No Dream, a Real Wonderland.

Resort life, especially that of the winter resorts, is varied to the extreme. They all have their disadvantages, principal of which is the remoteness from the great northern cities, but Lakewood, than which there is no resort more renowned, is pre-eminently supreme. It is less than two hours distant from New York, and the temperature there is much milder than in New York, Philadelphia, or even Washington. The hotels are marvels of comfort and convenience, where every want of the patron is satisfied. The visitor lacks not for amusement, for there are golf, driving, polo, cycling, hunting, and, in fact, every kind of out-of-door sport can be entered into. The Central Railroad of New Jersey is the only road to Lakewood, and descriptive of this famous resort is a bookiet. The revocations were due to complaints of Sunday selling entered by Agent Robert Wilson of the Municipal league. The evidence was very con-vincing and defenses offered were, for the most part, very flimsy. The rule to revoke the license of John

J. Coyne, of Minooka, was dismissed Mr. Coyne proved to the satisfaction of the court that the league's witnesses were mistaken in the claim they made Irving avenue, South Scranton, was that they bought liquor at his place on a certain Sunday. His defense was a very strong one, and in the opinion of the court would win him a verdict before any fair-minded jury. Several other applications for revo ations are pending.

Ex-Cashier Brings Suit.

Suit in trespass was instituted yesterday against the Traders' National bank vas summoned, and Mr. Brazelle was by its former cashier, Frank L. Philand Trust company.

The case grows out of the troubles of the former cashler, A. B. Williams, Mr. and rendered unconscious, and the Phillips, who was then assistant cashier, was induced to take up for Mr. Williams a $3,000 over-issue of stock placed with the Scranton Savings bank. Mr. Phillips endorsed Mr. Williams' $3,000 note and received as collateral security $10,000 worth of stock in the South End Land company, of Binghamton. Mr. Phillips had to pay the note, and when he fell back on the collateral he found it was not good. Mr. Bhillips demands that the bank shall reimburse him. shortly before noon yesterday. Immediately thereafter Major Warren, of counsel for the defendant, moved for a compulsory non-suit for the reasons: First that the evidence failed to disclose any negligence on the part of the company; second, the evidence disclosed that both the plaintiff and his father were o'clock, at a farewell reception to guilty of negligence in attempting to cross between the cupolas when the mill was in total darkness; third, that the evidence did not disclose that the defendant failed in the performance of any duty which it owed to the plaintiff; fourth, that the accident was either unavoidable or one that the defendant could not have guarded against. appliances in connection with the character of the business, and plaintiffs' argued that the evidence showed that such appliances were furnished by the company while the mill was in operation, and that the action decree authorizing the discharge as of the plaintiff and his father in moving between the cupolas was the proximate line of their duty. Attorney Burns, for plaintiff, conthe lack of guards or shields around the eupolas was proper ground on which to charge the company with negligence; and that the failure of the light was the proximate cause of the accident. He also argued that the plaintiff was within the line of his duty and had the right to move to and from any place upon the floor where he was employed. The motion will be disposed of at the beginning of the session this morning.

The case is attracting much attention, the court room being crowded every day. Most of the onlookers are from among the ranks of the idle mill

Other Common Pleas Cases.

In the case in which Owen Flynn, of Winton, who sought to recover accident benefits from the Ontario Accidental fund, the jury accepted the story of the defense that Flynn was attempting an imposition, and returned a verdict against him. L. P. Wedeman was attorney for the plaintiff, and James J. O'Malley for the defendant.

Judge Kelly is trying the case of Oscar D. Ehrgood against L. Liberatore and wife. It is a suit for wages, Rice & Donnelly represent the plaintiff, and David J. Reedy, the defendant. The case of John Benore & Son against B. E. Leonard is being tried before Judge Lynch. It is based on a disputed bill for carpenter work and an offset for plumbing work. John F. F. L. CRANE, 324 Lackawanna Avenue.

Appealed to Superior Court.

Willard, Warren and Knapp yesterday appealed to the superior court from the decision of the local judges refusing a rule to open to judgment in the case in which the street car strikers' union is trying to enforce the collection of $10 on a "cut throat" judgment note given by Motorman Keller when he received relief to that amount from the strike fund, prior to his return to work on the cars.

The affidavit made in support of the motion set forth that Keller signed the note with the understanding that it was simply a receipt to be used by the executive board to show where the money went. The court ruled that the average in the form of fraud was not specific enough to warrant the opening of the judgment. Furs Repaired. Furs Manufactured. Row Furs Bought.
