

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

TUNKHANNOCK.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Tunkhannock, Jan. 4.—Miss Frances Bolton, an old resident of this town, died at the home of Mrs. James Young on Harrison street, on Saturday morning. She had been an invalid for more than a year past.

Mrs. Anna Crowley, an aged lady, who has been ill for the past week with pneumonia, is failing slowly, and little hope is entertained of her recovery. Es-sheriff Hiram Carter and ex-county Commissioner Henry C. Hunsell, both of whom are now residents of Wilkes-Barre, were calling on old acquaintances here on Saturday. Attorney Charles H. Little, of Scranton, spent Sunday with his parents at this place.

George C. Thrasher, the Noxen merchant, was a caller in town on Saturday. Seth Squires, of Unaca, N. Y., a former resident of this county, visited his brother at this place on Saturday. There will be a regular meeting of the Women's Relief corps on Tuesday evening, Jan. 7, at Grand Army hall.

WIMMERS.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Wimmers, Jan. 5.—The Ladies' Aid society of the Evangelical church met at the home of Mrs. George Black on January 2. Revival meetings will begin at the Evangelical church, Monday evening. Mrs. J. Brown is recovering from severe eye trouble, which threatened her eyesight. The Fishing club held their annual oyster supper and social at the home of William Emery on New Year's eve. Twenty-five were present. Alton B. Hammond was a caller here last Friday.

Miss Nettie Benjamin, of Scranton, was a visitor here on New Year's day. Many of the railroad men have resumed work. The stockholders of the First National bank of Jersey met in Assembly hall on Saturday afternoon and organized by electing the following directors: S. C. Whitmore, Mayfield; John W. Cure, Tompkinsville; Maxwell D. Lathrop, Carbondale; Andrew Mitchell, Jr., Carbondale; J. M. Dermott, George S. Dunn, T. B. Crawford, C. F. Baker, M. D. Cure, Tompkinsville and Justice Bishop, Archbald; George W. Cramer, Tompkinsville.

John W. Cure was made president; S. C. Whitmore, first vice-president; C. F. Baker, second vice-president and T. B. Crawford, cashier. A committee was appointed to look up a suitable location for the bank and are to report at another meeting of the stockholders which will be held in the same hall next Monday afternoon. The need of a bank in Jersey has been felt for several years past and at times half-hearted efforts have been made to organize one but the feeble efforts resulted in nothing until George S. Dunn took hold of the matter and he has met with signal success. The capital stock of $25,000 has been fully subscribed and in a few weeks the bank will be opened. All the directors are well known and substantial men and the cashier, Mr. Crawford, who has been a resident of the borough for many years, is a young man who enjoys the fullest confidence of the community and who will make a careful and capable official.

There was a small blaze at the home of Coal Operator Sherwood on Fourth street Saturday evening, which was happily discovered in the neck of time and quenched before it succeeded in doing any serious damage. The fire was caused by the furnace in the cellar and had burned a hole completely through the floor of the room above it when discovered. Frank Baker, who for the past three years has been employed at the Delaware and Hudson depot, resigned on Saturday to accept a position as telegraph operator with the Ontario and Western Railroad company at Mayfield yard. John Kiker, of Mayfield, succeeds him at the Delaware and Hudson depot.

Mrs. W. C. Nicholson, of Main street, spent yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Van Gorder, of Scranton. The magazine club met at the home of Mrs. Willard B. Dobson on Second street, last Friday evening. Prof. H. N. Barrett, who with Mrs. Barrett have been spending their vacation at Lakewood, Susquehanna county, was taken seriously ill of bronchitis a few days ago on Saturday. A telegram was received from him asking the board to prolong his vacation for a week as he was not well enough to resume his duties. The schools will reopen today.

There will be several new attractions at the Sacred Heart church fair this week. Tonight the Knights of Father Matthew of Archbald will give an exhibition drill and tomorrow evening the Young Men's Institute of Green Ridge, will attend in a body.

TAYLOR.

The next attraction at Weber's rink will be the DeVere Vandeville company, composed of twenty artists of ability and reputation, tomorrow evening, January 7. The contests for the china set of dishes and gold watch, for the benefit of the American Protestant association, No. 112, will take place next month, when they will conduct a concert in connection with the contests. The condition of Edward Lewis, of Abertown street, who was so terribly injured at the Allis-Chalmers conpany's works at Scranton on Friday, is critical. Mr. Lewis was employed as a machinist, and was at work assisting in removing a heavy piece of machinery, which was being hoisted by a crane. The crane broke and the heavy material bore him to the ground. His injuries consist of a broken back, leg fractured in two places and a dislocated shoulder.

Taylor colliery will resume operations this morning, after an idleness of a few days. All candidates of the Fourth ward are requested to register before and not later than Thursday, January 11. By order of vigilance committee, James Price, Richard Williams and Lewis Lewis. The following are the officers to be balloted for at the coming primaries: Councilman, school director, auditor and constable.

The members of Taylor Hose company, No. 1, are putting forth all possible efforts to make their annual masquerade ball, to be held at Weber's rink on February 6, a grand success.

PICTURE PUZZLE.

Find a cat, dog, rabbit and a duck.

Solutions for Last Week's Puzzles:

Monday, Dec. 28.—Henry. Can. Tuesday, Dec. 29.—Coker. Wednesday, Jan. 1.—Hold picture upside down and you will find the hunter in the lower left-hand corner. Thursday, Jan. 2.—Wellington.

Friday, Jan. 3.—The brother can be found near the stump to the right of the picture. Saturday, Jan. 4.—Picture No. 1.—Remove matches Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7, and form another square the same shape as the first. In the second picture remove six matches, leaving enough to spell the word TEN.

Those who have not costumes of their own can be furnished on the evening of the next.

The first rehearsal of the Taylor Oratorio society was held last evening at the Calvary Baptist church, on Judas Maccabees, and was well attended.

Misses Jessie Harjos, Mary and B. Timlin and Mr. Bayard T. Griffiths, students of Stroudsburg State Normal school, will return this morning to resume their studies.

Emblem division, No. 57, Sons of Temperance, will meet in regular session this evening.

T. A. Evans visited friends in Peckville yesterday. In other words, if labor is dull, business is slow. When the millions who represent labor are kept steadily employed peace and contentment is everywhere.

Richard Gendall, of Crawford, N. J., called on friends in town recently. Miss Maud Davis returned on Saturday to resume her studies at Stroudsburg State Normal school, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, of Stroudsburg, Pa., in visiting his mother, Mrs. William Burns, on Grove street.

Mrs. W. R. Jones has returned to her home in Carbondale, after being the guest of her mother, Mrs. R. W. Reese, of Main street. Miss Minnie Evans has returned to her home in Hazleton, after spending the past two weeks with relatives in town.

Daniel Phillips, of Dighton, Pa., is visiting relatives in town. Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon, of Lincoln Heights, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Reese, of Union street, yesterday.

OLYPHANT

The young people of the Susquehanna street Baptist church will conduct a "Glee Club" Thursday evening. At the close of the programme refreshments will be served.

Tomorrow night "Fazio Romani" will be the attraction at the opera house. Miss Nellie Ryan has accepted a position as operator in the Lackawanna Telephone exchange in the Atherton building.

P. F. Malley, who has been spending the holidays at his home on Dunmore street, returned to the university of Pennsylvania yesterday. The Excelsior Hose company's fair in Lloyd's hall will be continued three evenings this week. Tonight an attractive programme which has been arranged will be given. Door prizes are awarded every night.

Mrs. Richard Evans, of Jersey, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. M. Evans of Lackawanna street, returned home Saturday. Harry E. Jones will return to Philadelphia today to resume his studies at the university of Pennsylvania.

P. J. McDonnell, of Archbald, was a caller in town Saturday. LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune does not assume responsibility for opinions here expressed.

Cure for Labor Strikes. Editor of The Tribune:— Sir: You have reported short letters of public interest from the readers of The Tribune. I desire to express my reasons for saying this. I have been reading the news of the numerous labor troubles and strikes in the vicinity of Scranton during the past year have become a public nuisance, and been the means of driving people and was a wise and noble president, I believe that his successor, President Roosevelt, will prove to be his equal. In other words, if labor is dull, business is slow. When the millions who represent labor are kept steadily employed peace and contentment is everywhere.

The debate between those famous, learned and eloquent men on Monday will be a battle royal that no one can afford to miss. Seats are now on sale.

"Foxy Quiller." The important event of the present theatrical season from a musical standpoint will be the engagement of the Klav & Erlanger Opera company, presenting De Koven & Smith's successful "Foxy Quiller," with Jerome Sykes in the title role. Eleanor Kent, a young and charming woman of great ability, is the prima donna of the organization; Julius Steger, the handsome baritone; Louis Casavant, formerly in the Castle Square Opera company; Adolph Zink, Arthur T. Ernest and Harry Macomber, who have many roles and always with distinction, are prominent members of the cast.

There is a chorus of voices carefully selected on account of the superb choral work necessary in the first act, and there is a special orchestra, under the direction of Signor DeNovellis. "Foxy Quiller" is to be presented at the Lyceum theatre, Wednesday evening, January 8. The sale of seats will open at the box office this morning at 10 o'clock.

"Foxy Grandpa." William A. Brady's new musical comedy, "Foxy Grandpa," is evidently doing "starry" all around the live rag business, and houses have been crowded in the various cities visited. In Atlantic City, Buffalo, Baltimore and Washington, the engagements have been simply phenomenal. Brady has placed himself on record as saying "Foxy" would net $50,000 for this season's profits. "Foxy Grandpa" bids fair to be a permanent attraction. Mr. R. Melville Baker, the dramatist, has certainly, if one may rely upon the newspaper criticisms, made an excellent play out of the sketches and shows "Foxy" would net $50,000 for this season's profits. The "Three Ton" Drum Major. Donald MacCormack, the tall Scotch-Canadian who carries the drum major's staff at the head of the Killies' band, is known among his friends as the "three ton drum major." It happened this way: Major standing, as usual, on guard, at the door of the new Coliseum in Chicago (where the Killies played to over 6,000 people on Thanksgiving day, 1909), a curious and long-whiskered bystander walked up and shouted up to Donald: "What is your height?" "About seven feet," quietly replied the giant.

"Well, well; and how much do you weigh?" "Three-ton," came the answer. "Three-ton!" shouted the excited man with the beard. "Six thousand pounds! That seems almost impossible!"

And it was only when the lipgaped people who stood around the door had started to laugh that the man with the credulous mind said that he had believed.

All eyes will be on the "three ton" drum major when the Killies' band appears at the Lyceum theatre on Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Coliseum club of Scranton. A special inducement of 5c. will be offered to children of 12 years and under at the matinee performance.

"On the Swannee River." The attraction at the Academy of Music for three nights with usual matinee performances, will be the new, popular and popular story of the South, "On the Swannee River." There are few, if any, melodramatic pieces now before the public which are able to hold the interest of theatre-goers after years as does this popular play. With three acts, it is a story of the "Old Folks at Home" that Mr. Sterling wrote a play quite as attractive as the song.

It is not of the ultra sensational type, with blood-curdling situations. Its make-up is one of equally proportioned heart interest, romance and humor. It is well staged with special scenery for the entire four acts and the company is an unusually good one, containing Stella Mayhew, Eva Mae, Kate Weston Cherry, Lew A. Warner, Fred Truesdell, Earl Atkinson, Allan H. Bailey, Harrison Stedman and the Clover Leaf quartet.

"The Secret Dispatch." The attraction at the Academy of Music for three days, beginning Thursday, Jan. 9, will be "The Secret Dispatch." This play deals with war times but it is not a strictly war play. It is rather a domestic drama of the war period with its effects of war marked on its incidents and personages. The story is said to be of more than ordinary interest and several scenes of real patriotic feeling well worked out are shown. The play is in four acts filled with good acting scenes and well supplied with good acting comedy and strong incidents.

The company includes Van H. Kinzie, Frederick Alyn, John Foster, J. P. Lester, George Whitman, Harry Todd, Beatrice Ingram, Marie Kinzie, Eloise Davis and others. The scenic opportunities are well utilized, and the effects are good. Matinee will also be given Friday and Saturday.

Dark First Half of Week. The Star theatre will remain dark the first half of this week. "The Gay Girls of Gotham Burlesquers" is the attraction booked for the remaining three days. They open with a matinee on Thursday.

The company comes well recommended to Manager Herrington, and comprises some of the very best talent in the burlesque line. Pretty maidens, clever comedians, appropriate scenery and elaborate costumes make up a pleasing entertainment.

STAGE NOTES. Ethel Wallace Hopper will head a musical comedy company of her own next season. George Ade, the Sultan of Vaudeville, is to have his first performance in Chicago March 1. George Lederer has secured the American rights to the French musical comedy "The Geogosses." "The Stridlers" with a subject on the present company, will have a London presentation in April.

Billy Van is to have a play of his own next year, in which his wife, Nellie O'Sell, will be a star. Manager Hoffmeister announces that members of the Gilbert-Sullivan company, now playing an engagement at the Lyceum, are placing an engagement with the Lyceum, which will be given a presentation upon the return of the troupe to this city on Jan. 12.
