POWER OF THE CONSUMER.

The Great Factor in Economic Conditions, Says Rev. Dr. William Kerby, of Washington, in Lecture in Knights of Columbus Course.

In a lecture which he prepared, but which was delivered last night in St. Rose hall by Prof. Charles Neill of Washington, D. C., Rev. Dr. William Kerby, of the university of Washington, affirmed that the power of the consumer is the great factor in the production of labor, and in his hands is the power to better social conditions. He has the power, also, from an economic standpoint to control the production of commodities and by the ethical use of this responsibility to regulate the conditions and correct the evils of the economic system of the day.

Another significant thought in Dr. Kerby's lecture was his directing attention to the union label as one of the opportunities of the consumer to regulate the conditions and remove the evils spoken of. He did not advocate for the union label, but he took the stand that it was the epitome of labor philosophy and stood for the unions conception of the means for regulating the betterment of social conditions. He also pointed out as another opportunity, the consumers' league which is national in numbers. This league stands for the betterment of the physical and social conditions of clerks, particularly female clerks. It stood for equal wages for equal value in services, regardless of whether women were concerned. It had a white list on which all stores were placed which agreed to these conditions. It pledged itself to patronize those while stores; but it did not have any list and said nothing against stores which would not make the concessions asked for in behalf of their help; it did nothing that would lay them liable to the laws against conspiracy. In pointing out what a factor, what a power was the consumer, Dr. Kerby showed that it was the wants of the consumer that regulated production; it is his wishes which are sought and consulted by the best purveyors of trade. The indifference or the laxity of the people was such that they sought cheap goods, cheap in quality. Quantity appeared to be the desideratum. There was no time taken to consider under what conditions the goods were made; sweat shop, prison, or otherwise. The desire was to have cheap goods, regardless of the conditions under which they were produced, what was responsible for most of the evils of the economic system. The power, therefore, it is to be seen, lies in the consumer to correct or control the conditions of production. He pointed out the opportunities of the consumer and in doing so presented the thought of the union label and the consumers' league.

Professor Neill, who was Dr. Kerby's representative, had a densely interested audience, but thought it was not as large as the subject deserved. Dr. Kerby was prevented from attending by the sudden death of his sister.

THREE MORE NUMBERS.

There will be three more attractions in the Smith-Smythe course, Jan. 22, 23, and 24. Elias Day, the impersonator; Feb. 11, General John B. Gordon will lecture on "The Last Days of the Confederacy."

FIXED THE FAMILY.

Grape-Nuts Set Them Right.
 It is better to have a food epidemic in a family than an epidemic of sickness. A young lady out at Hibbing, Minn., tells about the way Grape-Nuts won her family. She said: "When my doctor told me from typhoid fever my doctor ordered Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. I gained four pounds the first week, and as the package was kept on the table for me, the whole family started to eat the new food."
 "We soon noticed a difference in my younger brother's face, which had been pale and bloodless, and who had been suffering from chronic inflammation of the stomach. In a short time he began to eat so heartily that we all remarked about it, and before long he got so he could eat anything without the least bad effect."
 "We often eat Grape-Nuts dry as we would candy or nuts, and it has a richer taste than when soaked in water. The best way is to put on some good rich cream."
 "My sister found that after we began eating Grape-Nuts she had a much greater supply of milk for her babe."
 "We have quit eating hot bread and meat for the evening meal and take in place some nice Grape-Nuts, with cream, and a little fruit, and have all improved greatly in health."
 "Please don't publish my name." Name can be given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NEW OFFICE BUILDING.

A Modern Structure to Be Erected on North Main Street by J. B. Shannon & Co.—Offices Already Leased by Russell & Co.
 Real estate and financial circles of the town were deeply interested yesterday in the announcement that Carbondale is to have a new office building, a modern structure, with all the embellishments to make it a most creditable addition to the city, and a good reminder that the spirit of progress is quickening among the enterprising, influential citizens.

The building will be erected by the firm of J. B. Shannon & Co. The site is located on North Main street, adjoining Hotel American. It will be a worthy companion of this splendid stone structure. Brick, with a red stone front, stone just like the material in Trinity church, will make up the building. The building will be for office purposes only. The second floor there will be a suite of offices and living apartments for one tenant. The top floor will be one of the modern flats, which are so much in vogue in the larger cities. All conveniences, such as steam heat, etc., will be provided. The building throughout will have all the finish and adornment that mark the modern office building. Throughout, the structure will embody all the latest ideas and conceptions of the office-building architect.

The building will be 25,757 feet. To make room for it, it will be necessary to remove the offices of Dr. Andrew Niles. The residence of this physician, which adjoins, will not be removed, though changes will be necessary in order to accommodate the new building. Tenants have already been secured for the greater part of the building. The first, or ground, floor will be occupied by J. B. Shannon & Co., dealers in stocks, and also owners of the Lackawanna Valley Electric Light and Power Supply company, which is the name of the local electric light concern. The plans comprehended for this company a suite of offices, a display room and a repair and stock room. The offices will be occupied by William Clark, the local surveyor, and Superintendent Thomas G. Connelley. There will also be a private office for J. B. Shannon.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE.

A New Organization Which Stands for Water Control—To Have Candidates for Spring Election.
 The Municipal Ownership League organized last night in the Academy of Music. All those present were those whose sentiment is with public ownership and in fusion with the Central Labor union.

THE COLUMBIAS FAIR.

The patronage at the Columbia Hose company fair has been so large the committee in charge has decided to hold the fair open on Tuesday and Wednesday night of next week. Last night was another gala night for the fair. The crowd in the auditorium filling the spacious hall. The programme as given in yesterday's issue was carried out and each number loudly applauded. Adam G. Black, in his program, made a fine speech and the crowd could not get enough of him. He responded to three cheers. The dancers, at the completion of the programme, swarmed on the floor and made merry until the closing hour. The music for dancing, which is heard from the city hall, is a fine orchestra. Mr. Black has taken greatly with the lovers of the art and sets are speedily formed. To the persons who do not dance, the fair affords them also a chance to have a big time at the plan tree, etc. The Archbold Bros. company were present last night. Tonight the Medicine quartette, of Wilkes-Barre will furnish the programme.

An Evening with Rev. E. A. Boyd.

There was a splendid audience in the Berean Baptist church last evening when Rev. E. A. Boyd, of Scranton, delivered his lecture on "The Typical Character of Abraham and Melchizedek in Contrast to Lot's Selfishness." The lecture was a most interesting one, and was well received. The speaker was in the highest and lowest state, the former being won by W. L. Houghton and the latter by Alfred Griffiths. After the game, refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening enjoyed. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Medford, of Carbondale; Misses Vall, Corn, Davis, of Honesdale, Misses R. A. Griffiths, M. and Mrs. E. W. Houghton, Dr. S. D. Davis, Miss Riley, of Philadelphia; J. B. Griffiths, John Roche and Robert E. B.

future reside. Mr. Starkweather has accepted a lucrative position in a shoe factory in that place. He is an old railroad man, having been forced to leave the road a year ago on account of injuries received while on duty.

STRIKE AT BLACK DIAMOND.

One Hundred Men Out at the Colliery Near Simpson.
 Nearly one hundred men, employees of the Black Diamond Coal company, went out on strike yesterday morning. The strike was the result of excessive docking and overhauling the weight of the light cars. The trouble has been brewing for some time, and yesterday a committee was sent to the manager for a remedy. They were unable to reach a satisfactory agreement with the manager. The strikers claim they could not live under the existing arrangements, and took the only course they believed was left for them, namely, laying down their tools and going out. This is the first serious labor trouble outside of the street car strike in this city since the big anthracite strike.

Wants Body Exhumed.

A man from Forest City, giving his name as Joseph Kaskarage, has been trying to get authority to exhume the body of the unknown man killed last week on the Delaware and Hudson road. Kaskarage claims his son-in-law left home about the time of the accident and has not been heard from since.

An Appendicitis Sufferer.

Gerald McHale, youngest son of Undertaker and Mrs. E. J. McHale, was operated upon at Wheeler's hospital Thursday night for appendicitis. Drs. Wheeler and Kelly performed the operation, which was a success. The plucky young patient was resting comfortably last night and a rapid recovery in his case is looked for.

Left for Baltimore.

Miss Hannah Tighe left yesterday morning for Baltimore, where she has been called to attend to the remains of her mother, who died at the Philadelphia hospital. She has a wide circle of friends here whose best wishes go to her in her new home.

Annual Social.

On Easter Monday night, March 31, the Clergymen's union, No. 439, will hold their annual social in the W. W. Watt building. No effort is being spared to make this year's a great success.

A Collision.

A head-on collision took place in the Ontario and Western yard Thursday night, which resulted in the demolishing of a caboose, one car and the train load of ice. The debris was soon cleared away.

Have Returned Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Battle arrived home last night from their working tour. They will be returning to housekeeping in their newly furnished home on Eighth avenue.

THE PASSING THROU.

Miss Mary O'Malley, of Pittston, is the guest of the Misses Coleman on Vine street.
 Misses Lillian and Julia Green, of Mayfield, were visitors at the Columbia's fair Thursday evening.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Ruddy took place yesterday morning. A requiem high mass was celebrated in Sacred Heart church by Rev. Father Dunn, who also delivered a short sermon, in which he advised the people to live a life of preparation for the life to come. Interment was afterwards made at Archbold. The pall-bearers were: John Murphy, Martin Barrett, Andrew Phelan, Edward Clark, M. J. Walsh and M. J. Reynolds. A local initiator of the well-known Whitney, whose items are furnishing considerable amusement, promises soon to outdo Whitney. One of his latest masterpieces appeared in the local items of a contemporary yesterday and is well worthy of reproduction. This is it: "Mr. Thomas Gilbert, of Mayfield, took an overdose of olive oil yesterday morning, which resulted in his death. He had been in the habit of taking ten drops of this oil, and in some manner he took a teaspoonful." The medicine, which undoubtedly contained some strong ingredients, took no immediate effect on him. He ate his breakfast, and just previous to his leaving the table he was stricken suddenly and fell limp to the floor. A doctor was called and he is waiting in operation. Mr. Thomas Hunter, whose term of office as school director of the Second ward expires in May, does not intend seeking a re-nomination. He has now served three terms on the board and is anxious to retire. William Kiekkpatrick, of Second street, is being seriously recommended to succeed him and will no doubt get the nomination at the coming Republican caucus. He is a capable candidate and will no doubt make an excellent director. As the nomination is open to a election, Mr. Kiekkpatrick will, without doubt, be a member of the next school board.

PRICEBURG.

Preaching in the Primitive Methodist church at Priceburg on Sunday morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. Wilson Bentley. The service at 10:30 o'clock; subject, "The Saint's Joy." Evening service at 7 o'clock; subject, "The Power of the Holy Spirit."

MRS. J. E. O'DONNELL, President Oakland Woman's Riding Club, Chicago, Sends an Unsolicited Letter to Mrs. Pinkham, and Wants It Published.

Sick Eight Years with Female Trouble and Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The already enviable record of Mrs. Pinkham's great medicine becomes more and more glorious every day, and how the glad tidings are spread among women from the Atlantic to the Pacific is told in such letters as the one from Mrs. O'Donnell here published.

The troubles to which women are subject because of their sex are many—every day a woman is liable to a new pain. Excessive worry may disturb the menstrual functions and unsettle the nerves. Over-excitement may set up inflammation of the ovaries and womb, but whatever or whatever the trouble is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sure to find and cure it. Read Mrs. O'Donnell's letter and try to realize that such generous testimony is not to be had for money, or any monetary consideration; it is purely out of the goodness of her heart and gratitude for her own cure that by this act she is endeavoring to lead other women to health and happiness.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are ill to write her for advice. Address Lynn, Mass., giving full particulars.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never in my life given what you would call a testimonial before, but you have done so much for me that I feel called upon to give you this unsolicited acknowledgment of the wonderful curative value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For eight long years I had female trouble, falling of the womb and other complications. During that time I was more or less of an invalid and not much good for anything. Four years ago I noticed a book in the hall telling of the cures you could perform. I read it and became interested. I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was helped, and decided to use it for a year, but seven months sufficed to cure me, and since that time I have simply had perfect health. Thanks, dear Mrs. Pinkham, for the health which I now enjoy is worth all that and more."—MRS. JENNIE O'DONNELL, 275 East 31st St., Chicago, Ill.

Surely such endorsement should dispel doubt from the minds of all hesitating women. After reading such a letter, if any woman is willing to remain sick, we can only say it is her own fault and she deserves to suffer; for the medicine that cured Mrs. O'Donnell and a hundred thousand others will surely cure her.

Health Officer J. W. Houser, of this borough, is to be complimented for the action taken by him on Thursday evening while a dance was in progress in Weber's hall. Information was received from the West Pittston health officer stating that a straw ride composed of young people from that place had left to participate in a dance in Weber's hall. The message also stated that the party came from the small, pest infested district of that borough. Mrs. William Fuge is quite ill at her home on Main street.

The Olympian Athletic club of this place will give an athletic exhibition, interspersed with songs, music by a first-class orchestra and a lecture on physical culture, in their rooms in the Hogan store building, Friday evening, January 25, 1902. The talent secured is of the very best and will be seen in the programme which will appear later.
