Rich and Poor Alike Suffer from Catarrh in This Climate.

All eminent physicians have noticed the enormous number of catarrhal diseases in recent years, and the most liberal and enlightened have cheerfully given their approval to the new internal remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as the most successful and by far the safest remedy for catarrh yet produced.

One well known catarrh specialist, as soon as he had made a thorough test of this preparation discarded his old washes and sprays and now depends entirely upon Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in all cases, whether in the head, throat or stomach.

Dr. Hildes says, "In patients who had lost the sense of smell entirely and even where the hearing has begun to be affected from catarrh, I have had the results after only a few weeks use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. I can only explain their action on the theory that the cleansing and antiseptic properties of the tablets destroy the catarrhal germs wherever found, because I have found the tablets equally valuable in catarrh of the throat and stomach as in nasal catarrh."

Dr. Estabrook says, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially useful in nasal catarrh and catarrh of the throat, clearing the membranes of mucus and speedily terminating the hacking, coughing and expectorating.

Any sufferer from catarrh will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets will give immediate relief, and being in tablet form and pleasant to the taste, are convenient and always ready for use, as they can be carried in the pocket and used at any time as they contain no poisonous drugs, but only the cleansing antiseptic properties of Eucalyptus bark, Guaiacum, blood root and Hydrastin.

All druggists sell the tablets at 50 cents for complete treatment.

An Exciting Game of Basket Ball at Auditorium Between Crackerjacks and Defenders.

The largest crowd that ever gathered at the Auditorium to witness a game of basket ball crowded into the spacious hall to witness one of the best played games of basket ball that has been played in the Auditorium in some time. Fully 900 people witnessed the game.

The Crackerjacks, opposing teams were the Crackerjacks of the section, and the Defenders, of the South Side, champions of Lackawanna county.

Hughes, a member of the St. Clair team, champions of Pennsylvania, was the star of the game, playing all around the other fellows, and in the latter part of the second half he was knocked unconscious, while running up the ball, by running into one of the Defenders' men, and was unconscious for about fifteen minutes, after which he resumed his position in the game.

The work of the umpire, which the Defenders had, was unsatisfactory. He favored the Defenders close plays, thus enabling the South Side team to increase their score by throwing baskets on fouls, which he called on the Crackerjacks, when there was no foul. The final score was 6 to 6, but the game was forfeited to the Crackerjacks, on account of the Defenders refusing to finish. Following is the line-up of both teams:

Crackerjacks. * * * * * Defenders. * * * * * Baskets were thrown by Kane, three on fouls and one from field, for the Defenders, and Hughes threw two for the Crackerjacks. Umpire—Quinn. Referee—McCluskey.

Tales of Oshkosh.
Oshkosh, Wis., is one of the most diversified places in the world. There are other peculiar persistent names, like Kalamazoo or Sing Sing, which make themselves conspicuous, but no one of them is as decidedly unique and unforgettable as "Oshkosh." These two names, taken together, carry such suggestions of barbarism in their very sound that they have attracted to themselves a magical mist of the wild tales of ancient adventures and savage life, which have been handed down from generation to generation. The result is that a great many people in this city think that the name is a pure invention, and that no one place exists, although a glance at the map of Wisconsin ought to also point that impression.

The first settlers who took their abode in the valley, were the Indians of the Ojibwa tribe, who were driven south, at the bottom of Lake Winnebago, was the first settlement of Fond du Lac, where French land and fur traders associated with the Ojibwa. These men were given a real advantage in showing the trade of the Indians. The shrewd Yankee of Alton determined to effect that advantage by an appeal to Indian vanity. At a given time, he invited the Ojibwa and Indians to his camp and family used that the settlement should be named in honor of the great Oshkosh chief of the Winnebago.

From that time, the name Oshkosh, which is the Ojibwa name for the city of Fond du Lac, has been handed down from generation to generation. The name Oshkosh is a pure invention, and that no one place exists, although a glance at the map of Wisconsin ought to also point that impression.
