It Makes Weak Women Strong.

"I suffered from female weakness for five months," writes Mrs. Belle Hedrick, of Nye, Putnam Co., Va. "I was treated by a good physician but he did me no good. I wrote to Dr. R. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, which I received, telling me to take his 'FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.' When I had used the medicine a month my health was much improved. It has continued to improve until now, and I can work at almost all kinds of house-work. I had scarcely any appetite, but it is all right now. Have gained several pounds in weight. I would advise all who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce."

It Makes Sick Women Well.

"For several weeks I have been in correspondence with gentlemen in nearly every hamlet, town and city along our lines, and my request has always been for an opinion on the conditions formed after carefully observing the situation. I can say that in every case the reports tell of an abundance of game, nearly every correspondent reporting more than for many years, and some more than they knew of before."

particularly favored spots, yet it seems that the Southern Virginia country, eastward of Danville, which includes, among other places, Chase City, Charlesville, Pinyonwood and Keyville, and the magnificent stretches of Western North Carolina around Hickory, Winston-Salem, Taylorsville, Mooreville, Mocksville, Statesville, Ekin, Wilkesboro and Charlotte are as well supplied with game as any other section, and are, perhaps, better than some in providing conveniences for all sportsmen who may choose to visit it.

"South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee are alive with game, and I shall be very glad to provide my hunter with the information at my command."

"Around Chase City, I am informed, both deer and wild turkeys are more plentiful than in very many years. The Virginians have protected their big game well, and the benefit of judicious laws well enforced is becoming apparent. The other states, too, are taking care of their game with the same good results."

GAME IN THE SOUTH.

Unusually Abundant This Year.

Choice Spots for the Hunter.

"There is more game of every kind in the South this year than there has been in a decade," is the interesting statement made by Charles L. Hopkins, Philadelphia District Passenger Agent on the Southern Railway, who speaks not only with the personal knowledge of a hunter, but after a most careful and honest inquiry into the subject before him. Continuing, Mr. Hopkins said:

"I am confident that this will be proven by those who go there to hunt. Naturally, my knowledge of the matter concerns most directly the territory traversed or reached by the Southern Railway, but inasmuch as this covers practically the entire Southern sporting country, I can safely say throughout the South.

"For several weeks I have been in correspondence with gentlemen in nearly every hamlet, town and city along our lines, and my request has always been for an opinion on the conditions formed after carefully observing the situation. I can say that in every case the reports tell of an abundance of game, nearly every correspondent reporting more than for many years, and some more than they knew of before."

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 6.—Today's stock market was dominated by the authoritative admissions from various quarters that the basis had been agreed upon for the proposed consolidation of the Pennsylvania, although the reports of an early announcement were deprecated, as it was said to be premature. The Union Pacific convertible bonds were also in demand, the price of the 5% issue having advanced 1/2. The Southern Railway convertible bonds were also in demand, the price of the 5% issue having advanced 1/2. The market closed with a net gain of 1/2 point.
