A WEEK OF ENTERTAINMENT

The Teachers' Institute Course Will Present Two Brilliant Men. Colonel Henry Watterson and Rev. Dr. Stafford-The Other Entertainers. This week will be a week of rare entertainment for Carbondale people, The city teachers' institute course will open at the Grand tonight, and among the splendid numbers that will be presented are two brilliant men. whom it will be a rare privilege and delight to hear. They are Colonel Henry Watterson and Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford pastor of St. Patrick's church. Wash-

Colonel Watterson is unouestionably the best representative before the public of the learning and culture of the South, and aside from this, he is a man of whom the whole country can point to with pride. His connection with the Louisville Courier-Journal and his prominence before the public eye in the discussion and handling of questions of national importance are so well known that no reference to them is necessary. but it is timely, since its notice gives Carbondalians the opportunity to felicitate itself on his coming into their midst to lecture before them. The intellectual feast that he will provide has been anticipated ever since the formaannouncement of his coming, and on when he will give his masterpiece, "Abraham Lincoln," the most highly representative audience that Carbondale can produce will greet

It is as unnecessary to dilate on Dr. Stafford. His reputation as a Shakespearian scholar and asa gifted speaker and, more, his merits, for he has been heard here before, are appreciated in this city, and he will be likewise greeted on Wednesday evening, the occasion of his lecture on "Julius Caesar."

The opening number of the course. which will be tonight, is the Fadette the world. The original was the Slay ton Jubilee singers, but there were obstacles in the way of train service from Pittsburg, because of the strike, that made their arrival on time doubtful. Hence the change to the Fadette musicians. The change, however, will make Carbondale the gainer, as these musicians are a more expensive attracisfaction. Accompanying the orchestra of twenty pieces will be a soprano soloist, who will lend a charm to the even- talk on nature studies. ing's entertainment. This same organization appears at the Lyceum in Scranton this week in the Brockway course. The number Friday evening will be the Ariel Ladies' Sextette, the famous

A $10,000 FIRE.

Flames Destroy the Car. Machine and Blacksmith Shops at the Northwest.

Friday night there was a disastrous fire at the Northwest, which swept away the car, machine and blacksmith shops of Northwest colliery of the Temple Iron and Coal company at Simpson, causing a damage of $10,-

There are meagre facilities for fighting fire in Simpson, but limited as these are, a number of pumps went out of service soon after the fire started. They ceased working and could 'not be re-started. When the shops seemed doomed, all efforts were made to save the breaker, the destruction of which would be sure disaster to the village. Thanks to the work of the heorie fighters and the aid of Old Boreas, who was in a gentle mood as compared with his wild temper of the preceeding few nights, the flames were kept away from the colliery. There will be little, if any, interference with

GET OUT YOUR SHOVELS.

And Clean Your Sidewalks, Says

: City Engineer Knapp. This is the season of snow fails and snow shovels. Both of them are at Everybody has taken notice of these facts, but no one is probably so interested in the advent of the snow shovel as City Engineer Kupp, and he gwants every one else to become likerise interested. He wants the interest to broaden and take in the use of the shovels. He wants you, all of us, to clean our sidewalks. They will be cleaned, all right, but he wants you to clean them without his making any fuss. The city laws say and order them to be cleaned. Mr. Kupp appreciates how law-abiding are the people of Carbondale; therefore the people will clean their walks of what some unsuspecting humorist called the beautiful" so soon as they know that the law says they must. But as a reminder of the obedience that he looks for Mr. Kupp has to say:

Now that an old fashloned winter has paid our city another visit and our city fathers have made provision Trains leave Carbondale at city station as folto take care of the winter's product, I hope it will not be necessary to enforce these provisions and that every property owner will feel it his duty to keep the sidewalks clean, thus avoiding accidents to pedestrians and cost o damages to the city, a matter that I have paid special attention to in repairing streets and having sidewalks put in good condition. I ask the cooperation of every property owner in this matter and let us not have any more complaints

THE SUNDAY CLOSING.

It Has About Collapsed and Will Probably Be Stirred Up This

It is an open secret that the Sunlay closing movement, which made an earnest start several weeks ago, has virtually collapsed. It has been in this lifeless condition for several weeks and yesterday there was sufficient evidence to prove that its spirit had taker its flight. But there are indications, also, also, that the movement has not gone into eternal sleep. The feeling for a strict observance of the Sabbath is just as strong, among those who brought about the general closing several Sundays ago, as it was then, and some interesting developments along the line of a resurrection may be looked for with a good deal of certainty during this week. What hape this awakening will take, no one will offer himself as an authority to ay; but it is certain that some steps will be taken, steps that it is expected will bring about the results that were spected when the movement was started.

For several weeks the cigar store and the confectionery stores have not ven made a pretense of obying the order issued by Mayor Kilpatrick through Chief of Police McAndrew, when a strict Sunday closing was petitioned for by certain prominent citizens and churchmen of the town. With yesterday the saloons, it has been different. There was a strict observance on their part for a few weeks; no place could possibly be entered, but for the past two or three weeks, and particularly yesterday, it was an easy matter to olyphant friends. gain admittance and have one's desires satisfied. The day was what could be called on open Sunday. There was no attempt at cloaking the transactions no fear betrayed as to the infractions of the law.

words, it was a bluff, but the steps Friday evening, that will be taken this week will show that it is the purpose to reform, at least, the way of the Sunday observance, or lack of observance, as has been true of the city for some time.

of the retail association that they ar expected at the meeting which will take place at the usual place. There are two important matters to se disposed of at this meeting. In the first place officers are to be nominated, and there are a number of elgars to be smoked. There's no serious doubt as to the members being on hand for the eigar incineration, but they are urged to be on hand early to participate in the nomination of officers. This s one of the most important, the most important matter, it might be said, that could call for attention and it is hoped that there will be such an appreclation of this fact that the me ing will be the most largely attended of the year.
