OLD FORGE LOCAL WINS.

Awarded the Costello Pen Drawing of John Mitchell.

J. W. Costello, county controller-elect, offered a prize of his pen drawing of John Mitchell to the local of the United Mine Workers making the best showing in the Mitchell Day parade.

Grand Marshal William Fitzsimmons and M. H. Healey, one of the district board members, who were selected as the judges, have awarded the prize to Local 296 of Old Forge.

This local had its own drum corps and its members all remained in line until after the reviewing place near the end of the route was passed. They also carried a number of banners bearing appropriate legends.

There were larger locals in the line, Pine Brook and 805 of Providence being far superior in numbers, but many of their members fell out before the reviewing place was reached, and as a consequence they made a poor showing in passing the judges.

The prize picture was taken to Old Forge last night and presented to the winners. It is one of the best specimens of Mr. Costello's pen work, and it made to order would cost $175.

EDGAR-BONE WEDDIALS.

Ceremony Was Performed in Elm Park Church.

A church wedding which attracted more than usual interest was that of yesterday, when Miss Adda Bone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Bone, of Vine street, was married to Mr. Mark William Edgar, in Elm Park church. The handsome bride has seldom presented such an attractive appearance as on this occasion, when the pulpit and platform were hidden by great palms. The arrangement of tropical plants was carried on up the stair case to the curving balconies.

The ushers entered from the left front aisle and paused midway, allowing the flower girls to pass between to meet the bride, who came in from the rear with her father. The groom and his best man, Ezra H. Connell, entered from the right and were joined at the altar by the bride party. Rev. Dr. C. M. Gillin pronounced the ceremony. The full ritual was observed. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a charming gown of etamine of the color, shaded, trimmed with lace applique, through which velvet was drawn. She wore a white hat with touches of dark velvet. Her flowers were white chrysanthemums.

The pretty little flower girls were Miss Louise Connell, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Connell, and Miss Frances Killam, a cousin of the groom. They were exquisitely gowned in white Paris muslin, with pink sashes. They carried baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums and wore black beaver picture hats.

The ushers were Dr. Underwood, of Pittston; Dr. Edson Green and Theodore E. Connell, of this city, and Charles Bone, the brother of the bride. The wedding music was given by Miss Florence Richmond.

The groom is the older son of Attorney S. W. Edgar, and occupies the responsible position of secretary to Recorder W. L. Connell. He has exceptional mental qualities, and is regarded with honor and friendly feeling by a multitude of his townsmen. The bride is a very beautiful girl of the brunette type, who is much beloved for the many gracious and noble qualities which go to make womanhood recognized as the highest and the best. Quantities of appropriate gifts were received as testifies to the friendly remembrance in which both are held.

Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. William Rishon, of Bloomsburg; Messrs. Albert and Benjamin Killam and their families, of Paupack; John Edgar, of Wilkes-Barre; Miss Adelaide Dodge, of Honesdale; Miss Esther B. Killam, of Paupack. Upon their return from a brief wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar will be at home at 1613 Sanderson avenue.

PRAISE FROM FROHMAN.

Much Pleased with the Lyceum and Its Manager.

The New York Telegraph of Tuesday says: "The other day in Scranton, when the box office was opened for the sale of seats for Mamie Adams' engagement of one night exactly sixty-eight minutes had elapsed before the last ticket for this occasion had been disposed of."

The manager immediately began telegraphing to New York in endeavor to secure a matinee performance of "Quality Street" in addition to the one billed for the evening. This was no exception to the rule, however, for there was not a single town in which Miss Adams appeared during the week where the same order of affairs failed to appear.

"In Harrisburg the receipts were $1,765, in Scranton, $1,710, in Wilkes-Barre $1,800, and in the other cities they were regulated solely by the question of capacity."

Mr. Frohman himself went over to Scranton to look at the performance, and was surprised to find that a number of ticket speculators were on hand, having become regular camp followers. Describing his experience in Scranton, Mr. Frohman said yesterday:

"The local theater is as fine as anything on Broadway, and before and behind the curtain it is admirably handled as any playhouse I have ever entered."

"The manager is a young man named Duffy, who began his career as a workman on the stage and may be described as 'self-made.' We in New York don't realize what is going on in the smaller cities by way of bringing the theater up to date. Scranton was certainly an object lesson to me."

PROVIDENCE ROAD PAVE.

New Ordinance to Be Introduced Tonight in Select Council.

A new ordinance providing for the paving of Providence road, Diamond avenue and Court street will be introduced in the select council tonight by Councilman Wade M. Finn, of the Second ward.

Mr. Finn has been circulating a petition during the past few weeks and has secured the signatures of property owners owning a majority of the foot frontage along the line of the proposed improvement. A similar ordinance was introduced last year, but was declared illegal by City Solicitor Watson because it failed to mention Carbon street.

FOR ENTICING A YOUNG GIRL

MRS. LIZZIE HESSLING HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Seventeen Year Old Leah Swisher Testified That Mrs. Hessling Enticed Her from Home and Promised to Send Her to New York to Lead an Immoral Life—Mamie Hadisty, Another Young Girl, Said That Mrs. Hessling Advised Her to Lead an Immoral Life.

Some rather sensational testimony was offered last night in Alderman M. J. Ruddy's office at the hearing in the case of Mrs. Lizzie Hessling, of 514 Wyoming avenue, who is charged with having enticed a 17-year-old Leah Swisher, of 314 Wyoming avenue, for the purpose of prostitution and with the receipt and retention of certain wearing apparel taken by the Swisher girl from her home.

The prosecutor in the case is Alanson H. Swisher, the girl's father, who was represented at the hearing last night by Attorney Thomas P. Duffy. The defendant, Mrs. Hessling, was represented by Attorney Frank Boyle.

An effort was made to show last night that though the Swisher girl is now 17 years old, Mrs. Hessling made attempts to induce her to lead an immoral life before while she was 16 years old, her seventeenth birthday being September 24 of this year.

In case of a failure to show that the girl was enticed while still 16 years old or before the age of consent had been reached, the prosecution has still another charge to fall back on, namely, that the girl was enticed with the intent to extort money.

The Swisher girl, who is an especially handsome and attractive girl, looking a little older than her parents claim she is, was the first witness.

VISITED MRS. HESSLING.

She testified that despite her parents' objections, she had frequently visited Mrs. Hessling at her boarding house next door to her home, ever since last July. Mrs. Hessling, she said, had frequently told her that she should leave her home if she didn't like the way she was treated and should "get a man to keep her" so that she could live an easy life.

She declared positively that Mrs. Hessling had made this suggestion to her many times since last July. She had a great deal of trouble with her parents, she said, because she wouldn't go to school and because she persisted in going to Mrs. Hessling's house.

On Tuesday, October 29, she said, she went over to Mrs. Hessling's and had a talk with her.

"Mrs. Hessling told me," said she, "that I should pack up my clothes and come over to her house, and arranged for me to have a place where I could stay until she got some money to send me to New York. I asked her why she wanted me to go to New York. I said I knew nobody there."

"She said that was all right, that they would have a man at the Hoboken station who would wait at me. I would take me to a place where I could lead an immoral life and not have to work. She said that I should write and let her know how I was getting on. She said I was very good and that I'd be able to attract men."

Continuing, the girl said that she packed up her clothes the next morning and went over to Mrs. Hessling's house. She had then but a few things, and Mrs. Hessling had her servants, Mamie Hadisty, to take her to the Hotel Arlington on Spruce street until such time as she was able to get money to send her to New York. The Hadisty girl paid for a room in addition, she said, remained there until Friday, she said.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Colored Man and Woman Believed to Have Knowledge of the Theft at Brooks' Residence.

A colored man and woman, whose identity is unknown, were arrested yesterday by the police on suspicion of having committed the theft of $2,500 worth of jewelry and $140 in cash from the residence of Reese C. Brooks, Monday night.

They were taken from the apartments in the 100 block of Penn avenue, early yesterday morning, and arraigned before an alderman for a hearing.

Both denied all knowledge of the crime with which they are charged, and the woman asserted she came to this city only the night before.

They were remanded for a further hearing, and placed in the central station house.

What led to their arrest the police will not divulge. It is, however, rumored that a colored couple were seen about the time of the thefting in the vicinity of the Brooks' residence, and that their actions were of such a suspicious character that the attention of several persons was attracted to them.

The description of this couple tallies with that of the parties under arrest. The further fact that they are new comers at that they could not give an acceptable account of themselves tended to add to the suspicion.

A search of their room was made by the police, but as far as can be learned no incriminating evidence was discovered.

The express offices are being visited with a view of ascertaining whether or not the prisoners sent away a package the day before.

The usual plan of professional thieves is to get their booty out of their possession as quickly as possible. To do this, they generally express it to some "fence" in one or the other of the larger cities, usually a distant one. The thieves who robbed the Bogert residence four years ago sent their booty to Chicago.

The suspects arrested yesterday are a freshly dressed pair and seem possessed of more than ordinary intelligence.

HORSE HAD INSOMNIA.

It Kept Halletstead Court Residents Awake at Night.

John Yetter, of Halletstead court, likes to sleep at night, like a great many other folks in this world, but of late his slumbers have been constantly disturbed by the prancing of a horse, who is quartered in a barn belonging to William Bond, who lives at 1000 North Second street.

Another horse is afflicted with insomnia and makes a terrific racket throughout the night. Mr. Yetter, at the earnest solicitation of several of his neighbors, went before Alderman Ruddy yesterday and had a warrant sworn out for Bond's arrest on the charge of maintaining a nuisance.

Alderman Ruddy, after a hearing, dismissed the case, upon Bond's agreeing to remove the horse from the barn.

SUPERINTENDENT FERBER HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURY.

Superintendent of the Bureau of Fires Ferber was thrown from his carriage on Main avenue yesterday afternoon, while responding to an alarm of fire and narrowly escaped a serious injury.

Another horse ran away and dashed into the superintendent's carriage, overturning it, but he succeeded in extricating himself before being injured. One of the Columbia men was in the carriage and also escaped unhurt.

BIG STRIKE IS ORDERED

TEMPLE-IRON COMPANY'S MEN ARE CALLED OUT.

Four Thousand Employees of Eight Collieries Ordered to Suspend Work Next Monday, by the District Officers of the United Mine Workers, Because of the Alleged Blacklisting of Fifty of Its Men—Company Closes Down Some of Its Collieries in Anticipation of the Strike.

An order calling a strike at the eight collieries of the Temple Iron company was issued at 5 o'clock p. m. yesterday, from the headquarters of District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, in the Paull building, Spruce street. The order is addressed to the presidents of the local unions at the collieries affected, and reads as follows:

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 6, 1901.

To Officers and Members of Local Unions whose Members Work in the Following Collieries, Name: Lackawanna, Sterrick Creek, Edgerton, Northwest, Harry E. Forty Fort, Mt. Lookout and Babylon, all of the Temple Iron Company.

Dear Sirs and Brothers: The officers of the Temple Iron company at the Mt. Lookout, Harry E. and Forty Fort collieries have discharged about fifty of our members because they had been working at the Malby colliery, Edgerton Valley company, which has been on strike for the last three months, and the latter company having furnished the officials of the Temple company with a list of names and asked for the discharge of those whose names were on the list. Your officers were refused a conference with the manager of the Temple company, and instructed the local committee to file a suit for the reinstatement of all. The committee failed to see him and laid the case again before the superintendent, who could give them no satisfaction in that regard. The superintendent, with the knowledge that they were men from the Malby mine would be reinstated; but those who were listed without knowing where they were from would not be reinstated.

DO NOT WALK. SCHRIEVER PAYS RAILROAD OR BUS FARE.

Even if you live as far away as Carbondale, Schriever will allow you round trip railroad fare on an order for photographs, that amounts to $2 or more—when the strike car strikes conventions, Artistic photos and free fare practically brings the Gold Medal Studio to your door.

TWO NEW BRIDGES.

Director Rothe May Ask for Funds for Their Construction.

Director of Public Works John E. Rothe is seriously considering the advisability of asking councils to appropriate sufficient funds to pay for the erection of new bridges over the Roaring Brook at Cedar avenue and over the Lackawanna river at Race street.

The former bridge is of very old construction and there is a fear that the steel work of that portion which runs along the land is eaten away by rust to such an extent as to be almost unsafe. The Race street bridge is of wooden construction and is now closed to public traffic because of a serious break which was discovered on Tuesday.

The director is also going to ask councils for a street sweeping machine, with all the latest improvements, to be drawn by horses and to be used principally in the central part of the city.
