

The News of Carbondale.

THE PEOPLE'S EXCHANGE

TRAINED NURSE—Miss Emma E. Swartz, graduate nurse, 47 Spring street, is prepared to receive engagements. New telephone, 186.

WANTED—A good girl, middle age preferred, by Mrs. William Binham, 30 Broad street.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

Delaware and Hudson Railroad.
June 6, 1907.
Trains will leave Carbondale at city station as follows:
For Scranton and Wilkes-Barre—6:00, 7:00, 8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:30 a. m.; 12:15, 1:45, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30 p. m.
Sundays leave at 8:30, 11:30 a. m.; 1:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30 p. m.

New York, Ontario and Western.

Trains leave Carbondale for Scranton at 7:00 a. m., 1:00 p. m., 7:00 p. m.
Sundays leave at 7:00 a. m., 1:00 p. m., 7:00 p. m.

Erie Railroad.

Trains leave city station, Carbondale, daily except Sundays, at 7:00 a. m., 1:00 p. m., 7:00 p. m. and Saturdays at 7:00 a. m., 1:00 p. m., 7:00 p. m.

DULL ELECTION DAY.

The quietest in Carbondale in Over a Quarter of a Century.

The battle of ballots in Carbondale yesterday was the most uninteresting in this city for at least a quarter of a century.

The vote was exceedingly light and the same apathy that existed during the campaign continued throughout yesterday. There were numerous evidences of this, but the most striking was the absence of even a single letterer about a number of the booths during the day.

The town had a holiday air and no one could be led to believe that it was election day. Even discussions, which one would expect to hear going around in hotels and other public meeting places, were absent.

The order of Judge Edwards of the day before, against the selling of liquor, had a remarkable effect in this city. All of the central city saloons, at least, were closed tightly and did absolutely no business. Not even the friendly side-door was allowed to slide to and fro to admit the regular and the different places. It was truly a quiet and a dry election day.

NEWS FOR FOOT BALLISTS.

Something of Decided Interest to Piskin Followers.

Manager Joe Hansen, of the Indians, is not the only one who is disappointed because of the failure to arrange a game with the Scranton team.

MORE CASES OF DIPHTHERIA.

Two Reported to the Board of Health Yesterday.

Two more cases of diphtheria were reported to the board of health yesterday. Both are on Cemetery street. They are Bessie, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Cley, corner Cemetery and Oak streets, and Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Brennan of New Center street.

About a Carbondale Man.

The Wilkes-Barre Record has the following to say about a well known Carbondale man:
The Record is pleased to learn that William M. Lathrop, formerly of the Carbondale office, but lately on the staff of the Wilkes-Barre City, has acquired a half interest in the Republican, the leading paper of Waterbury, Conn. Under Mr. Lathrop's vigilant oversight the paper has already made marked advances both in content and make-up, and as a natural result, its increased patronage. Mr. Lathrop is a journalist of whom the profession may well be proud and the Record congratulates both him and the city of Waterbury on the new deal.

No Deaths from Diphtheria.

A most regrettable error was made in this department when the announcement was made of the death from diphtheria of two children, Edgar Stephens and Edna McMin. Happily, the children are not dead, though their condition is serious. The information covering both cases came from the office of the board of health, and it was intended that they were cases that had been reported to that office as malignant diseases, not as deaths, but there was a misapprehension of these facts and the death announcement followed as the conclusion from the facts as the Tribune representative understood them.

A BIG ICE CONTRACT.

Ice Dealer John Booth Closes Important Deal with Lake Lodore Company.

A big ice contract was closed this week between the Lake Lodore Improvement company and John Booth, the ice dealer of this city.

The deal gives to the Lake Lodore company the right to supply Mr. Booth with all of the ice that he will need to provide for his trade during the summer months of 1907 and for quite a term thereafter.

The deal is an important one, inasmuch as Mr. Booth controls the bulk of trade in this city and vicinity and whatever move he might make in this direction would affect the greater part of the city's population. The contract was not closed until he satisfied himself that whatever product he would handle would be the purest that he could procure hereabouts. This, he was convinced, was to be found in the Lake Lodore company's ice, which is harvested from the spring-fed lakes over the Moosic. This will be the first time that this ice will be brought into Carbondale in large quantities. It will be used nearly all of the trade here, for as mentioned before, Mr. Booth's patronage is the largest in the city. There is a movement in progress by which he hopes to acquire possession of about half of the patronage distributed between the other ice men of the town.

INDUSTRIAL CABINETS.

Secured for Central School—A Worthy Acquisition.

The members of the school board have purchased an industrial and manual study cabinet for use of the pupils in all the branches of the school. They are divided into three classes—mineral, vegetable and animal.

The cabinet shows the various original forms of the articles. Superintendent of Schools Carr is much in favor of them. They will be first introduced in all the branches of the school, but later will only be used for the benefit of the lower grades.

Coming Marriage.

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Frank Krantz to Miss Mary Walsh on the 26th of this month.

The marriage will occur in St. Rose church on the morning with a mass. Mr. Krantz is a member of the Central Pennsylvania Brewing company and one of the best known young men in this city. His bride to be resides on Pike street and is a talented young lady. The wide legion of friends in this city stand ready to extend their best wishes.

The Date Will Be Tuesday, Nov. 12.

To avoid conflicting with the lecture of Rev. Father Doherty in the Knights of Columbus course on Friday evening, November 15, the Athletic Association of the High school has arranged with Dr. Whalen to give his lecture on "The Wit and Humor of the Irish People" on Tuesday evening, November 12. All patrons of this lecture will please note this change of date.

Meetings of Tonight.

Carbondale Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.
Father Casew branch, Catholic Knights of America.
Lodge number, No. 265, Knights of the Mystical Shrine.
Carbondale Lodge, Knights of Pythias.
Ladies' auxiliary, Railroad Engineers (afternoon).

At the Hotels.

Among the guests at the Harrison house yesterday were: Jermyn Russell, Nov. 12; Mr. Martin, of Philadelphia; J. E. Emmer, Sullivan, Jersey; William Garvey, New York city.

Athletic Association's Benefit.

The lecture by Rev. H. J. Whalen, for the benefit of the High school Athletic association, will be held in the assembly room on November 12. The subject is "The Wit and Humor of the Irish Race." A short program preceding the lecture has been arranged.

From the Quaker City to Vote.

C. P. O'Connell, a former Carbondale boy, now in the Quaker City, came in this city yesterday, exercising his right to vote. He remained in the city an hour, and then returned to his new home.

Attack of Illness.

Albert J. O'Neil, chief clerk at the Erie freight house, is confined to his home, on Bickel street, by illness.

THE PASSING THROUG.

Miss Elizabeth Boehm, of Jersey, was a guest at the Harrison home yesterday.

OLYPHANT

Olyphant voted yesterday to increase her debt $4,000 for sewerage purposes.

PECKVILLE.

The following ladies are requested to meet at the Wilson Pipe company's rooms, Thursday evening, Nov. 7, 1907: Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. John Day, Nellie Glanville, Miss English, Luella Kennedy, Emma Carpenter, Mrs. Edward Jermyn, Isabella Gammeller, Cassie Williams, Freada Hinger, Louise Henderson, Alice Swales, Mary Treux and Bessie Thompson. Those unable to attend will please notify Jessie Hoffcock, secretary.

Don't forget the oyster supper at the Methodist Episcopal church, to be given by the Twentieth Century society tonight, from 5:30 to 8 p. m., after which a fine entertainment will be given. Only 15 cents for both.

Stella, aged 4 years, daughter of Mr. Thomas Edwards, of the Second Methodist Episcopal church, died of diphtheria. The child died of diphtheria of the same disease.

Messrs. Howard Brundage, Robert Moon and F. P. Benjamin, who came from Dickinson Law college to vote, returned to their studies yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Luby, of Clark's Green, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pentecost Monday.

The condition of Thomas Davis, of the Pledge, who was injured by a locomotive at Monday, is now at the Lockwood hospital, was reported yesterday to be exceedingly serious.

Mrs. Milton Hodges and son, David, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lee, of Brook street.

Mr. A. C. Hendricks and daughter, Cora, of Academy street, have returned home after a week's visit with friends in Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oberst, of South Main street, celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary at their home Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Oberst are well and favorably known, and have a large circle of friends, many of whom were present on this pleasant occasion to extend to them their congratulations.

Rev. Francis Grindell, of the Methodist Episcopal church, who officiated at their marriage, was also present. The guests numbered about seventy-five people. The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Elias Edwards and daughter, Mildred, of Forest city; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Luby, Clark's Green; Miss Helen Aton, Clark's Green; and Mrs. W. R. Case, Mr. Arthur Case, Miss Myrtle Case, Mr. J. Maxwell Kendall and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hopewell, of Scranton; Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Crans, Olyphant; Miss Sadie A. Shoemaker, Allentown; and Mrs. C. P. Miller, Edinboro.

During the evening the Young Men's Glee club, of the Baptist church, serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Oberst, and after a few out-door selections were invited in and assisted in the evening's festivities. Miss Mary Pentecost acted as observer.

"Mary Lee and Willie Gray," and "Jack, the Evangelist." Refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Oberst received many useful presents, appropriate to the occasion.

PRICEBURG.

Miss Josephine Langan spent yesterday with Scranton friends.

John Revelt, of Carbondale, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Revelt, of Main street, on Sunday.

Miss Sallie Revelt has returned home after two months' visit with friends at Trenton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pettigrew, of Green Ridge, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. William Weir.

A reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. John Padgett at the home of the former's parents, on Grant avenue. Games and music were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hays, Mr. and Mrs. William Hays, Mrs. Gertrude Hays, Miss Matilda Schmidt, Messrs. Will and Joseph Jakes, Lizzie Jones, Jennie Clarke, Ada A. Walker, Flora Mills, Mr. George Stines, of Dickson City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jarvis, Miss Sallie and Lizzie Jarvis, of Thompson; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt, Miss Lizzie Elliott, Messrs. Arthur Hobbs, John Jarvis, William Robinson.

TAYLOR.

Bible day exercises will be observed at the Calvary Baptist church on Sunday evening, Nov. 17. The following programme has been arranged for the evening: Prayer; singing; responsive reading; Sabbath school; recitation; "Name Not the Dead," Ethel Steele; prayer; by pastor; recitation; Urania Hayes; recitation; Blanche Masseson; singing; "Rock of Ages," M. E. Light; prayer and congregation; recitation; "The Hidden Word," Myrtle Connolly; exercise; "The Declaration of Great Men," Rhoda Curtis; singing; choir and congregation; recitation; "Let in the Light," Marjorie Harris; recitation; "The Blessing of Saint Margaret Davis," singing; "Star of Hope," choir and congregation; recitation; "That's Thee, Jim," Benjamin Harris; prayer and congregation; recitation; "The March of Ocean Time," Ethel Mayhew; recitation; "The Day of Ahab," David Davis; anthem; "Send Them the Bible," by choir and congregation; address; "The Bible Work of the American Baptist Publication Society," by the pastor; exercise; "The Children's Song," four little girls; recitation; Taylor Jones; offertory; singing; "Send Out the Light," by choir and congregation.

One of the most modest men who has an office in the building and who is yet one of the most industrious and conscientious officials is Arthur C. Monies, who has been acting as plumbing inspector for the last year and a half. It has been the city's good fortune to have a man of his caliber and capacity in a plumbing inspector. Mr. Monies' profession, Mr. G. O'Malley, was an able, painstaking official and Mr. Monies is demonstrating more and more every day of his worth and usefulness.

He is both a theoretical and a practical knowledge of the plumbing trade, having graduated from a New England technical school and having had practical experience in the business before his appointment by former District Judge M. P. The business in the manner in which he has taken hold of the conduct of the examinations which plumbers are required by the second class city laws to pass has been extremely creditable. He served as president of the board of examiners and the preparation of the questions and of the formulas for the practical tests was almost entirely his work.

The man who succeeds in doing something for his fellow man is rightly regarded as a benefactor, and that is the position that Druggist John J. Davies now occupies among the drug men of West Scranton. In common with many other druggists Mr. Davies was convinced that drug stores ought to do more than to sell.

He was so successful that beginning with Monday, Nov. 11, drug stores will close each night at 10 o'clock, except Saturday, when they will close at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Davies is one of West Scranton's most popular citizens as well as one of its most successful business men. He is a leading spirit in all movements for the betterment of conditions in that part of the city. His advice is always listened to with great attention.

EASY TO FIND

When you find a medicine that makes your regular food taste good, when you find a medicine that strengthens a weak stomach—then you know you're going to put some flesh on.

Scott's Emulsion does these things. We recommend it whenever the system needs more flesh. If you are thin and able to eat begin regular doses. That's your part, Scott's Emulsion will do the rest. Not flabby—but solid flesh.

Scott's Emulsion is sold everywhere. It is a pure cod liver oil and fish liver oil preparation. It is a pure cod liver oil and fish liver oil preparation. It is a pure cod liver oil and fish liver oil preparation.

W. L. Scott & Sons, 120 Pearl Street, New York.

TOM HARRIS TURNS WHITE

When the first organization of counties was attempted in the Northwest a great deal of trouble was precipitated between rival land companies as to the location of the county seats. Each company desired a county seat on its particular tract of land, but as there were not counties enough to go around this was impossible.

Fights and feuds followed and the liveliest promoters of these were the pioneer editors. In one of the counties that may appropriately be called Cayuse the final location of the county seat was on Sand Creek, in the east end of the county, and well removed from two other promising settlements in the county known as Plainville and North Star. The county seat was called Sandberg, with that rare love for ugly titles manifest in the American mind when naming a town, river or mountain peak. In each settlement there was an editor—Baker at Plainville, Harrison at North Star and Smith at Sandberg. The latter, as soon as his county seat had captured the county seat, manifested his joy by a series of bird editorials crowing over his rivals and denouncing their opposition to Sandberg as villainous.

The fight, on paper, was a gloomier one. It grew so warm that no man could stand it. Editor Smith went to visit Sandberg, and when the one school teacher of the latter town chanced to enter Plainville he was immediately seized by the infuriated inhabitants, deprived of his horse and clothing, and confined in a jail. Editor Smith, although woman-like regarding his most foolish, was two young women, one the school mistress of Plainville and one the school mistress of North Star. Miss Wilson of the former town was a couple of Editor Baker, and Miss Rogers, of North Star, was a friend of Harrison. Miss Wilson regarded the muse as particularly unfortunate, because shortly after her arrival on the frontier, and before the county seat had been decided, she had met Editor Smith and conceived a more than passing regard for him. Smith himself had been much taken with her beauty and intelligence and but for his loyalty to his community would never have gone into a fight which separated him from the woman he loved, but had not told so.

Miss Rogers was not as young as Miss Wilson nor so attractive. In fact, she had passed 30, was sour of temper, and much disliked by her pupils, most of whom detested her sharp tongue as much as they did the whip she used on every occasion. Editor Harrison, who had been a friend of Editor Smith, envied Miss Wilson, hated the frontier and longer for a man with matrimonial inclinations.

Editor Baker, of Plainville, thought it his duty in the county seat fight to editorially castigate Editor Smith, of Sandberg, with every issue. He did not suspect his cousin's affections for his enemy, and if he had he would have at that time sent her out of the country. On her part she did not dare to plead with him to forego and forget. Smith had not yet spoken so warmly and openly she felt that he would, if given opportunity, see that he realized that a further prolongation of the war meant a further separation of them and perhaps a permanent end of the sentiments that once had flourished so warmly between them.

So matters stood until one spring day, in a particularly violent fit of temper, Miss Rogers whipped one of her boy pupils until the lad fell fainting at her feet. The news spread but slowly because Editor Harrison did not notice it in his own paper. Editor Baker thought it was none of his trouble, and the public in general heard of it only long after its occurrence. But when Editor Smith learned of it he penned these scorching lines in his editorial column:

"We have to cousin and we cannot fight a woman, but if we had a cross-eyed female cousin and she did all that we have heard of somebody else's cousin doing—that somebody else being a meanly placed editor of this county—we would certainly have no objection to commencing reading the scriptures."

The funeral of Frank Smith took place from the residence of his mother, Mrs. B. E. Smith, on Grand street, this afternoon. Rev. E. E. Riley, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was made in the Grand street cemetery.

The funeral of the late Samuel Conkling, an aged and respected citizen of the Oakland side, who died on Monday morning, will take place on Wednesday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Brown, one of the pioneer residents of this town, took place this afternoon from the residence of a son, Herbert Brown, on West Main street. Rev. Stephen Jay officiating, assisted by Rev. A. J. Sherman and Rev. E. E. Riley. Interment was made in the Grand street cemetery.

The funeral of Helen, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp, of the Oakland side, took place from the home this afternoon. Rev. C. C. Mackey officiating. Interment was made in McKean cemetery.

"KARESH" TEED MOVING. Cyrus Teed, who years ago was a resident of this vicinity, founder of the Kareshian sect, who styles himself the "Kareshian Messiah," has returned to Chicago from Florida. He has a colony in both places Cyrus is a brainy fellow, and the way in which he succeeds in gathering in the stacks of his followers is something wonderful.

PARGRAPHED PICK-UPS. A South Gibson farmer, whose yellow dog was killed by a horse, has claimed $50 damages in a Susquehanna justice's court. Yellow dogs come high this year.

Omar P. Olin, a Jackson farmer, has brought suit against the township of Gibson, claiming $15,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by breaking through a defective bridge.

A Susquehanna man has been held to bail in $500, on a charge of an attempted sexual assault upon a ten-year-old girl.

Erie Ross company, 130, will hold its annual ball in Hogan opera house on Thanksgiving eve, November 27. Dan's Susquehanna orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

The Brezville Baptist church was dedicated free from debt.

A Great Bend man recently purchased a second-hand automobile in the sausage business. And he is not.

As Dirkeys are scarce this year, it will be found necessary to start out early on Thanksgiving eve and reach high.

FOOT BALL.

Superintendent of Middle Louis G. Schantz, at the request of the Tribune, compiled the following schedule of the arrival and departure of the more important mails, which, on account of the fall changes in railroad time tables, has undergone considerable revision.

ARRIVAL.

1:00	2:00	3:00	4:00	5:00	6:00	7:00	8:00	9:00	10:00	11:00
Scranton

DEPARTURE.

1:00	2:00	3:00	4:00	5:00	6:00	7:00	8:00	9:00	10:00	11:00
Scranton

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The Philadelphia postponed ball season, completed at former college players, defeated the Lafayette college team today in a score of 25 to 0.

W. L. Scott & Sons, 120 Pearl Street, New York.

A MISTAKE IN COUSINS.

When the first organization of counties was attempted in the Northwest a great deal of trouble was precipitated between rival land companies as to the location of the county seats. Each company desired a county seat on its particular tract of land, but as there were not counties enough to go around this was impossible.

Fights and feuds followed and the liveliest promoters of these were the pioneer editors. In one of the counties that may appropriately be called Cayuse the final location of the county seat was on Sand Creek, in the east end of the county, and well removed from two other promising settlements in the county known as Plainville and North Star. The county seat was called Sandberg, with that rare love for ugly titles manifest in the American mind when naming a town, river or mountain peak. In each settlement there was an editor—Baker at Plainville, Harrison at North Star and Smith at Sandberg. The latter, as soon as his county seat had captured the county seat, manifested his joy by a series of bird editorials crowing over his rivals and denouncing their opposition to Sandberg as villainous.

The fight, on paper, was a gloomier one. It grew so warm that no man could stand it. Editor Smith went to visit Sandberg, and when the one school teacher of the latter town chanced to enter Plainville he was immediately seized by the infuriated inhabitants, deprived of his horse and clothing, and confined in a jail. Editor Smith, although woman-like regarding his most foolish, was two young women, one the school mistress of Plainville and one the school mistress of North Star. Miss Wilson of the former town was a couple of Editor Baker, and Miss Rogers, of North Star, was a friend of Harrison. Miss Wilson regarded the muse as particularly unfortunate, because shortly after her arrival on the frontier, and before the county seat had been decided, she had met Editor Smith and conceived a more than passing regard for him. Smith himself had been much taken with her beauty and intelligence and but for his loyalty to his community would never have gone into a fight which separated him from the woman he loved, but had not told so.

Miss Rogers was not as young as Miss Wilson nor so attractive. In fact, she had passed 30, was sour of temper, and much disliked by her pupils, most of whom detested her sharp tongue as much as they did the whip she used on every occasion. Editor Harrison, who had been a friend of Editor Smith, envied Miss Wilson, hated the frontier and longer for a man with matrimonial inclinations.

Editor Baker, of Plainville, thought it his duty in the county seat fight to editorially castigate Editor Smith, of Sandberg, with every issue. He did not suspect his cousin's affections for his enemy, and if he had he would have at that time sent her out of the country. On her part she did not dare to plead with him to forego and forget. Smith had not yet spoken so warmly and openly she felt that he would, if given opportunity, see that he realized that a further prolongation of the war meant a further separation of them and perhaps a permanent end of the sentiments that once had flourished so warmly between them.

So matters stood until one spring day, in a particularly violent fit of temper, Miss Rogers whipped one of her boy pupils until the lad fell fainting at her feet. The news spread but slowly because Editor Harrison did not notice it in his own paper. Editor Baker thought it was none of his trouble, and the public in general heard of it only long after its occurrence. But when Editor Smith learned of it he penned these scorching lines in his editorial column:

"We have to cousin and we cannot fight a woman, but if we had a cross-eyed female cousin and she did all that we have heard of somebody else's cousin doing—that somebody else being a meanly placed editor of this county—we would certainly have no objection to commencing reading the scriptures."

The funeral of Frank Smith took place from the residence of his mother, Mrs. B. E. Smith, on Grand street, this afternoon. Rev. E. E. Riley, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was made in the Grand street cemetery.

The funeral of the late Samuel Conkling, an aged and respected citizen of the Oakland side, who died on Monday morning, will take place on Wednesday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Brown, one of the pioneer residents of this town, took place this afternoon from the residence of a son, Herbert Brown, on West Main street. Rev. Stephen Jay officiating, assisted by Rev. A. J. Sherman and Rev. E. E. Riley. Interment was made in the Grand street cemetery.

The funeral of Helen, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp, of the Oakland side, took place from the home this afternoon. Rev. C. C. Mackey officiating. Interment was made in McKean cemetery.

"KARESH" TEED MOVING. Cyrus Teed, who years ago was a resident of this vicinity, founder of the Kareshian sect, who styles himself the "Kareshian Messiah," has returned to Chicago from Florida. He has a colony in both places Cyrus is a brainy fellow, and the way in which he succeeds in gathering in the stacks of his followers is something wonderful.

PARGRAPHED PICK-UPS. A South Gibson farmer, whose yellow dog was killed by a horse, has claimed $50 damages in a Susquehanna justice's court. Yellow dogs come high this year.

Omar P. Olin, a Jackson farmer, has brought suit against the township of Gibson, claiming $15,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by breaking through a defective bridge.

A Susquehanna man has been held to bail in $500, on a charge of an attempted sexual assault upon a ten-year-old girl.

Erie Ross company, 130, will hold its annual ball in Hogan opera house on Thanksgiving eve, November 27. Dan's Susquehanna orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

The Brezville Baptist church was dedicated free from debt.

A Great Bend man recently purchased a second-hand automobile in the sausage business. And he is not.

As Dirkeys are scarce this year, it will be found necessary to start out early on Thanksgiving eve and reach high.

FOOT BALL.

Superintendent of Middle Louis G. Schantz, at the request of the Tribune, compiled the following schedule of the arrival and departure of the more important mails, which, on account of the fall changes in railroad time tables, has undergone considerable revision.

ARRIVAL.

1:00	2:00	3:00	4:00	5:00	6:00	7:00	8:00	9:00	10:00	11:00
Scranton

DEPARTURE.

1:00	2:00	3:00	4:00	5:00	6:00	7:00	8:00	9:00	10:00	11:00
Scranton

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The Philadelphia postponed ball season, completed at former college players, defeated the Lafayette college team today in a score of 25 to 0.

W. L. Scott & Sons, 120 Pearl Street, New York.

STOMACHS THAT WON'T WORK

There is a cure for dyspepsia. Such a simple case as indigestion, which is promptly and pronounced. The less the trouble the fewer tablets need be taken. Heaviness after eating, sour stomach, as indicated by belching, fatigue with slight exertion or with no exertion at all, flatulence, constipation, nervousness, depression, "blues," these things can commonly