

THE MODERN HARDWARE STORE.

STERLING RANGE

"Has No Equal."

The only range in the world that actually does all that is claimed for it.

Its public record proves our claim.

Foot & Shear Co.
119 N. Washington Ave

Children's and Infants' Winter Coats

Attractive novelties for fall, in the new colors and cuts.

The Baby Bazaar,
510 Spruce Street.

NIGHT SCHOOL

Lackawanna Business College. Good light. Good instruction. Prices right.

Nothing

Is too dainty for us to handle. The costliest lace is safe here while being cleaned, as if you were superintending it yourself.

Lackawanna Laundry.

308-310 Penn. Avenue. A. B. Warman.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Joseph Smoyer, of Idaho, is the guest of relatives on North Ninth street.

David Williams, of Oak street, has returned from a visit in Cleveland.

Mr. Andrew B. Holmes, of South Main avenue, is critically ill at Battle Creek, Mich.

Thomas Moran, of Hampton street, has returned from a trip to Cleveland, Ohio.

John A. Foster, of Archibald, a student at Lehigh university, is home to vote.

Mrs. Esther Cahoon, of Philadelphia, is the guest of her daughter, who resides on this side.

Hon. T. Jefferson Reynolds, of South Main avenue, has returned home from a business trip to Danville.

Mr. H. H. Hester, of Newport News, Va., who has been the guest of S. T. Jones, of Monroe avenue, left for home yesterday.

David M. Jones, of North Eleventh avenue, has returned home from a six weeks' visit with friends in New York, N. Y.

Commissioner General of Immigration T. V. Posnerly came up from Washington, yesterday, to exercise his right of suffrage.

Initiations have been held for the coming week of Edward Fuller Nettleton, of the city, and Miss Josephine Sisson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frank Sisson, of Bluff, N. Y. The ceremony will be performed in the Presbyterian church, Bluff, on Tuesday night, Nov. 13.

Third National Bank Lends Money at Five Per Cent.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Third National Bank the following resolution was unanimously adopted, to wit:

Resolved, That the cashier is hereby authorized to make loans to all depositors of this bank at the rate of five per cent. discount per annum.

The year ending November 1 has been the most prosperous year in the history of the institution.

The usual semi-annual dividend of 10 per cent. has been declared payable November 15.

$25,000 has been added to the surplus, making it now $550,000, and over $8,000 has been charged off of its building account, leaving the banking house standing on the books at a valuation of $30,000.

The bank was organized in March, 1872, and in a prospectus issued at that time it was stated that the bank was "projected in the interest of our business community," and in all the years of its history, that aim has been well carried out, as is evidenced not only by its liberality to its customers in good times but also by the fact that in times of stringency and panic, it has always held itself in readiness to be of assistance to the business public, and now the new move indicated by its reduction in the rate of discount is taken because it desires its patrons to share more fully in its prosperity.

FIRE IN GRAND CENTRAL.

A slight fire occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the kitchen of the Grand Central hotel, on Lackawanna avenue, but a still alarm brought out the firemen, who succeeded in extinguishing the flames before much damage was done.

The hot ashes from the fire-box in the stove were spilled on the floor, and ignited the woodwork, burning through to the rafters, but the flames were confined to a small area, and the damage resulting was trifling.

Coursen's Print Butter
And Jersey Eggs—best. Coursen's

The Geysers of Yellowstone Park

See and hear the most remarkable thing that a student who comes to the CONSERVATORY with its knowledge of the status, at the end of the first year should know about the geysers, and from all keys, Major and Director.

E. G. Coursen

BIG HAUL BY A PORCH CLIMBER

RESIDENCE OF REESE G. BROOKS IS RANSACKED.

Daring Thief Gets Away with $2,500 Worth of Jewelry and $140 in Cash While the Family Is at Dinner—Climbed the Porch to the Second Floor, Loads Himself Down with Valuables and Gets Away, All Inside of Half an Hour—Ignored Bulky Articles.

Some time between 6 and 6:30 o'clock last evening, while the family of Reese G. Brooks were at dinner, a second-story thief entered their home, at Mulberry street and Quincy avenue, and made off with $2,500 worth of jewelry and $140 in cash. Among the articles taken were the following:

Solitaire diamond.

Large crescent brooch of pearls and diamonds.

Pin set with a large amethyst surrounded by diamonds.

Two gentlemen's solid diamond rings.

Lady's solid diamond ring.

Lady's ring, with a diamond set in pearls.

Lady's ring, with two large diamonds.

Lady's ring, with small amethysts and diamonds.

Lady's ring, with emerald surrounded by diamonds.

Lady's gold watch, set with diamonds.

Lady's gold watch chain, with turquoise slide.

Manicule set of silver, set with amethysts.

Number of silver toilet and fancy articles.

The theft was one of the most daring imaginable. On the street corner at the Brooks house there are eight, and in the rear of the lot occupied jointly by the houses of Mr. Brooks and his son-in-law, Willard Matthews, is another eight, which has been maintained there at private expense since the Matthews house was razed and ransacked during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Matthews in Mexico.

MUCH TRAVELED STREET.

In those days when pedestrianism is so popular, it is safe to say that, between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening, a thousand persons pass the Brooks residence. The steps at the front entrance of the house are boarded up, because of repairs to the porch that have been going on for a week.

Despite the brightness of the surroundings, the stream of pedestrians, the lights in the house, the large household, and the fact that no one now enters the house at the front, the thief made his way to the second floor, by the outside, by climbing to the top of the porch, spent probably a quarter of an hour ransacking the sleeping apartments, and got out again by the way he came without attracting attention.

The point selected for the ascent to the second floor was in a recess formed by the end of the porch and a projection of the house, with which the end of the porch forms a right angle. This is at the southeast corner of the house. It is the only bit of the premises not searched by the rays of one or the other of the are lights.

How the top of the porch was reached is not known. A long, slender piece of moulding, picked up, supposedly, from the porch when the repairs are going on, was found leaning against a banister in the nook at which the ascent was made. The belief is that this piece of moulding was used to lift and fasten on the top of the porch a rope ladder, or possibly a rope with a hook attached.

The top of the porch being gained, a window opening on the hallway was raised and access given to all the second-story rooms.

ONLY ONE ESCAPED.

Every room excepting one was ransacked. This excepted room was the one occupied by John H. Brooks. That it was not entered is explained either by the fact that the thief feared to walk in because of its being directly over the dining room, or else because he left it for the last and was frightened away before finishing his work. In this room are displayed several hundred dollars' worth of silver cups and other trophies won by John H. Brooks at golf and other contests. Not all of them are bulky and the smallest of them are the most valuable. They would undoubtedly have been seized upon had they come within the thief's reach of the thief.

Most of the booty was secured from the drawer of a small table standing in a corner of Mrs. Brooks' bedroom. The thin, soft-wood bottom of the drawer was pried out and the contents, probably, allowed to drop to the floor. The plush cases containing the different articles of jewelry were left behind after their contents had been extracted. One pin had become caught in the lining of the case and defied ready extraction. The thief could not waste any time on it, and accordingly contented himself with the diamond setting, which was released by prying away the prongs holding it in place.

The thief religiously eschewed everything bulky. The manicule set found on Mrs. Brooks' dressing case comprised the largest articles he would deign to carry. A mother-of-pearl paper cutter, with a small silver ornament at the end of the handle, was lying on an escritoire. Mr. Thief broke off and pocketed the silver ornament, and considerably left the useful and incidentally bulky—portion of the article behind.

ALL SMALL ARTICLES.

A gilet chamber, Mr. Brooks, room, and a servant's room in the rear were

Special.

The Prendergast Store

You can buy Chocolate Creams at 16c per pound. Coursen's old-fashioned Chocolate Creams, 20c per lb. Fancy Mixed Chocolates, 30c (equal to Alligretti). Chandler & Rudd Sunshine Kisses, 25c per pound. Salt Water Taffy, 15c per pound—only Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at these prices.

E. G. Coursen

all ransacked, and every small article of value lying on mantles, tables, dressing cases or in bureau drawers, were carried away. Just what all is missing could not be told last night.

The most concern was felt over the loss of Mrs. Brooks' jewelry. Some of the articles, especially the diamond-studded watch, which was a gift, she prized beyond any ordinary money value, and their loss caused her much regret. Only a short time before going down to dinner she removed a diamond ring she had been wearing and placed it in the drawer the thief was then waiting to empty.

Mrs. Brooks was the last to come down to dinner. It was a few minutes after 6 o'clock when she left her room. Her son, John, had an early evening engagement and left the table at 6:30 o'clock to dress. He went up the rear steps whistling. Nothing particular attracted his attention. He entered his room and closed the door, and while he was still engaged in dressing the other members of the family discovered the ransacked rooms. It is believed the thief made off when he heard John's whistling on the rear stairway.

The police were notified and furnished with a description of the stolen articles. There is no clue to the identity of the thief or thieves, except a very meagre description of two suspicious-looking men whom John Brooks saw standing at the corner as he entered the house, at 6 o'clock, and who attracted his attention by their slinking appearance.

The police were notified and furnished with a description of the stolen articles. There is no clue to the identity of the thief or thieves, except a very meagre description of two suspicious-looking men whom John Brooks saw standing at the corner as he entered the house, at 6 o'clock, and who attracted his attention by their slinking appearance.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Election officers and Republican committeemen of the county are requested to telephone the result of the count to the Tribune tonight as soon as it is completed. Old phone number, 104-3; new phone, 1617.

SIX MILLION MORTGAGE.

Filed Yesterday by New Telephone Combine in the Office of Recorder of Deeds Bonn.

A $6,000,000 mortgage was filed yesterday with Recorder of Deeds Emil Bonn, by J. Marshall Wright, of Allentown, representing the Consolidated Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

It is given by this company to the Equitable Trust company, of Philadelphia, to protect the bonds issued for the purchase of the seven telephone companies recently brought into combination.

These companies are the Lackawanna, of Scranton; Peoples, of Wilkes-Barre; Anthracite, of Hazleton; Danielsville, of Danielsville; State Bell, of Slatington; Lehigh, of Allentown, and the Interstate, or long distance company, which connects these various new independent companies.

The mortgage will be recorded in every county in which any of the combined companies operate.

The mortgage covers all the property of all the companies. The bonds which it protects bear $2,000 worth of revenue stamps.

FOR M'KINLEY MEMORIAL.

Members of City Police Force Subscribe One Dollar Each.

The following members of the police force of the city of Scranton, Pa., herewith subscribe $1.00 each to the McKinley Memorial fund:

Superintendent—Frank Bading, Jr.
Captains—Thomas L. Miller, John J. City Detective—Lora E. De.
Sergeants—Robert Deier, Charles Bolegney, Reese G. Jones, Richard Edwards.
Lieutenants—James Freney, Peter Zang, Anson Palmer, John Davis.
Patrolmen—Charles A. Peay, John Malott, S. E. Stear, M. J. Wadell, William Gieselle, Geo. W. Jones, Adam Pandt, Christian Rose, Joe P. Oliniano, Charles G. Neils, James Hart, J. D. Thomas, K. Peters, John McCalligan, Conrad Macker, William H. Burge, William Matthews, Thomas R. Thomas, James E. Thomas, John Shty, Finley Ross, Jr., Wells Mackendry, John Shty, John Mollala, John McMillen, Peter Hegarty, Thomas Conner, Thomas Lowry, Charles Weller, Jr., Harry Elias, Edw. Kaine, Thomas Collins, Louis Gierlich, John A. Joller, Thomas Connolly, Patrick May, John Adamson, David Parry, Thomas Potter.

Total—$90.

Free Round Trip Transportation for All Points.

Within twenty miles of Scranton, on every photo order, of $3 or more, placed with Schriever, while the street car strike is on. No reason why you should put off sitting for pictures. The weather is fine—buses and steam roads are running.

Vote the straight Republican ticket.

MR. ROCHE STOPPED WORK.

Will Not Allow Railway Company to Make Changes at Present.

Employees of the Scranton Railway company were yesterday stopped by Director of Public Works Roche from making certain changes in the switches at the corner of Madison avenue and Mulberry street until such time as the director carefully examines the plans of the proposed changes and ascertains whether or not it will make traffic dangerous or block up the street too much.

The company proposes reopening the switch tunnel from Mulberry street onto Madison avenue, south of the former thoroughfare, thus allowing the Petersburg cars to be brought into the central city down Madison avenue to Spruce street.

There Is a Certain Uncertainty About Any Election Day

where the people elect any national, state or civic officers. We cannot hazard a Guess on the Result.

but can state, and positively, too, which would be elected the most popular line of Blank Books in the world if there were to be a vote taken tomorrow.

It would be 16 oz. to the lb., 36 in. to the yard, 25 sheets (100 pages), to the quire, known everywhere by the name of Standard Blank Books.

People everywhere recognize the superiority of honest men for political offices and honest goods for business offices.

WE SELL ONLY THIS line of Books—about 200 numbers.

R. E. Prendergast
207 Washington Ave

We Also Make Books to Order and Guarantee Them. Let Us Estimate on Your New Set—You Will Come Back Again—They All Do.

ON THE EVE OF THE ELECTION

ALL CANDIDATES APPEAR TO BE CONFIDENT.

Chairman H. L. Taylor, of the Republican County Committee, Says the Republican County and State Tickets Will Sweep the County. Chairman Hoban, of the Democratic Committee, is Also Confident That the Candidates He Represents Will Be Chosen—Even Hitchcock Says Victory.

The ticket to vote today:

State Supreme Court—William P. Potter.
State Treasurer—Frank G. Harris.
Additional Law Judge—J. W. Carpenter.
County Controller—E. A. Jones.
County Coroner—Dr. J. J. Roberts.
County Surveyor—George E. Stevenson.

The indications are that the entire Republican ticket will get pluralities tomorrow, ranging from 1,200 to 2,500, said County Chairman H. L. Taylor last evening. "I base that estimate," he continued, "on reports I have received from every district in the county. These reports were made in a courteous and conservative manner and I believe they are correct. There is no dissatisfaction anywhere throughout the county, and the party is united for the success of the whole ticket. I am satisfied that we are assured of a complete victory here tomorrow."

Chairman T. P. Hoban, of the Democratic county committee, is confident that the ticket of his party will be elected. "As reports come in, the conditions all over the county are shown to be very favorable for the success of the whole Democratic ticket. I believe our ticket is going to be elected tomorrow by pluralities ranging from two thousand to thirty-five hundred. Mr. Newcomb will lead our county ticket, but I believe the Democratic state candidates will carry the county by five thousand."

"There is this year a large Independent ticket going to be elected in Lackawanna county, which will be cast for Cornah and Yerkes."

E. B. Sturges, who is devoting much energy to the cause of Colonel F. L. Hitchcock, the Prohibition and Independent candidate for judge, in a published today with confidence in the belief that the colored will be elected. Party workers on both the Republican and Democratic side of the political fence will not concede Hitchcock over 2,000 votes.

There was great activity about the headquarters of both parties yesterday. Reports were coming in and managers were being despatched here and there to mend breaks in the party lines where the opposition was doing effective work. The work was kept up until long after midnight and will be repeated today with dawn and kept up without intermission until the polls close at 7 p. m.

The weather indications for today are fair and cooler. Indications of rain yesterday caused annoyance and dread to all the candidates. None of them wanted to contemplate the effect a wet day and light vote would have on their candidacy.

Tonight the Republican county committee will receive returns at its quarters in the Burr building, and the Democratic county meeting on the third floor of the Economy building on Wyoming avenue.

Vote for Dr. Roberts for coroner.

MR. ROCHE STOPPED WORK.

Will Not Allow Railway Company to Make Changes at Present.

Employees of the Scranton Railway company were yesterday stopped by Director of Public Works Roche from making certain changes in the switches at the corner of Madison avenue and Mulberry street until such time as the director carefully examines the plans of the proposed changes and ascertains whether or not it will make traffic dangerous or block up the street too much.

The company proposes reopening the switch tunnel from Mulberry street onto Madison avenue, south of the former thoroughfare, thus allowing the Petersburg cars to be brought into the central city down Madison avenue to Spruce street.

FOOT BALL.

The Starlight team would like to challenge any foot ball team in the county under 15 pounds on Tunnel grounds. Meet at Maloney's barber shop, corner Pittston avenue and Cherry street.

Do Not Walk. Schriever Pays Railroad or Bus Fare.

Even if you live as far away as Carbondale, Schriever will allow you round trip railroad fare on an order for photographs, that amounts to $3 or more—while the street car strike continues. Artistic photos and free favors practically bring the Gold Medal Studio to your door.

Pull out the stay-at-homes.

The popular Punch cigar is still the leader of the 10c cigars.

Smoke the new Kleon 5c. cigar.

ADVERTISEMENT

ADVERTISEMENT

Mr. Sturges to the Voters.

While I am not a candidate for office at this election, I cannot help but feel the most intense interest therein. All that we have contended for, in our bitter contest for better conditions, and that we can hope to accomplish in the future, hang largely upon this election. This is my only excuse for forcing myself into a publicity which I greatly dislike.

But believing this to be a most critical time for our County, I willingly throw whatever influence I may have, large or small, into the scale for Colonel F. L. Hitchcock's candidacy. No man can justly accuse me of any ambition except to make our homes cleaner, better, and safer. I have never held, or asked, any public office except my present one. That is an important, but to me a troublesome one, and can only be useful when the people are behind us in our efforts. I have personally spent thousands of dollars, while the street car strike continues, in rescued young men and women; in hell-holes closed, in laws observed, and in the approval of my own conscience. For this I claim no praise. The hardest part of the work has been done by others. But I do claim your help in this great opportunity that cannot soon come again.

You have noticed how much time and space has been given by the party organs to abusing Colonel Hitchcock and the Municipal League, as compared with that devoted to destroying the opposing regular nominees. And why? Because the success of League principles and aims means death to machine politics.

They charge us with trying to destroy the Republican party. This is false. We are trying to secure the enforcing of the laws, and would rejoice in the help, or still better, in the leadership, of that great party. But in our work we soon found that machine methods had much to do with the sad condition of public affairs. Voters were bought and sold like sheep; the "barrel of money" necessary to carry an election (under their methods) became a hoghead; the lowest saloons and vile resorts were used as spider webs to catch voters. The ballots of conscientious citizens, rich or poor, ceased to count except as ratifying the selection of the bosses, and worst of all, crime was not repressed but often encouraged, if it would pay tribute to party.

Every honest citizen of the worst bribe-takers this community ever knew are holding public office by grace of the machine. Representing both parties, they are there because of their supposed control of votes.

At least one of these is even now earning his job by vigorous work for the party to which he does not belong.

Other guilty ones have been given positions with ill-born or conscienceless corporations, to keep them quiet.

"Why don't you convict them?" cries the organ. "The League has never convicted anybody."

Yes it has. Over a hundred convictions have made this community vastly better, for the time, at least. It has only "seven absolute failures" on its score, two of them fairly chargeable to Judge Carpenter.

But bribery is the most difficult crime in the list to bring before an average jury. As a rule, the only parties having knowledge are equally guilty; and when to this fact is added the influence of political manipulators on either side, the effort becomes almost hopeless.

In the first case brought against a Scranton Councilman (a test case, that cost a week's time, and thousands of dollars of private money to try), the defence that was chiefly relied on to meet a fully proven case, was the sworn certificates of unblemished character, from office-holders of both political parties.

You must get rid of present methods, and bosses, before you can effectively and finally reach the existing conditions and corruption. Yet, notwithstanding all these difficulties, the "hoodle" business has been practically suspended for the past 18 months. But everybody knows that if the League should go out of existence for a year, this community would be just as "wide open" and lawless as ever, no matter which party was in power. Are you going to vote to bring this about, by the election of either of the old party candidates?

Let me say also to those who are inclined to vote for Newcomb, with the idea that ballots for Hitchcock are thrown away. Don't do it. Vote as your conscience tells you, and remember that every man that wants to break the law, destroy our standards, run a gambling hell, brothel, or den, of any kind, to catch your young men; every hoodler or briber, every dishonest official, every man who buys or sells a vote, in short, every man that lives on public pollution or private rottenness, will cast his ballot for one or the other of the regular candidates. Do you want what you want?

The Pennsylvania machine must go. It is loaded down with such a burden of iniquity that the people of the state, this year and next, will sweep its creators out of existence, root and branch. And the men who will do this will be the most and best loyal Republicans. They are not fighting the "grand old party," but the set of political tricksters and public debauchers who have seized upon and throttled its very life. Rid of these pirates, the party will come forth to new life and power, grander and more useful than ever.

But while this great work is being done, all over the State, see to it that Lackawanna County is not left behind—perhaps the only one in the procession, remaining uncleaned and foul.

I am sorry for Mr. Carpenter, and should be still more so had he risen above his creators. But he could not. The machine allows no independence; permits no unnecessary injury to be done to vice and corruption, provided they will contribute to its success. With the present public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run. Notwithstanding the fact that the all-powerful managers have secured orders to the foremen of many of the large corporations to support him. But don't let us leave the work half done, by putting the Democratic managers on the throne. We should soon have to do the job over again. There will be as much, or nearly as much, public feeling against machine methods he would not have been in the race, even if Mr. Hitchcock had not run.