The Only Man Who Ever Loved His Neighbors as He Did Himself-An Effort Upon Part of Enterprising Citizens to Keep Off the Drought. A Woman Who Did Her Duty. The News Record.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Dec. 31 .- The local clergy often tell their congregations to love their neighbors as themselves. The advice is most excellent. Only one man ever lived who loved his neighbors as he did himself. His neighbors put him to death as a reward for his unselfish devotion to their temporal and eternal interests.

If a man goes wrong kick him. That's the way to induce him to do right. If a person does not like you kick him. That's the way to win his love. If a child falls down and soils its clean apron kick it. That's the way he crept nearer, until he finally caught to make it solid on its underpinning. If a horse is skittish and wild kick him. That's the way to make him gentle. A good, stubbed boot will conquer all the evil in the world if properly applied.

Bill Hetrick had an exciting adventure in Deep Hollow on Saturday. While on his rounds for rabbits he heard the most appalling screeches and cries. Curiosity overcame his fears, as sight of a wildcat, which had been caught by one leg in a trap.
