly enjoyed.

The artists were Mrs. E. Brundage, Miss Sarah E. Price, Professor John T. Watkins and Professor Jones. The graphic pictures shown by Rev. Thos. De Cruchy were one of the features of the entertainment.

TOLD IN A FEW LINES.

A pleasant Hallowe'en party was held last night at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association. It was in charge of Miss Selby.

The West Ridge colliery was idle Wednesday, owing to the breaking of part of the machinery.

John Matthewson, of Parker street, was struck in the right eye Wednesday by a flying piece of coal. It is feared he will lose the sight of the eye.

We open this morning a new assortment of Ladies' Raglans, Coats and Jackets, and Misses' Coats. Mears & Hagen.

Mrs. O. Myers, wife of Alderman Myers, has returned from a visit to friends in Scott.

Miss Benta Carrington, of Susquehanna, is spending a week among friends in this place.

The following course of lectures and entertainments will be given in the chapel of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church: Nov. 7, Theodore F. Clark, "A Kingsley Journey from New York to Central Bolia"; Nov. 14, Mr. Willard D. Hoose, impersonator, "David Copperfield"; Nov. 21, Rev. I. J. Lansing, "Around the Fire of a Hunter's Camp"; Dec. 5, to be announced. Course ticket, one dollar.

We open this morning a new assortment of Ladies' Raglans, Coats and Jackets, and Misses' Coats. Mears & Hagen.

Dressed poultry, Green Ridge Market.

Oysters and clams, Green Ridge Market.

Miss Helen Lansing entertained a number of her young friends with a masquerade party at her home on Sunset avenue last evening. Hallowe'en games were played and a delightfully social evening spent. The guests were: Margaret Woodruff, Helen Marsh, Bessie Hawley, Beatrice Wilson, Jean Wilson, Hazel Fahey, Margaret Jones, Anna Shoemaker, and Allen Woodruff, Leland Marsh, Norton Hawley, Charles Kear, Warren Van Blarcom, Stanley Hurley, Clarence Jones, Warren Foley and Archie Williams.

Agents Chase & Sanborn's Fast Coffee, Green Ridge Market.

Miss Beatrice Wescott, of New York street, entertained the following friends at a Hallowe'en party last evening: Olive Price, Jessie Shoemaker, Blanche Oakley, Florence Morly, Lillian Foster, Louise Armbrust, Mamie Davis, Laura Tarbell, Angie Shannon, Lester Yost, Stewart Slegle, Boyde Perry, William Connell, Howard Davis, Kenneth Ramsey, Howard Postlewaite, George Fields, Fred Warren.

Fruits and vegetables, groceries and provisions, Green Ridge Market.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

The writer yesterday received a letter from William Ratter, a former well-known Scrantonian, who is at present a member of the Eighteenth regiment, United States army, and stationed in the Philippine islands. Mr. Ratter was formerly first sergeant of Company B, Thirteenth regiment, and when the war started with Spain enlisted in the First Engineer's corps, with which regiment he served in Porto Rico. He was evidently fascinated with military life, and after being home a few months, he enlisted in the regular army for three years. His term of enlistment will expire next year, and Mr. Ratter says he may locate permanently in Manila.

We open this morning a new assortment of Ladies' Raglans, Coats and Jackets, and Misses' Coats. Mears & Hagen.

Fillz, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hog, fell at the home of his parents, 1571 Pittston avenue, yesterday, and sustained a fracture of the right arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. A. J. Walsh.

PARK PLACE.

The ladies of Court Street Methodist Episcopal church are now preparing to open a wholesale clothing, furniture, shoe, hardware, grocery store, in fact a first-class rummage sale department store. Goods solicited; needed by them. Sale about Nov. 18. Look out for the sign.

Among the many pleasant affairs held at Park Place, was a birthday surprise tendered Mrs. Fred Thomas, at her home on Diamond avenue, Wednesday. A very social time was spent by all, followed by an excellent supper. Her many friends presented her with silver knives and forks, berry spoons and napkins, that she might be amply supplied to cater to them should they come again. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. C. T. Miller, Mrs. Bloom, Mrs. C. Terwilliger, Mrs. T. Terwilliger, Mrs. F. Pelmatier, Mrs. A. Jenkins, Mrs. Bedell, Mrs. B. Bedell, Mrs. J. S. Pritchard, Mrs. William Bryant, Mrs. B. Holly, Mrs. F. Wrenn, Mrs. William Mills, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. William Lewis, Mrs. E. F. Miller, Mrs. Wilmuth, of Honesdale; Mrs. A. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, Mr. E. Thomas, Misses Grace Thomas, Louisa Thomas, Romayne Wrenn, Olive Wrenn, Reba Jenkins.

DUNMORE.

A Hallowe'en party was tendered George Kellam, at his home on Grove street, last night. The usual spook night diversions were indulged in until a late hour, when dainty refreshments were served. At an early hour the many guests left for their homes with many pleasant recollections of the evening.

The police committee of councils held a secret session on Wednesday night, when evidence in the cases of the two suspended policemen was heard. It is likely that action will not be taken until the matter is referred to the council at its next regular meeting on Monday night.

The special revival meetings at the Methodist church are being well attended and a deepening interest is evident. The short and interesting sermons by the pastor are being much enjoyed and much good is being accomplished. An enlarged choir furnishes special music for the meetings.

Mrs. Edward Waitel and son, Verner, of Brook street, are at Buffalo.

We open this morning a new assortment of Ladies' Raglans, Coats and Jackets, and Misses' Coats. Mears & Hagen.

Fred Smith, a former resident here, who left for the west twenty-eight years ago, is renewing acquaintances in town. Mr. Smith is now one of Kansas' most successful farmers.

Ladies' Waist Materials

Of Surpassing Beauty And Rare Excellence...

Their variety is infinite and the care that has been expended in reaching as close to perfection as can be expected from human art and skill, shows a higher development of textile beauty than has ever before been attained.

French Flannels Are Prime Favorites This Season

For Ladies' Waists. The delicacy of their tints and colorings, combined with their softness and evenness of texture, render them peculiarly suitable for this purpose, and as the price is never exorbitant, while their wearing qualities are matchless, it is not surprising that they should be much sought after. Persian Stripes and Figures, Polka Dots, Plain Stripes, Mixed Designs, Plain Colors, Etc., give a hint at the prevailing styles which are now on display for your approval.

Special Waist Cloths in Albatross, Serges, Melrose, Granite, Flannel,
