The officers of the Bellevue Welsh Presbyterian church met in session on Thursday afternoon, December 12, 1901. to consider what steps would be taken to previal on their pastor, the Rev. W. Dayles, to withdraw his resignation which was handed in a few Sundays ago. After some discussion they in a body waited on Mr. Davies at his home. They one and all greatly deploced the wrong inflicted upon their pastor by allowing sentiments of labor unious to apply to conduct in church matters, and the fullest apology was made for from Oneonta to be present at the octhe injury done, and at the same time casion, fully justified Mr. Davis's action in maintaining his personal rights. In reply Mr. Davis spoke strongly on the cyll of allowing such worldly mat-management of the church, showing hew impossible it is for any church to succool where such influences prevail. He stated that he had not the slightest feeling of animosity towards any persou in the church, but that he would on no account labor in a church where anything of this kind is permitted. In enswer to this they immediately gave they fullest assurance, that such thing lows: should never again occur and urgently Maud Perry; Maud, Avis Tibbits; pressed Mr. Davies to reconsider his Mary, Margaret Utt; Little Old Man, decision, bringing as acguments the Arthur Beck; Mollie, Ruth Fritz; marked success which had attended Sarah, Ruth Bryant; Fairy, Ruth the church since his advent among Acker; them and the widespread feeling of sorrow prevailing in the church and Thomas: Charity, Stella Hallet, neighborhood at the thought of his deparime.

Dinner to Official Board. The Rev. and Mrs. H. C. McDermolt, of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner on Thursday, the members of the official board and their wives. The occasion was informal and most delightful. A pleasing incident was the appearance of a committee from the busness meeting of the Epworth League bearing a nice bulletin board for the use of the church which was presented by Mr. Walter Northup in a neat speech. The president of the board of trustees accepted gracefully the timely gift complimenting the young people on their thoughtfulness. W. Gaylord Thomas made a felicitous
