GOBIN IN THE CITY. Came Here to Attend Performance of the "Kardia Komos." Lieutenant Governor J. P. S. Gobin arrived in the city yesterday to attend the performance of "Kardia Komos" at the Lyceum last evening, under the auspices of the Spanish War Veterans' association. He was met at the Delaware and Hudson station at 5:30 o'clock by Colonel E. H. Ripple, Colonel H. A. Coursen and Lieutenant Colonel C. C. Mattes, and escorted to the Lyceum, where he held an informal reception. Accompanying General Gobin was Colonel C. B. Dougherty, Adjutant Frantz and Major Sharpe, of the Ninth regiment, Wilkes-Barre. They had been attending a meeting yesterday at Wilkes-Barre of the brigade examining board. When seen by a Tribune man, General Gobin declined to discuss state politics, and when asked if he was acting governor during the absence of Governor Stone in Mexico, said he was keeping as far away from Harrisburg as possible, and admitted that he has not performed any of the duties of the office. After dinner the lieutenant governor, accompanied by Colonel Ripple and several other military men, inspected the new Thirtieth regiment armory, and all were delighted with its adaptability for regimental purposes. The party afterwards went to the Lyceum and occupied boxes, as the guests of the Spanish War Veterans' association. All expressed themselves as well pleased with the performance.

CONDITION DANGEROUS. Leg of Daniel McAuiliffe in Which the Bullets Lodged Had to Be Amputated. S. F. Cosgrove, the Drummond agency detective, who is charged with shooting Daniel McAuiliffe, of West Scranton, in the leg, during some rioting at Luzerne and Sixteenth streets on Monday last, was arrested yesterday by Captain Thomas L. Williams, on a warrant issued at the instance of Chief Bohling, and he was held in hearing and entered bail in the sum of $2000, the Title Guaranty and Trust company furnishing the bond.

Owing to the nature of McAuiliffe's injury, and his present condition, a statement was taken from McAuiliffe at the hospital yesterday, which is as follows: "I believe I am about to die. My name is Daniel McAuiliffe. I formerly lived at 223 Seventeenth street in the city of Scranton, Lackawanna county, on Monday, the 9th day of December, I was in Dominick Moran's saloon or tavern, went outside and was shot in the left leg by a man whom I believe to be S. F. Cosgrove. That I believe to be the man who was arrested and held by the doctors at the Lackawanna hospital that blood poisoning has set in and I am now recovering from its effects. I am positive that it was S. F. Cosgrove who fired the shot that took effect in my leg. Frank Katrinsky was there and said he had a warrant for a person unknown to him and it was given under the name of John Doe. I was not engaged in the trouble with a man by the name of William Magrhan. The shooting took place immediately in front of Moran's saloon or tavern on Sixteenth street. At the corner of Luzerne street, in the city of Scranton, Pa. That other shots were fired. I merely went outside of the saloon to see what was going on. The constable or officer had dragged Magrhan outside and had a revolver in his hand. As soon as they got outside the firing commenced. There were three shots and they all started clanking. Daniel McAuiliffe. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of December, 1901. John T. Howe, Witness present, John McAuiliffe and Thomas L. Williams, captain of police.

AMERICAN JACKIES. "The American Jackies" did a march and song, and Jenkin Lewis sang "Davy Jones," in a way that brought him a shower of applause. The Jackies were: Masters Russell Fern, Willie Bruning, Willie Evans, George Davis, Samuel Baker, Archie Swinge, Thomas Markey, Reese Evans, Willard F. Jones, Roy Hill, Arthur Haney, Edgar James, Joseph Phillips, George Albert, Adelbert Roberts, Richard Rome.

Young women in military suits and armed with swords gave a well-executed drill, and with the singing were accompanied Miss Geraldine Phillips as she recited the "Charge of the Light Brigade," in a dramatic manner. "Brigada," one of the best drills of the night was executed by the following young women: Stella Benjamin, Margaret Griffith, Helen Joseph, Bertha Williams, Grace Biddleman, Gertrude Johnson, Cora Hallett, Nellie Phillips, Bessie Stanton, Nellie Miles, Maud Dugger, Fannie Duggan, May Jones, Esther Holmes, May Pryor, Madeline Staples, Miss Myfanwy Beynon sang "For Old Glory."

The following comprised the "Corps d'Armen" and they executed a firing drill: The Misses Anna Jones, Cinderella Morse, Della Davies, Alice Jones, Bessie Croft, Gertrude Jones, Flossie Frank, Olive Thomas. The "Knights of Steel" were: Howard Ruthmal, Louis Hopp, George Bonham, William Fisher, Jr., Wm. Jones, Edward Young, Leander Hughes, George Cleveland, Fred Stevens, Herman Schwenker, Adam Maus, KARDIA KOMOS IS A SUCCESS. PLEASED THE AUDIENCE THAT SAW IT LAST NIGHT.

All of the Dances and Marches Were Wonderfully Given—General J. P. S. Gobin and Other Distinguished Military Men Present—Baton Presented to Mrs. D. B. Thomas by the Members of the Choral Union, Through General Gobin—Performance Will Be Repeated Today.

The opening performance of the "Kardia-Komos" was given last night in the Lyceum and will be repeated this afternoon and tonight. There was a fair sized audience, which greatly enjoyed the entertainment. In the lower boxes on the right hand side of the house were General J. P. S. Gobin, commander of the Third brigade; Colonel C. B. Dougherty, of Wilkes-Barre, commander of the Ninth regiment; Colonel L. A. Waters, commander of the Thirtieth regiment; Major W. W. Inglis, ordnance officer of the Ninth regiment, and Major Sharpe, also of the Ninth. The theater was extensively draped with the national colors. Miss Sara A. Jones, of West Scranton, was the director of the entertainment, and the Spanish War Veterans for whose benefit it was held owe her much. The results she obtained from the children who volunteered their services shows her great ability in that direction and the stage pictures achieved shows that she has true artistic feeling.

The entertainment opened with a march during which all of the participants, except the members of the Ladies' Choral union, appeared upon the stage. After this was the dance of the Quakers, in which nine little Quakeresses and six young men participated. A novel little dance that pleased the audience immensely. The children were all under 12 and were costumed in Quaker style. Miss Florence Thomas and Willie Reese sang a duet in connection with the dance that was very entertaining. The choropones of this dance were Mrs. Thomas E. Gilman and Miss Mary Daniels.

A MAY DAY PETE. On came twenty-six more little ones who gave a "May Day Fete," making merry about a gaily decorated May pole. They were chaperoned by Miss Sarah Williams, Miss Lizzie Hughes and Miss Mary Carpenter. The "Kardia Komos" was a beautiful dance, executed by fourteen young misses. It was designed by Miss Jones, the director of the entertainment and was a mass of color and picturesque posings. The choropones were Miss Marie Rosear and Miss Mary Wetheroh, and the participants were: The Misses Marie Rosear, Stella Thomas, Mabel Evans, Lena Lentes, Sadie Vorhees, Pearl Sankor, Irene Roberts, Emma Scheuch, Maud Wetheroh, Vera Williams, Cora Young, Romaine Sprinks, Alberta Miree, Mary Thomas, Maud Jones, Estella Kolb. In connection with this dance Miss Maud Wetheroh recited "Money Musk" and "In My Grandmother's Day."

The following young ladies gave some "Passe Pastiques": The Misses "Flossie Frank, Lizzie Al. Hoyett, Edith Wallace, Carrie De Wilde, Mae Richards, Mary Evans, Dora Jones, Bertha Simms. The cupid was Miss Irene Spencer. At this point the Ladies' Choral union, under the direction of Mrs. D. B. Thomas, sang "Auld Lang Syne" in a faultless manner. This is the organization which won the prize and a high tribute from "Mabon" at the celebrated night in North Scranton on Thanksgiving day. The choir had to respond to an encore, and as it fled back on the stage Mrs. Thomas was confronted by General Gobin, who in a very felicitous speech presented Mrs. Thomas, on behalf of the union, with a beautiful baton. It has an ivory handle, is tipped with gold and has Mrs. Thomas' initials engraved upon it.

Henry Schwenker, and they gave a very clever drill. In connection with it Miss Geraldine Phillips and Miss Cora Young recited. The closing tableau was very beautiful. ACCIDENT AT THE "Y" An Empty Gondola Left the Rails and Went Flying Across Lackawanna Avenue. A peculiar accident occurred last night about 8:30 o'clock at the "Y" on Lackawanna Avenue. A train consisting of sixty empty large size gondolas was moving across the avenue on the north bound track when one of the cars in about the centre became uncoupled from the car ahead of it. This was at a point just south of the avenue and on the plaza in front of the Lackawanna station. The car left the track and was sent plunging across the street. Tom Carey, the gateman, heard a warning cry given by some passerby and jumped back just in time to escape being struck by the car which ran into the gate, smashing it into splinters and after crossing the sidewalk finally stopped on the other side.
