MONTROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Montrose, Nov. 22.—Court continues, owing to the long drawn out railroad suit of Palmira Blauvelt vs. the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company. In order to finish the cases scheduled this week, Judge Searle held a session of court last evening and may do so tonight.

One of the cases settled this week was of more than usual interest to the general public. It was that of W. S. Mersells vs. Susquehanna county, brought by the plaintiff to secure payment of the reward of $1,000 offered by the county for information that would lead to the apprehension and conviction of the murderers of Jackson Pepper. There is no doubt but Mersells was entitled to the reward, but numerous other complainants appeared and the county deferred payment, so the matter was thrown into court for settlement. The case was to have been tried this term, but a settlement was finally effected by the county paying the costs and giving Mr. Mersells $800. Chief of Police McMahon, of Susquehanna, who was instrumental in capturing Shew and Eagan, was remembered in a substantial manner by Mr. Mersells. The fact that the right party at last receives the reward gives general satisfaction.

The Presbyterian church workers give a literary and musical social this evening at the home of Mrs. Bryce Stewart, on South Main street.

Mrs. D. W. Searle entertained a large number of Montrose ladies at tea on Wednesday afternoon, at her residence on Church street.

PITTSTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pittston, Nov. 22.—A serious mine accident occurred about noon today at the Stevens colliery of the Stevens Coal company, at the foot of the mountain in Exeter borough, eight men being burned by an explosion of gas. The following were the victims: Harry Powell, fire boss, burned about the face and hand, the latter the worse, also, side injured by the fall of rock; resides at 520 Montgomery street. Michael Trachanowich, miner, hospital; resides on Luzerne avenue. Joseph Chisilz, miner, hospital; resides 840 Luzerne avenue. John Kroshinski, laborer, hospital; resides in West Pittston. Joseph Dolioir, laborer, hospital; resides West Pittston; Andrew Gesitant, laborer, taken home; resides 840 Luzerne avenue. Adam Pladdes, miner, hospital; resides on Luzerne avenue. John Yoitski, laborer, none; resides in West Pittston. The explosion took place in the fifth or new vein of the slope workings, and the exact details as to the cause could not be learned, the injured being in no condition to explain. Although this portion of the mine is not considered gaseous, several feeders were known to exist, and the workmen were usually very cautious. The affair caused excitement throughout West Pittston and the vicinity easily felt the shock of the explosion. Five of the men, those injured worse, were hurriedly taken to the Pittston hospital, the others to their homes. The Clear Spring Coal company's ambulance and a couple of citizens assisted in taking the men from the colliery. Reports from the hospital this evening were to the effect that the men taken there were in a serious condition, and it is feared some of them have been fatally burned. The interior of the mine in the vicinity of the explosion was not seriously damaged, although a slight fall of rock followed the explosion.

The first session of the 30th Pennsylvania district convention of the Young Men's Christian association took place in the hall of the local association this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The district embraces the upper portion of Luzerne county, Susquehanna, Wayne, Sullivan, Wyoming, Pike and Monroe counties, and includes over eighteen association. About thirty delegates arrived for the opening session, but many more are expected Saturday. S. W. Dickson, of Berwick, delivered the address this afternoon, speaking on the theme, "The Keynote of the Convention." Afterward there was a Bible reading conducted by Rev. George W. Price, of Plymouth. At 5 o'clock this evening George B. Hodge, international secretary in charge of the educational work of the association, met with the educational committee and the teachers of the local association in a discussion of this important branch of the association work. This evening's session was held in the West Side Presbyterian church, the addresses being made by George B. Hodge, of New York city, and Rev. Dr. Lansing, of Green Ridge. The former spoke on educational work and the latter on the duty which the members of the community owe to the work for young men. There will be two sessions Saturday, and on Sunday the pulpits in the various churches will be occupied by delegates.

Dr. Bevan is seriously ill at his home on the West Side. The doctor suffered a paralytic stroke recently, the lower portion of his body being somewhat affected.

While strolling along the river bank below West Pittston recently Bert Rosengrin found a large package containing clothing, shoes, socks, etc. The goods were later identified as a portion of those stolen from the store of Max Dressler, at Summerville, a few weeks ago. Mr. Rosengrin received a reward for returning the goods. Mr. Dressler yesterday presented him with a 50-cent piece.

A series of meetings which have been conducted in the West Side Methodist Episcopal church for the past few weeks by Evangelist Wilson were brought to a close this evening. The meetings have been productive of much good, resulting in many conversions.

Within an hour this afternoon nine cases were brought to the Pittston hospital. Besides those injured at the explosion in the Stevens mine, there are the new patients: Joseph Levitzar, compound fracture of the leg, received while at work on the new trolley road at Dupont; John Dudley, injured on the Valley road at Laceyville, shoulder dislocated; John Saroma, arm broken in the mines at Dupont; Joseph Shimpski, a miner, bruised by a fall of rock in a West Pittston mine.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 22.—The strength in today's broad and animated market was the sequence of the sudden awakening of speculative activity yesterday afternoon. A large bear account was caught uncovered as a consequence of the persistent short selling by the professional element for some time past on the assumption that the money market could not escape a squeeze between now and the first of the year, and that the growth of the opposition in the northwest to the Northern Securities company would disseminate depression throughout the market. The unexpected collapse in the foreign exchange market and the prospect of recuperation for the money market left the bears without much ground to stand on, and they bought eagerly to cover today. This was a considerable influence in the recovery of prices. The demand for some of the favorite stocks was on a very heavy scale, and the day's transactions were run up once more to over a million shares. The considerable advance during the day invited profit taking in the final dealings, and last prices of the principal active stocks were between one and two points lower than the best. The late selling was accentuated by a renewal of the acute weakness in People's Gas on the denial of a restraining order against the assessment of taxes on the alleged high value of Illinois corporations. The stock tumbled 28 from the best, and Consolidated Gas slumped 24. The aggressive strength of New York Central and Manhattan continued a widely diffusive influence in the whole market. The determined buying of Pennsylvania and the aggressive bidding up of Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis were based entirely, to all appearances, on a purpose to restrict the disproportion in the prices of these stocks compared with the Vanderbilts. The placing of Rocking Valley on a regular 4 per cent. dividend basis was an earnest of the prosperous conditions ruling in the soft coal trade, which was reflected in the absence of practically that whole group of stocks. The October statement of the earnings of New Jersey Central, showing an increase of no less than 165 per cent. over those of October of last year was ample explanation of the recent strength in the anthracite coalers. Total sales today, 1,195,800 shares.

The railroad bond market was quite active and strong. Total sales par value, $2,750,000.

United States refunding 2s advanced ¼ per cent. on the last call.
