

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

ENTERTAINMENT BY LADIES OF THE G.A.R.

Captain James Ham Circle Follows Initiation with a Delightful Social Session.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Honesdale, Dec. 9.—On Friday evening last, Captain James Ham circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., of Honesdale, initiated two new members into their already large circle, and also entertained Mrs. Frances L. Holgate, department inspector of Lehigh, Pa., and Mrs. Catherine DeLaury Roche, department president of Scranton, Pa.

At the close of the meeting the members of the circle, together with their guests and the members of Captain James Ham post, Grand Army of the Republic, entered the spacious dining-room, where dainty refreshments were served, after which Hon. Henry Wilson introduced LeGrand Wright, department inspector of Scranton, who gave a delightful talk, which included many very interesting anecdotes of the work in which he served.

Following Mr. Wright's talk, Mrs. Holgate delivered a most eloquent address, in which she touched upon the good work which various circles were doing for the Orphans' school at Chotterville, Pa., after which a collection was taken, which will be used to purchase Christmas gifts for these homeless children. Mrs. Holgate's daughter is a teacher in this school, and is deeply interested in the welfare of these children.

Mrs. Catherine DeLaury Roche then spoke on various subjects of interest, and in a most charming manner presented the retiring president, Mrs. D. B. Mante, with a gold watch, and expressed to Mrs. Mante the deep appreciation the circle felt for the faithful manner in which she had performed her duties as president, and by this small token desired to show the same, as each member of the circle individually contributed. Mrs. Mante then thanked the circle for this gift, and assured them that when she would look at the watch it would not only remind her of the hour of the day, but would also remind her of the many pleasant hours she had spent with them.

All present went home feeling well pleased with their evening's enjoyment, and hoping to renew the acquaintance of their guests in the near future.

MONTROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Montrose, Dec. 9.—December argument court opened before Judge Scoble in this place today.

W. E. Lyons leaves tonight for New York city in business.

H. H. Fordham and A. L. Titman returned Saturday from a business trip to Scranton.

Frederick Ridley, of Springfield, was here visiting his mother, Mrs. Warren E. Titman.

Miss Carol Head, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Read, treated a large number of her little friends to a delightful sleighride party on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. F. A. Boddyck is visiting friends at Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton.

Mrs. A. M. Bedford has returned from Greene, N. Y., where she was called by the sickness and death of her sister, Mrs. M. J. Windsor. She was accompanied home by her brother, H. S. Dunn, of Wilkesport.

The First of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin was celebrated by special and appropriate services at St. Mary's Orthodox church, on Sunday morning.

S. E. Wright returned to his home in this vicinity on Saturday evening, after a three weeks' absence, during which he visited relatives in New York city and attended to some business at Washington, D. C.

L. W. Oatley is at Binghamton on business.

Miss Bessie Palmer entertained a party of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hawley, Seneca Hill, on Friday evening.

S. H. Johnson, proprietor of "Perry Hall," a noted hotel, is at Crystal Lake, this country, accompanied by his wife, Carrie Palmer, of this place, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Bissell, at their home on Depot street.

Evan J. Fudge, for more than two years a student of the Independent Republican, has gone to Philadelphia to receive his diploma of the Transcript Ledger office in that place. Mr. Fudge's friends and associates in Montrose heartily regret his removal from this place.

The excellent sleighing of the last few days has brought out an unusual number of men, and the roads, though thick with snow and all sorts, are being kept in repair, and only one has been attended with any serious results. That occurred this morning, while Mrs. W. W. Woodfill and a young man were driving about town with Grover Kelly's horses, two teams collecting the laundry work, and Montrose station and at about half past seven. As a sharp turn was made at the corner of Cherry and Maple streets, the occupant was thrown violently out onto the icy street, and Mrs. Woodfill sustained painful injuries to one of her legs, but owing to its present swollen state, the attending physician is unable to state at this time whether it is badly sprained or broken.

HAMILTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Hamilton, Dec. 9.—Miss D. P. Hamlin has closed her summer cottage and left for Worcester, Mass., where she will spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. A. D. Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wright have been visiting friends in Jersey and Scranton for several days.

Mr. H. E. Nicholson recently returned from a hunting expedition in Pike county, and as a result of his trip the neighbors are enjoying a feast of venison.

Mr. A. J. Stocker has been visiting his daughter, May, who is a senior at Bloomsburg Normal school.

Miss Sadie Watson, of Scranton, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, of the East Side.

Mr. Homer Polson, student at Susquehanna Normal school, visited his parents here Sunday last.

Miss Malvina Jones soon leaves for Jersey, where she intends spending the winter.

Mrs. Alkmann and little daughter, of Asbury, spent Thanksgiving with Miss Anna Alkmann, a teacher in our public school.

G. W. Shantz, Robert Spangenberg and T. H. Oatley, all prominent citizens, expect next summer by erecting storage houses for ice, and if the weather continues as for a week past the ice crop will be large.

Mrs. Ames Brooks, who has been sick for the past three months, is still confined to her room, but is improving slowly.

It is not necessary for the horses to go snowless, as we have fine blacksmiths within one and one-half miles travel.

Sledding is good and the general health of the people fair.

Mr. Fred Lehr, Marble Dealer, of Green Ridge, recently erected a neat monument on the Blawie family plot.

Miss Vera Chapman is able to be out, after having been confined to the house for several weeks with a dislocated ankle.

Miss Conomos, principal of the Bidwell Hill girls' school, expects to go to the city next evening at the expense of Gilbert Barto to raise funds for it, and as a result of the party the young people report a good time and a good time in the treasury.

Mrs. E. A. Quimby, who last spring underwent a severe surgical operation at Thompson's hospital,

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Dec. 9.—There was a lively stock market of speculative movements in stocks today, accounted for by a threatening frost which caused some alarm during the early hours of the day. In the afternoon there was a sudden fall in the market, followed by an orderly scramble among the brokers to cover their short contracts. An amalgamated company continued to maintain its optimistic position with the market today.

The opening sales carried the stock back to 65, but the demand was so strong that the price was held at 65, although the support was always offered as it neared 63. The bears became alarmed at the rise of the stock, and in the hour ended the price rose to 67, the firms holding against each other. The first price was but a shade lower. The support offered to support a price of 65, but the market remained momentum, quite a list of important stocks rising a price over Saturday. With a rise in the call loan rate, the market was again active, and the market was held up by the heavy demand for stocks and unissued stocks. Prices generally touched the low point of the day on this stamp, although some stocks were moved down under intense selling pressure. The market closed at 67, with the price up to 68, and the market was held at 68.

A good company, a fine performance and a crowded house are the plaudits that tell the story of this a remarkable addition and speaks well for the success of the new denomination. Rev. William Hollenden, the pastor, preached yesterday morning on the word "Blessed" and in the evening on the text, "A Red Too Short and a Covering Too Narrow."

Old Santa Claus wants to get ready for a start upon his annual visit to good little boys and girls, but his team of reindeer is nowhere to be seen. Where are they?

Frigid was a very interesting affair. There were eighteen participants, and the contestants handled their subject with remarkable aptitude. The question was "Resolved, That Lincoln was more eminent than Washington?" Miss Margaret O'Hara led the affirmative, and Miss Elizabeth, the leader of the negative. The judges, Rev. R. L. Clark, Rev. C. A. Spalding, F. M. Gardner and F. L. Gedde, gave the decision to the Lincolites. The scholars are making a marked improvement in their debates, and the monthly intellectual wrestle is now eagerly awaited by the audience.

Thomas Jones, a resident of Pleasant Mount, well known here, was killed by a horse he was leading to water on Saturday. It is not known positively whether the animal kicked or slipped and fell on Mr. Jones, who was a man of about sixty years. It is said that he was a member of the local chapter of the Knights of Columbus.
