INDUSTRIAL AND LABOR

ENLARGEMENT OF SCRANTON PUMP COMPANY'S PLANT.

In Three Years Since It Was Started This Concern Has Developed Most Marvelously—Size of the Plant Is Now Doubled—Strike at Weatherly Was of Short Duration—Make-up of the D., L. & W. Board for Today—Purchase Made at Lebanon—Other Notes.

An industry which has grown from a small machine shop to an immense manufacturing concern in three years, now commands the attention of the business world, and has added much to the name of Scranton as a manufacturing center, where cheap fuel, transportation facilities and other advantages commend this city to the manufacturing world.

This concern is the Scranton Pump company, with its down-town office at 113 Franklin avenue. It was started by J. B. Poore, on North Washington avenue, three years ago. He is the patentee of the "straightway pump," for general mining work. The present plant is located at the corner of Marion street and Mylert avenue, which is now being enlarged to meet the demands of the business.

The present machine shops include several buildings, 50x200 feet, where 150 hands are employed. Three months ago fifty hands were employed. The Scranton Steam Pump company manufacture the small duplex pumps, orders of which have already been shipped to Porto Rico, Texas, Colorado and other points in the United States. There is a growing demand for their goods all over the world.

J. B. Poore is the mechanical superintendent of the plant, and A. C. Lippincott is manager of the sales department at 113 Franklin avenue. The company's iron and brass foundry was erected in June of the present year. It is a building 75x100 feet, and the increase of business has necessitated doubling this shop, which enlargement is now about completed.

The machine shop and tool equipment of the plant has also been doubled, a large store-house has been built, and also a pattern-making shop, which is 30x75 feet. The company has also installed their own electric light plant, and the demand for their duplex pumps which are used for elevator and boiler feeding service, will soon necessitate employing additional help.

Another industry the company is promoting is the manufacture of the Lippincott steam operator and shaking grate bar and they also intend handling a complete line of engineers and mine supplies. Mr. Lippincott, the patentee, is a practical mechanic, who has taken up his residence in Scranton, to promote the interests of the company.

Strike at Weatherly.

Over 100 moulders and their helpers at the foundry at Weatherly, Luzerne county, owned by capitalists of that town, went on strike Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock. Monday the men were put on a nine and a half hour day, but it is alleged that in those hours they were to do the same amount of work as had previously been done in ten hours.

The men demurred at this, and at a meeting of all the employes of the foundry Monday night, at which the matter was discussed, a committee of five men was appointed to make a demand of Foreman W. H. Koons to adjust the differences.

Tuesday morning all the men appeared at the foundry at 7 o'clock, as usual, but they had decided not to go to work until the committee had met the foreman of the department and reported the result of the conference. The committee of five met Foreman Koons, but he declined to enter into a discussion of the complaint and the committee reported the result of the meeting to the waiting employes. The entire force of moulders and laborers then left the plant in a body and went to their homes.

Later in the day the strikers' committee met J. C. Sendel, vice president of the company, and the difficulty was adjusted. Mr. Sendel told the committee that the foundry would return to the former hours of work. The men went back to their places Wednesday morning.

Purchased Freeman's Interests.

It is announced from Lebanon that the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company has purchased the interests of mysterious Montana train robber sais Cornwall Iron company.

In this deal is included the Bird Coleman and other furnace properties at Cornwall.

How Strong Are You?

The dial of the punching machine won't answer that question. Strength depends on nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the body fails to receive its full supply of nourishment and hence grows weak. That is why no man is stronger than his stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition. The food eaten is then perfectly digested and assimilated and the body is made strong in the only possible way—by nutrition.

"I was troubled with indigestion for about two years," writes Wm. Bowker, Esq., of Juliaetta, Latah Co., Idaho. "I tried different doctors and remedies, but to no avail, until I wrote to you and you told me what to do. I suffered with a pain in my stomach and left side and thought that it would kill me. Now I am glad to write this and let you know that I am all right. I can do my work now without pain and I don't have that tired feeling that I used to have. Five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the liver.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

ATTRACTIONS TODAY.

ACADEMY.—Hadley-Harris Stock company. Afternoon and night.

STAR.—Ben Ten Burlesquers. Afternoon and night.

Lewis Morrison's "Faust."

Scrantonians never tire of Lewis Morrison's "Faust." It is presented here every year and always attracts an audience that fills the house. For several years Mr. Morrison has not been with the company and when he appeared last night in the role of "Mephisto" he was given a splendid greeting. At the end of the fourth act he was called before the curtain and made a brief little speech, in which he thanked the audience for their kindness to him.

Mr. Morrison's Mephisto of last night is the fine product of years of earnest, patient labor. It is an exceptionally fine bit of work and was received with great enthusiasm last night. Mr. Morrison has surrounded himself with a very good company.

"The World" at the Academy.

The thrilling six act drama, "The World," pleased a large audience at the Academy of Music last night. It is a well written play, abounding in exciting climaxes and greatly pleased those who saw it last night. In the afternoon "Davy Crockett" was presented.

This afternoon the bill will be "The Immigrant Sister," and tonight the "New Dominion."

Brave Molly Pitcher.

Every scholar is familiar with the name of Molly Pitcher and her gallant exploit at the battle of Monmouth. In that contest, which was one of the most stubborn of the American revolution, the brave Molly took her husband's place at the cannon and loaded and fired the gun during the engagement.

Glen MacDonough has written a play with Molly Pitcher as the central figure. The plucky heroine will be impersonated by Kathryn Kidder, whose talent is particularly adapted for this character. She will be seen in this city on Friday, Nov. 15, at the Lyceum.

"A Royal Prisoner."

Saturday afternoon and evening's attractions at the Lyceum will be Miss Susette Willey and Mr. True S. James in an elaborate production of "A Royal Prisoner," supported by a company of excellent artists. The scene is laid in St. Petersburg, and the time is in the early eighteenth century, when the conditions were explained by the manager, who says, "If all my shows who had conducted flirtations were to be imprisoned, we would need the walled up empire of China to hold them."

"A Royal Prisoner" has been presented with great success in New York, Boston, Patsburg and several other large cities where it received the unanimous praise from both the critics and the public as being a story of absorbing interest, clean and wholesome in its tone, its beautiful scenery and the high supporting company of excellent skill.

"The Ideals" Coming.

No manager in the amusement business has put forth such prodigious efforts to keep abreast of the times in theatrical productions as John A. Himmelein, whose big company, "The Ideals," will open their annual engagement next Monday evening. It is not a question of his doing any more business, as it is a well known fact that in past years his company has done all that the house would hold in every city visited, but it is a constant struggle to keep the scenics up to the figures of former years. Monday evening the company will present "The Electrician."

STAGE NOTES.

Clyde Fitch is mentioned as desirous to undertake the making of a play for the use of Ben Daly.

Mrs. Fiske makes formal announcement that her next medium will be a dramatization of Mrs. Burton Harrison's "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch."

Peter Dailey goes into vaudeville for the rest of the season, but he is "starred" out by Weber & Fields and will take to Walt Hoppe's role of "Mr. Pipp" in that organization next year.

Mrs. Clara Bloodgood, who has made a hit in "The Way of the World," is to become a Chicago Tribune star, and it is expected that Clyde Fitch will provide her with a medium.

John Drew's success in New York, playing "The Second in Command," has been so pronounced that his time has been again extended and he may remain until the first of the year.

When the "Blonde Rider Rush" company leaves New York it will be minus the services of Gertrude Bennett, Sydney Booth and Charles Burkinson. Cleaner people for the parts will probably be secured.

While rehearsing a reading of a play entitled "Mollie Pitcher" in New York last Wednesday Olive Oliver thrust her sword into Katheryn Kidder's shoulder, and as a result a physician had to be called. A waxed floor caused the accident. Miss Oliver slipped and gave Miss Kidder the thrust as she fell. The wound was not serious.

During the stay of George C. Tyler, of Liebler & Co., in London this summer, he entered into negotiations with Mr. Edward Rose, of the London Times, and the adapter of "Under the Red Robe" and "The Prisoner of Zenda," for his new play, entitled "The Christian King," of which play Liebler & Co. are contemplating making an elaborate production for James O'Neill next season. It is needless to say that the Edward Rose referred to and the New York adapter of several modern novels are two different persons, and that "The Christian King," in which Wilton Barrett is soon to appear, is an entirely different play.

Secret Schley Court Session.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Schley court of inquiry met today and continued its consideration of the evidence submitted to it during the trial of the case. No information is obtainable concerning the progress of the work. The court adjourned at 12.30 p. m. for the day.

SUSTAINED BY JUDGE EDWARDS

DECLARES NEW INSOLVENCY ACT TO BE VALID.

In an Opinion Handed Down Yesterday the President Judge Holds That the Act of 1901 Regarding Insolvents Is Not a Bankruptcy Law—Case in Common Pleas. Verdict in the Larned Case—Contest Over the Audit of the Godwin Estate—Other Court Notes.

In an opinion in the case of William Zacharias against the Imperial Stain, Paint and Filler company, handed down yesterday, President Judge Edwards sustains the validity of the act passed by the last legislature, dealing with insolvency.

A number of reasons were assigned by the plaintiff to defeat an assignment made under the provisions of the new act, one of them being that the act was unconstitutional because it was a state bankruptcy law adopted after the United States had passed a national bankruptcy law. Judge Edwards waives this objection aside by declaring the state law an insolvency law and not a bankruptcy law. The opinion in full is appended:

The defendant company is insolvent. Execution was issued upon plaintiff's judgment Oct. 30, 1901, and a levy made at 10.05 a. m. of that day. In the afternoon of the same day an assignment for the benefit of creditors under the Act of 1901, P. L. 901, was filed in the recorder's office. Section 10 of said act of assembly reads as follows: "Upon application of the assignee or receiver, the court shall vacate and set aside all attachments, executions, sequestrations or other legal proceedings not wholly completed, and all money in court or in the hands of the sheriff, by virtue thereof, shall be paid to such assignee or receiver. The assignee or receiver shall pay out of so much of the insolvent's estate as was attached, sequestered or levied upon, or was received from the court or sheriff, the legal cost of such vacated proceedings, as a preferred claim if the creditor's claim is afterwards allowed in the distribution of the insolvent's estate; and the creditor's claim shall also be paid thereout, if it shall be decided that, notwithstanding the provisions of this act, he was entitled to a preference."

Under this provision of the act it is our plain duty to vacate and set aside the execution in this case.

The plaintiff's counsel claims that the assignment made by the defendant is void and therefore should not interfere with the execution. He assigns several reasons for his contention:

1. The meeting of the stockholders at which the assignment was made was not regularly called, the meeting being an adjourned special meeting and the call being for the purpose of "ordering some of the creditors and if possible purchase goods to continue the business."

2. The assignment was made to O. B. Partridge, a stockholder, and is invalid because made to an interested party, contrary to the provisions of section three of the act.

3. The assignee has failed to file his oath of office as required by section 11, and has filed no bond as required by section 12.

4. The Act of 1901 is unconstitutional, because it is a state bankruptcy law, passed in contravention of Article I, section 8, of the constitution of the United States, congress having already exercised its power by passing a national bankruptcy act.

In answering these objections, we may state that there are several irregularities in connection with the assignment, but they are not of such a character as to invalidate it. The call for the special meeting of stockholders was informal and to some extent defective; nevertheless, we are satisfied that the stockholders had sufficient knowledge of the purpose of the meeting and a large majority of the stock was represented. It appears also that the assignment was not recorded forthwith, nor was a copy of it with certain schedules filed in court within five days, as required by section 9. Neither has the assignee filed any oath of office to this date, and no bond was presented until after the argument of the present rule. Several of these irregularities have been cured. According to section 11, a failure to record the assignment shall in no manner affect the instrument. The bond is now before us and will be approved. We shall permit the assignee to file his oath of office forthwith. The objection that the assignee is an interested person cannot be inquired into in these proceedings, and we are of the opinion that the act of assembly of 1901 is constitutional. It is an insolvent, and not a bankrupt law. Under it, no assignee is discharged from his indebtedness, although his creditors take all his property. Nothing but payment of the debt in full will release the debtor. Under no condition of things can the obligation of existing contracts be impaired by the operation of the new insolvent law.

Apart from these considerations and excepting the question of the constitutionality of the act, we are of the opinion that the other objections should properly be raised in the assignment proceeding itself and not collaterally in another case. We also find that it is the duty of the courts to facilitate the operation of the act of assembly in question and not to defeat its purpose unless for weighty reasons. The act is for the benefit of all creditors. It prevents an unfair preference. Yet the rights of the diligent creditor are not lost sight of in the act. According to the provisions of the section above quoted the question of the standing of a creditor who claims a preference by lien, or levy, or in some other way, shall be decided upon distribution of the insolvent estate.

Now, therefore, Nov. 13, 1901, the execution in this case is stayed without prejudice to the plaintiff's rights as to whatever preference he may be entitled to under the insolvent act or to upon distribution by the assignee of the defendant's estate.

H. M. Edwards, P. J.

The bond of the assignee was approved yesterday. It was in the sum of $10,000 and had George D. Brown and George A. Clearwater as sureties.

George L. Serfass and George T. Palmer were appointed appraisers of the insolvent estate.

Cornelius Comegys represented Assignee Partridge and H. C. Reynolds appeared for the plaintiff in the execution.

Claiming $1300 Interest.

Judge Vosburg yesterday heard arguments on the audit in the estate of John J. Goodwin, deceased, in which there is a contest between the executor, Patrick Walsh, and John J. Brown, guardian of the minor children of a deceased brother, Peter Godwin.

John J. Godwin died in December, 1893, leaving a will in which he bequeathed $4000 to the children of his brother, Peter. James Godwin, another brother, was made residuary legatee.

In 1897, the executor filed his account. He claimed he offered to pay to Brown the $4000 bequeathed to his wards, but that Brown refused it, saying he intended to contest the will. No contest was instituted, however, and now Brown is proceeding to collect the $4000 and $1300 interest. The executor refuses to pay the interest, alleging that as he offered to make payment, no interest could accrue.

Brown admits the offer but claims it was not a legal tender, and therefore did not estop interest. Walsh avers that the refusal by Brown to accept the offer to pay, converted the offer into a legal tender of just as much force as if the cash were proferred.

Welles & Torrey appeared for the guardian, S. B. Price, and P. W. Stokes represent the executor and the residuary legatee.

An audit was also made yesterday by Judge Vosburg in the estate of Alfred A. Lockhart. H. C. Reynolds appeared for the accountant.

It is announced that appeals will be taken by both parties to the Rosene Tripp case, from the opinion of Judge Vosburg filed Tuesday. The trustees of the estate will appeal from the ruling granted the allowance and the petition will appeal from the court's refusal to divide the estate.

The will of Jane Dean, late of Scranton, was admitted to probate by Register Koch. In the estate of William G. Graves, late of Jermyn, letters of administration were granted to Frank M. Graves. In the estate of Bola Gothge, late of Scranton, letters of administration were granted to Magdalena Gothge.

In Common Pleas.

The case of Kate Keegan against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company continued during all of yesterday's session, before Judge Kelly, in the main court room. The defense is trying to prove that the insured party was drawing sick benefits from the Baltimore Mutual Aid society at the time she was insured in the Metropolitan.

Judge Carpenter, sitting in No. 3, is still engaged on the case of F. C. Pilger against the borough of Throop, in which $2,000 damages are claimed for the destruction of a stock of liquors by an overflow from the street, caused by blocked gutters.

The defense is that the water found its way into the cellar by way of pipes draining the ice box and sink in the hotel, and a sink in the dwelling apartments, above the hotel.

In the case of Joseph Gilroy, trustee in bankruptcy, against Freeman Larned and Freeman Larned, jr., the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the transfer of property made by the father to the son, six months prior to the time the father filed a petition in bankruptcy, was a conveyance made to cheat the creditors.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES IN A CONFERENCE

Reciprocity in Teachers' Certificates and Normal School Diplomas for Two States Fixed.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—At a conference between the school authorities of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, held here today in the office of Superintendent of Public Education Brooks, of Philadelphia, for the establishment of reciprocity in teachers' permanent certificates and normal school diplomas, the following resolution were adopted:

"That life certificates of New Jersey State Normal schools shall be endorsed in Pennsylvania, and the diplomas (or life certificates) in the regular course of Pennsylvania State Normal schools, shall be endorsed in New Jersey.

"That the first grade certificates of New Jersey shall be endorsed in Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania practical teachers' life certificates (in the three years' regular course) and any other Pennsylvania Normal school diplomas (or life certificates) covering more extended courses than the regular Normal school course shall be endorsed in New Jersey."

This action does not establish reciprocity with reference to any normal school diploma based on the two years' elementary course. The action taken at the conference was under the authority of acts of assembly passed by the legislatures of the respective commonwealths.

Pennsylvania was represented by Dr. N. C. Schaefer, state superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Edward Brooks, city superintendent of Philadelphia, and the following principals of State Normal schools: George M. Phillips, Westchester; E. O. Lyte, Millersville; A. C. Rotherman, Kutztown; G. M. D. Eckels, Shippensburg, and George P. Bible, East Stroudsburg.

The New Jersey representatives were: Hon. C. J. Baxter, state superintendent of public instruction; Principal J. M. Green, of the New Jersey State Normal school, Trenton, and W. L. R. Haven, superintendent of schools, Morristown.

HOSPITALITY TOO EXPENSIVE.

Two National Customs of Samaons Abolished by Uncle Sam.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—While Commander Benjamin F. Tilley, commandant of the United States naval station at Tutuila, Samoa, was in Washington recently, he submitted to Secretary Long his annual report upon affairs and conditions in this island possession.

Commander Tilley says that every once in a while a whole village would make up its mind to go on a "melanga," or visiting party. All work would be abruptly stopped and all ages and sexes would start out on a wandering holiday. The spirit of hospitality, he says, is cultivated to an extreme among the natives, and at every village visited by the rovers the hosts felt it their bounden duty to entertain lavishly. The visiting party would stay at one village just as long as their entertainers would provide food for them. When supplies ran out, they bade hasty adieus and moved on to the next village to be "entertained."

Another custom was the bestowing of present of great value at weddings and other services, a practice which was carried to such excess that a single wedding often impoverished a whole village. Both of these practices were stopped, upon the suggestion of Commander Tilley, by the natives themselves.

The Right Thing.

A New Catarrh Cure, Which Is Rapidly Coming to the Front.

For several years, Eucalyptol, Guaiacol and Hydrastin have been recognized as standard remedies for catarrhal troubles, but they have always been given separately and only very recently an ingenious chemist succeeded in combining them, together with other antiseptics into a pleasant, effective tablet.

Druggists sell the remedy under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and it has met with remarkable success in the cure of nasal catarrh, bronchial and throat catarrh and in catarrh of the stomach.

Mr. F. N. Benton, whose address is care of Clark House, Troy, N. Y., says: "When I run up against anything that is good I like to tell people of it. I have been troubled with catarrh more or less for some time. Last winter more than ever. Tried several so-called cures, but did not get any benefit from them. About six weeks ago I bought a 50-cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and am glad to say that they have done wonders for me and I do not hesitate to let all my friends know that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are the right thing."

Mr. George J. Casanova, of Hotel Griffon, West 9th street, New York City, writes: "I have commenced using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and already they have given me better results than any catarrh cure I have ever tried."

A leading physician of Pittsburg advises the use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in preference to any other treatment for catarrh of the head, throat or stomach.

He claims they are far superior to inhalers, salves, lotions or powder, and are much more convenient and pleasant to take and are so harmless that little children take them with benefit as they contain no opiate, cocaine or any poisonous drugs.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package and they are probably the safest and most reliable cure for any form of catarrh.

Petticoat News

In buying for each and every department of our store we aim at distinctive styles.

Why?

Because no one cares to see her wearing apparel duplicated at every turn of the street. That we accomplish the desired result is apparent when our complete line of Black Silk and Mercerized Under Skirts is inspected. It's true, even of the least expensive design.

BLACK SILK SKIRTS

The kind every woman needs to own, made with firmly stitched seams, three rows of pleating or ruffles, and nicely finished.

$7.50 to $11.00

EACH.

Black Brilliantine Petticoats	$4.25
Black Mercerized Tucked Petticoats	1.75
Black Mercerized Ruffled Petticoats	2.50
Best Black Mercerized Petticoats	5.00

All guaranteed to give good satisfaction.

SPECIAL at $1.00 and $1.45

Two styles Mercerized Skirts, with either ruffles or rows of pleating, finished exactly like the higher priced garments
