THE MARKETS

Wall Street Bevlew. New York, Jan. 2 .- The first day of rading for the new year on the stock exchange was signalized by a jump in the volume of transactions to upwards a million shares. The coalers and the Pacifics were easily the leaders in the market, but the dealings were broadly distributed and the strength was very fairly disseminated through the general list. The industrial stocks were inconspicuous, except for a few of the important issues, such as United States Steel, Sugar and Amalgamated 'opper and People's Gas. Amalgamated Copper had a period of weakness dur-ing the early part of the day, and Sugar howed occasional relapses. There was ery heavy realizing in the course of the day, but the offerings were well taken and at a cost of only fractions in the prices. The way in which one stock or group of stocks and then another was brought forward into the advance was characteristic of the methods of professional operators of large calibre and as each new point of strength deceloped the preceding stocks were sold to realize.

The demand was apparently based on general considerations of a good prospect of continued prosperity of the country for the new year and the hope of an early relaxation in the money market. The inspired intimations of th completion of the retirement of Northern Pacific preferred and of the rapid progress of exchange into the Northern Securities company's stock had a nota ble effect in relieving the depression which was caused by the fears that project would be obstructed before its successful consummation. The pay ment for redemption of Northern Palific preferred was believed to be a factor in relieving the money market The prospect of a further effect from the large January disbursements was an additional motive in the speculation. With the Northern Pacific project out of the way, it is believed that other projects for combinations will be pushed forward. It is confidently believed that the anthracite coalers are destined for such a combination. The speculation in this group and the Pacifies today may be attributed to these causes. The buying of Baltimore and Ohio was by the same brokers conspicuous in the operations in the anthracite group, It was asserted that the Pocahontas Coal company had arranged for royalties on much of its coal land from companies controlled by the United States Steel corporation, which helped the strength in Norfolk and Western and also in United States Steel. The prediction by the recognized authority in the trade that the coming year will be one of the banner years in the steel industry, and rumors of unimpaired earnings for December, also helped the United States Steel stocks Reports were current of a coming consolidation of electrical manufacturing companies. The closing was active and asy on realizing. Total sales today, 1,-052,400 shares. The railroad bond market was active Differences of Opinion as to Whether It Is a Curse or Blessing.

in the New York Tribune

With Christmas at hand the land is ent in twain by two fiercely opposed opinions about the Christmas tree. A sad, despairing, wailing, rancous notomes from up the state, and a tone of theer and good will responds from the alsam forests of Maine. Up New York state some of the newspapers have been seized with a griping colle, and they say that the Christmas tree is an outrage on modern society. The cutling of Christmas trees is the cutting off of the forests, with all the horrors which that implies, and it should be stopped forthwith: and, moreover,

Christmas trees are of no use. On the other hand, a dispatch to this paper from Bangor says that the industry in Christmas trees is nothing short of a blessing to the people of the state of Maine, and a blessing which works both ways. For not only do the farmers on whose land they grow get good little amounts of money which are needed and right welcome, but the renoval of the trees is a positive benefit.
