FOOT BALL TO-DAY.

The Indians to Line Up Against the Dunmore High School at Alumni Park Today—Other Foot Ball News.

The Indian foot ball team will line up at Alumni park today against the strong eleven which upholds the Dunmore High school's glory on the grid-iron this season.

The game will be a hot one, both teams being on their mettle. The Indians will have their strongest players in today's contest, and the visiting eleven comprises a number of old foot ball stars.

On Tuesday next the High school eleven will play in Wilkes-Barre against the eleven representing Barry Hillman academy.

On next Saturday the School of the Lackawanna eleven of Scranton will contest for supremacy with the High school team in Scranton.

Homestead is not satisfied with the defeat dealt by the hands of the High school eleven and seems anxious for another game.

On Tuesday next the High school eleven will play in Wilkes-Barre against the eleven representing Barry Hillman academy.

AMUSEMENTS.

Great Speaker's Opinion. Evangelist Sam P. Jones, who has swayed thousands of souls and who knows the merits of a public speaker, says of A. W. Hawks, "The laughing philosopher," who will be at the Grand Monday night.

"To the Public—I have frequently listened to, laughed at and enjoyed the renditions of A. W. Hawks. His fun and philosophy leave a good taste in my mouth and I am always ready for more of the same."

Lyman Howe's Pictures. The success of Lyman Howe is so great that the simple announcement of the appearance of his moving pictures is sufficient to attract an immense throng to marvel at the wonders that they display.

Scenic Plays. The Huntley-Harris Stock company, which comes to the Opera house Thursday, Nov. 21, for three nights, is a very large organization to be played at popular prices.

They Are Often Together These Days. They Work Havoc All Over the County and in Scranton. Weak, nervous, the digestion out of order—that is what ails a host of people. It comes about in this way: First from overwork or other causes, the nerves are burdened beyond endurance, nerve waste is not replaced, nerve force is weakened, then the stomach loses its nerve-controlling power and indigestion follows, with falling strength.

appearance with the tables nicely arranged and laden with the choicest delicacies. There were select readings on the tables, read by Prof. A. W. Geary, Miss Maude Bartlett, Miss Edna Loomis, Miss Edith Jones and William Davis. The room will be open every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday evenings from 7.15 to 9.15.

TOWN TOPICS.

The stories of changes in the office of the superintendent of the Delaware and Hudson company have been revived, and this time Superintendent Manville, according to the gossip of the office, will be elevated to the position of general manager of the road, to succeed First Vice-President Horace G. Young, who, in turn, will become president, the successor of R. M. Olyphant, who is now at the head of the road.

There has been no official confirmation of this story, as there is the same reference in this instance as before, when there were reported changes in the office of Superintendent Manville. The story, however, has been about town for several days and has been variously discussed. The belief is that it is true, and so far as the general opinion goes it is a certainty that Mr. Manville is to be honored with a promotion. In this case the wish is the father of the thought, for it would be a source of satisfaction and delight to Carbondalians to have one of their townsmen given such recognition. The discreet silence of the company's officials does not justify any more than speculation, but it calls attention more closely to some of the recent doings of the Delaware and Hudson company, the most important of which is the building of big coal storage pockets at Homestead. Work on which will practically revolutionize the handling of coal bound for tide-water over this road.

There were many considerations to impel the company to the construction of these storage pockets, but chief among them was the economy of cars and haulage. Briefly, all the through trains, that is, the coal destined for New York city, can be made up at Homestead. There would be no necessity for hauling cars back from tide-water to the mines. They could stop at Homestead and be loaded from the pockets. No time would be lost in going over the mountain, and there would be less danger of a scarcity of cars. In the case of an increased demand of coal, as the pockets would always be kept filled, these cars could be of the advantages of the proposed order of things.

It would have required a genius to count the box that was sounded by the alarm bell in the city hall tower at the fire in progress at the South Main street last night. First, it sounded, then there were two tows, followed by 35, two again, and then a regular tattoo of raps.

It is needless to say that the failure of the bell to respond was due to the fact that the fire alarm system is being reworked by not being tested daily, as is necessary, if its highest efficiency be maintained. There is no daily test, and the consequence is an imperfect system, which is certain to cause disaster, if it is not kept in working order.

The remedy is to test the system from time to time, the necessity for a daily test, and has explained the where and why of it. Councils, with whom the remedy lies, have recognized the necessity, have taken no action, but have created a valuable time in discussing whose business it is to turn in a daily test alarm. The impression seems to be among the members of common council, particularly that it is the duty of City Electrician Gillerman to make the test, and these same members have neglected several occasions in wondering who should do this work.

For the information and enlightenment of these members, The Tribune will say that Mr. Gillerman's duties do not comprehend the daily test. He is being compensated for looking after the arrangement and re-arrangement of the fire alarm system in the city hall, but no provision is made for his going about from box to box each day sending in an alarm.

Last night's performance of the system ought to convince council that action should be taken as to the safety of the community demands.

The remedy is the compensating of Mr. Gillerman, who is the most capable person for the extra work of ringing in the alarm.

READING ROOM OPENED.

Auspicious Event at Berean Baptist Church Last Evening. There was a most auspicious opening of the Berean reading room last night. The room presented a very delightful appearance.

AMID CAMP LIFE.

Delightful Evening with the Rev. Father Daly at His Lecture "Following the Flag." An audience that almost filled St. Rose parish hall last night spent an interesting and enjoyable evening with the Rev. Father Daly, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York city, at the scene of camp life in the late Spanish-American campaign.

Father Daly was chaplain of the Sixty-ninth regiment of New York city and in the lecture, "Following the Flag" he led his hearers from the glory of the regiment to Camp Black, then to Chicanama park, to Tampa, Florida, ending with Huntsville, Alabama, where the regiment was mustered out.

By means of a stereopticon he was enabled to unfold the inner life of the regiment on the field, and the humor, pathos, and the lessons of patriotism that were to be learned from these experiences he happily presented to his hearers; one time convulsing them with laughter, and pulling the hair of some of the audience, and again causing their patriotic blood to quicken when he showed the lessons of love of country that were to be learned by the phases of the campaign that he dwelt on.

Father Daly is pleasingly descriptive; he never soars to heights of eloquence by his plainness and simplicity; his flashes of humor and versatility; he reaches his hearers and entertains them and impresses on them the message he would have them hear.

THE ELITE DANCE.

A Brilliant Social Affair Is the Parish's Second Subscription Dance. The second subscription dance of the season was conducted in Burke's hall last evening, and was a brilliant success.

The measures and success of the evening were under the patronage of the Elite dancing class, whose membership includes young people who are conspicuous in their society set. The ballroom was a brilliant picture of light and color, the music was of a very hard "pull" and the cool teams, particularly, will be greatly helped by it.

The Mozart orchestra provided the latest music that has been voted the most popular by the devotees of the art of dancing, and the young people revelled in the enjoyment of the varied pleasures of the evening.

The affair was a brilliant social success, and the young people who participated will have numerous pleasant memories to recall.

MUST ERECT FIRE ESCALERS.

Deputy Factory Inspector Bishop Gives Orders to Others Beside School Board. Deputy Factory Inspector Earl W. Bishop, of Dunmore, was in the city on a mission relating to the erection of fire escapes not only on the public school buildings, but on numerous buildings about the town.

The school board has the matter in hand and will act at the next meeting. With respect to other places where fire escapes are necessary under the factory inspection laws, Mr. Bishop notified several buildings owners in town that they, too, would have to comply with the law. Those affected by the law are all owners whose buildings are three stories or over in height. Notices were served on some of these owners, and the same notices being allowed them in which to meet the law's requirements.

Frank P. Brown has purchased in Hancock, N. Y., one of the best bred colts in this section. It is a bay, eighteen months old, and yet unbroken.

The oil is named Fred Wilkes, and was struck by Ruskil Wilkes, 208 1/2, Hooten, here, in the block with the many fine points of Frank's purchase, and predict great things of him in the future.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

Philander Scull, of the Mill House, Brown Hollow, died yesterday after a brief illness of typhoid pneumonia. Deceased was a well known resident and is survived by a wife and three children and several brothers.

A Hungarian labor employed in the Delaware and Hudson colliery, while walking up one of the planes inside the colliery, was struck by a trip of cars yesterday and received a bad scalp wound. He was taken to the Carbondale Emergency hospital.

Mr. Davis, of Providence, will preach in the Congregational church both morning and evening tomorrow. In the morning her discourse will be delivered in English and in the evening in Welsh.

The Ladies' Aid society, of the Baptist church, will serve a chicken supper on Thanksgiving night.

George McKelvey, a former employe of Michael Egan, the hardware man, is in the Emergency hospital at Carbondale, suffering with typhoid pneumonia.

Miss Jessie Winter last evening entertained the members of her Sunday school class. The boys were very hospitably entertained and enjoyed themselves very pleasantly. Those present were: William Badger, Eddie Woodworth, Charlie Parks, Bennie Benson, Willie Allen.

The musical entertainment and lecture given in the Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday evening was fairly well attended and as anticipated, much enjoyed. Rev. H. W. Dowling is an able lecturer and his subject was one that interested old and young alike. The stereopticon pictures were greatly enjoyed as was also the excellent singing of Prof. Lewis. The entertainment gave great satisfaction.

The funeral of Basil, the nine-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tighe, of Mayfield, took place Thursday afternoon. The pall-bearers were William Delmore, Joseph McCarthy, Joseph Hart, Joseph Grady, James McNulty, Dennis Moyles and Joseph Hyland.

Miss Margaret Smith, of Second street, is visiting Peckville friends. J. D. Stocker left yesterday on a business trip to New York city.

Miss Louisa Williams, who has been visiting her parents in Mayfield, has returned to her home at Scranton.

PECKVILLE.

The moose, killed in the woods of Maine recently by Messrs. Bloes, Pierce and Broad, is an object of great curiosity to the Peckville people. The animal is on exhibition at Mr. Bloes' very few of the people in this section ever saw one before, and the hunters were very fortunate in securing it, as this is the only one the Maine woods has furnished to hunters this season.

The successful hunters have generously donated the animal to the churches here for a supper, which will probably be held next week. Let everybody attend it, for in the seven hundred pounds of the huge animal there will be enough for all. Committees of arrangements will meet in the evening at the Methodist Episcopal church tonight at 7.30 o'clock.

Services in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sabbath will be as usual, the pastor preaching morning and evening.

John Mackey, aged 27 years, a miner at the Sterrick Creek mine, was instantly killed at that place early yesterday morning by a fall of rock. He was a single man and lived with his mother in what is known as the Sterrick Creek patch, located near Peckville. A funeral announcement will be made later.

Chicken thieves made a good haul on Wednesday night. They secured some seventy chickens from Hickory and Main street residents.

Mrs. Andrew Hale, of Yatesville, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Barnes.

Mr. Maple Bell left yesterday for Auburn, N. Y., where he has secured a position as chief electrician.

The Athletic club met in regular session in Odd Fellows' hall last evening to elect officers.

The Epworth League will hold a Grandmother's Garden social at the home of Mrs. R. J. Taylor, Hickory street, Tuesday evening, Nov. 19. All are cordially invited to attend.

Peckville Baptist church—R. V. J. S. Thomas, pastor. Services tomorrow at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "The Comfort of the Scriptures." In the evening, Bible day will be observed by the Sunday school. Parents and friends of the scholars are cordially invited.

Merton Hay, formerly of Green Ridge, is now residing on Hickory street. Mrs. Glauville, of Hickory street, is visiting relatives in Wilkes-Barre.

The young daughter of John Jones is improving from a severe attack of diphtheria.

W. H. Hammond, of Scranton, called on friends in town this week.

Miss Mabel Day is much improved, after two weeks' illness of quinsy.

The Wilson Fire company are making great preparations for their fair, which begins December 2. All should be interested and join in to help the boys along.

All residents of Blakely borough who have dogs running at large are requested to muzzle them for the next sixty days. All dogs found on the streets not muzzled will be shot. By order of the council.

George W. Williams, President, Attest: L. P. Dewey, Secretary.

OLYPHANT

Regular Episcopal services will be held in Edwards' hall, Blakely, tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. H. J. Haughton, of Dunmore, will conduct the services.

A. V. Bower, esq., of Scranton, will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church tomorrow evening.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Many of Them Unnecessary. Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine Have Saved Many Women From the Surgeon's Knife.

Hospitals in our great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls. Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves.

Every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back. All these things are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb.

What a terrifying thought! These poor souls are lying there on those hospital beds awaiting a fearful operation.

Do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an examination and possible operation. Build up the female system, cure the derangements which have signified themselves by danger signals, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from the hospital. Read the letter here published with the full consent of the writer, and see how she escaped the knife by a faithful reliance on Mrs. Pinkham's advice and treatment by her medicines.

If in doubt write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for free advice; her experience covers twenty years.

Here is Proof, Undeniable Proof, That Many Operations May Be Avoided.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—As I am a great sufferer of female trouble I thought I would write to you to see if you thought there was any positive help for me. I had very sore through my bowels, especially over the womb, and on the left side low down I will be given with a dull sore pain, and in an hour will be so sore that I cannot move myself, and will have to be put, and will be unable to walk for two or three weeks. I have a bad discharge at times. The doctor says I will have to go through an operation and have the left ovary removed. If you can help me let me hear from you soon."

Mrs. M. G. SHIPLEY, Upton, Wis. (Nov. 12, 1900)

"I wrote to you last fall in regard to my health. Death would have been a welcome visitor to me, but I followed your advice and am now well. I had tried everything I could hear of, went to every doctor far and near, spent a great deal of money and received no benefit. At the time I wrote you I was saving up money to go to Chicago to have an operation upon the womb and ovaries which the doctor said unless I had it would die, but thanks to your remedies, I avoided this. I took eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, two of your Blood Purifier, and used four packages of Sanative, and am a well woman. I advise every woman suffering as I did to take Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies."

Mrs. M. G. SHIPLEY, Upton, Wis. (March 30, 1901.)

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before the date of the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. John K. Berkeiser, in Blakely, at 8 o'clock Thanksgiving evening. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons entertained the members of the Blakely social club at their home on Main street, Blakely, last evening.
