MABON SPEAKS TO THE MINERS

MOST IMPORTANT ADDRESS HE HAS YET DELIVERED.

Advocates the Formation of Conciliatory Boards of Arbitration and Suggests the Enactment of Laws for the Protection of the Miner and His Family in the Event of Injury or Death-A Fair Day's Wages for a Fair Day's Work. Large Audience Present.

tion. William Abrahams, the magsetic "Mabon," leader of the Welsh miners, and one of the most poted of the British memoers of parliament, addressed an immense audience of mune workers in Means' hall last night. Scated on the platform with the houred guest of the evening were Judge Edwards, Judge Carpenter and Judge Vosburg, of the local courts; President D. Nicholls, of District No. 1, of the

'nited Mine Workers of America; P.

J. Mujianey and M. S. Lavelle, representing the mine workers of West

Mr. Mullimey introduced Judge Edvaries as chairman of the evening. He addressed his audience as "Fellow workmen," explaining that he did not mean it in a Pickwickian sense, nehe is in reality a fellow coworker with the mine workers, and works as hard as most of them and harder than others, only along different lines. He understood, he said, why the bour of chairman was conferred upon him, because "Mabon" was his guest, and they could not very well invite him to speak to them without myiting his host as well, "The moon's beauty gets its reflection from the sun," he said, "and I am here because 'Mubon' is in America." "He further expressed his great gratification on "Mabon's" presence in this city, as he has been expecting him kind and generous to a fault." Chairman Edwards' remarks were athusia stiently received, and he introduced President Nicholls as the next speaker. He said it was an extreme deasure that he felt in being permitted to speak at the meeting. He greed with the judge that he works barder with his brain than some men to with their musele, but was unwilling that "Maboa's" greatness should overshadow our own Judge Edwards. It was a seculiar position be had been be deced in he said, in being called upon to speak, when he had attended the meeting for the purpose of listening to one of the world's greatest labor

ORGANIZING OF LABOR.

Mr. Nichols then proceeded to speak of the movement of organized labor in this community as he finds it exists here. The anthracite miners have been organized about three years here and are still in a very crude state, and not yet perfect by any means. It was experted, he explained, that when the om would have been reached, but it was found that when that end was eached there were other and far more reater objects to meet.

He cautioned the mine workers to be instatent, careful, and to make friends instead of enemies, who will assist them in trouble or possibly avoid diffi-uttles when they arise. "You want to command the respect of others," he said. "The support and sympathy the infine workers received it their buttle a year ago was wonerful, yet there were some people who believe, even today, that the miners are men low down in the scale, and merely dayes for the higher order of beings. but, thanks to the organizers, they have lifted them to a higher plane, and people now see them as they really are, and respect them for what they are

"It behooves you, then, to walk in the line for better conditions, and in order to do that your organization must be right, you must allow for existing conillions in order not to be too rash, and act wisely at all times. The labor apovement is something that is going thing steadily and regularly in welldefined paths, and the men require indigment and intelligence in their anies, in order that they may work out their men anivotion.
