The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucuous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucuos, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing dearness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of the stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Gualacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient The manufacturers of the new ca
