Gamble Concert Tonight.

Ernest Gamble, assisted by Miss Grace Jenkins, violiniste, and Frederick Morley, pinnist, will be at the Grand tonight, the third number in the Smithsinger course of Brockway entertainirs. A rare concert is promised. Mr. Samble has a splendid baritone voice and has won the reputation of being an artist. The programme will be on the following order:

Liszt, Polonaise in E major, Freder ick B. Morley; Guido Papini, Saltarella, Miss Grace Jenkins: Ambrose Thomas "Le Tambour Major," (The Drum Major) Ernest Gamble; Schytte, Adagio and Allegro from Sonata in B flat, Mr. Tschalkowsky-Sauret. Nocturne, (b) L'Abeille (The Bee), Miss Jenkins; Haydn, (a) Recit.: "At Last the Bounteous Sun," Air: "With Joy Impatient Husbandman." "Early One Morning," (c) "Young Richard," Mr. Gamble; Chopin, Scherzo in B Minor, Mr. Morley; Ries, Adagio from Third Suits, Miss Jenkins; Sieviking (a) "The Wooing," Homer Norris, "Three Roses Red." Irish song, "My Love Nell," Mr. Gamble.

"The Parish Priest."

If the sale of seats continues as it through yesterday, Daniel Sully will be greeted with a crowded house when he appears in "The Parish Priest" at the Grand on Saturday even-

Sully is a favorite in Carbondale and can count his admirers here by the hundreds. Everybody knows what a species wholesome play he has in Dan "Parish Priest." The characters are taken from our midst and appear as mtural as they are seen hereabouts every day. The wit and humor of the characters who tell the story of the piece are as bright and enjoyable as one can hear in a community rich with these characteristics. The character of old Michael Kearney is so true that one believes he is in the company of the original.

TIMELY TOPICS.

J. H. Thomas, Postmaster.

The ordinance of comon council known as the "Whitfield ordinance," calling for a general laying of side walks throughout the city, is a measure that commends itself to every councilman and merits his heartiest support. It is a measure that is a step in the narch of municipal progress that should be encouraged. It aims at oringing the city from the boulevard place in which it is traveling along this ine and if enacted into legislation will accomplish much good. A city that is packward in improvements has no claim to being a city. Good streets well paved, well kept and well lighted mean more for its welfare than can be estimated in dollars and cents. A city Sondays without these improvements is no city, it is a hamlet or a village and Carbondale has not a superbundance of any of these: the truth is, she is deplorably lacking in them, as compared with other cities of the third-class. Munici-Trains leave city station, Carbondale, daily except Sunday) at 7,00 a. m. and 4.22 p. m. for pall pride, leaving out the crying strandt and Ninoveh; at 9.53 a. m., daily texture of the control of the c compel councilmen to pass this ordin ance. This postponement may mean the strengthening of any weak points in the ordinance, if any are apparent and for this reason the delay may be of bene-But the measure should not be allowed to die. It should be taken up at an early meeting, the earliest that may be opportune and urged to a speedy adoption. There is a strong sentiment in it's favor, this The Tribune has discovered; but even if there should be ome objection, no more than specious easons can be raised against it. It means a forward step for the city, the same as the big improvements which were carried out a few years ago namely, the paying of Belmont, South Main and River streets. Then ther was a loud protest, but today the citizens who were among the opposition
