FIRST PLAYER IS SIGNED.

Fast Westerner Secured for Scranton by Manager Lawson.

The old-time ball fans of Scranton have received a W. Lawson, the new manager of the Scranton club, with great cordiality since his arrival in this city, and it begins to look as if the old-time interest in the national game is about to revive.

"We don't care what league we are connected with," said one enthusiast yesterday, "as long as we are represented by a good lively team of players, who will win a majority of their games and give us clean, honest sport." And that is just what Manager Lawson intends doing—securing a team of young, hustling, ambitious players, who have their reputations yet to make and capable of making them right here in Scranton. A team of gentlemanly ball players, who will be a credit, as well as an advertisement, to the city.

As Mr. Lawson has had ten years' experience as a minor league manager and several years as a player, it is safe to say that he knows a ball player when he sees one, and where to go to secure them. Over fifty star players of the National, American and Eastern leagues have graduated from teams which Mr. Lawson has managed during the past.

The Pennsylvania league, as now reorganized, takes in six cities—Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Reading, Lancaster, Lebanon and Hazleton, but at the next meeting, which is to be held at Reading, February 29, it may be decided to increase the membership to eight cities, as there are several other good ball towns in the state which are anxious to get into the circuit. There seems no good reason why Pennsylvania should not support a good strong state baseball league permanently, as well as New York and other states, which witness championship struggles every year.

Manager Lawson has already begun the work of selecting and signing his players for the coming season. The first man to send in his signed contract is Roger Gorton, of Baneroff, Mich. Gorton is an outfielder and a good one. If his record goes for anything, He began his professional career in 1895 with the champion Kalamazoo club of the Michigan State league, and jumped right into prominence by leading his team in batting and base-running and the league in fielding. In 1896 he was a member of the Birmingham, Ala., club of the Southern league, again leading the league in fielding and base-running and standing sixth in batting. In 1897 he played with the Mansfield, Ohio, club of the Interstate league, standing second in fielding and fourth in batting. In 1898 he played with Al. Lawson's Anderson, Ind., club of the Central league. He stood first in fielding and second in batting and third in fielding. In 1899 he again played under Al. Lawson's management at Peoria, Ill., Central league. Last season he played with the Toledo, Ohio, club of the Western association.

"Gorton is one of the fastest outfielders and base-runners in the country," said Mr. Lawson, "and I expect him to do good work for the Scranton team this season. Furthermore, he is a gentlemanly fellow and perfectly reliable at all times."

The old Athletic grounds, which will be used this season for the league games, were inspected by Manager Lawson Saturday. A great many repairs to the fence and grandstand are needed, also new bleachers will have to be constructed. He says that about $500 will put the park in good shape again.

DISAGREABLE WEATHER.

Slushy Snow Storm and Then a Cold Wind.

About as disagreeable weather as was ever dished out by the weather bureau for this part of Pennsylvania was served yesterday and last night. It began in the early morning with a slight drizzle, which continued until about 11 o'clock, when a terrific downpour of snow of the variety known as "wet" set in. This continued almost without intermission until about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, leaving three inches of slush on the street and rendering walking almost impossible.

The thermometer began to drop just before sundown and about 8 o'clock a heavy wind set in and blew nearly all night, freezing the slushy streets and rendering them exceedingly dangerous for walking.

The snowfall in Carbondale and north of that city was particularly heavy, and Ontario and Western and Delaware and Hudson trains were delayed as a consequence.

FEAST OF PURIFICATION.

Blessing of Candles Took Place in Catholic Churches.

Yesterday was the Feast of the Purification, according to the ecclesiastical calendar. It is commonly called Candlemas, from the fact that on this day in the Catholic church, the candles used during the year are blessed.

The day has also come to be called "Candlemas Day" from the old superstition that if Candlemas is fair, permitting the ground hog to see his shadow, the remainder of the winter will be severe, and vice versa.

If this holds true, in these parts there is likelihood of a very early winter, with the most delightful weather intervening, for yesterday was one of the most miserable in the matter of weather that has been supplied so far for this winter. It rained, sleeted, snowed, blew and froze. Only those who could not avoid it ventured out.

Notice.

The Delaware and Hudson company will make some slight changes in the times of their passenger trains, beginning Sunday, February 2.

The changes on the main line cover Sunday trains only. Train No. 49 will leave Scranton at 5:17 p. m. for Wilkes-Barre, instead of 5:42 p. m. Train No. 39 will leave Scranton for Carbondale, north-bound at 11:17 p. m., instead of 10:52 p. m. as at present.

On the Honedale branch, week-day trains will leave Honedale for Carbondale at the following times: 7:37 and 11:37 a. m., 2:39 and 5:35 p. m.

And will leave Carbondale for Honedale: 7:22 and 11:05 a. m., 3:31 and 6:22 p. m. No change in Sunday trains.

NINTH VICTIM OF SMALLPOX

COUNCILMAN E. W. EVANS HAS DREADED DISEASE.

Visited the Brace Home to Inquire Into the Accommodations Provided by the Bureau of Health—Another Case Reported Saturday—Columbia Horse Not Quarantined—Reorder Connell Approves the Free Vaccination Resolution—Conference Today.

Small pox continues to spread in West Scranton. Two more cases have been reported since Friday making four to be reported in the last seven days and nine that have been reported since the disease first broke out.

The latest victim is Common Councilman E. W. Evans, of 537 Roberts court, West Scranton, who visited the Brace home on North Bromley avenue, and subsequently reported to council that the board of health had neglected the occupants of the home.

He is the ninth victim, whose case can be directly traced to the Brace house, where the first two victims died. Three deaths have already occurred as a result of the disease.

The disease is getting a fast hold in West Scranton, where the four new cases were last week discovered. Following is a complete list of the victims:

MRS. W. J. BRACE, dead.
GEORGE LEWIS, dead.
BRACE CHILD, dead.
BRACE CHILD, recovering.
PARRY CHILD, recovering.
W. J. MORGAN, recovering.
MRS. JAMES BRACE, seriously ill.
MRS. WILLIAM ALLSPAUGH, slight attack.
EVAN W. EVANS, slight attack.

Mrs. James Brace visited the Parry home in Mearns' hall, when the children there were reported to be suffering from measles. She is now very ill and her recovery is problematical. William J. Brace, whose wife died, and Mrs. George Lewis, whose husband died in the same house, have escaped the disease. They were vaccinated prior to the outbreak.

HAVE BEEN QUARANTINED.

They have been quarantined, however, in the Brace house on North Bromley avenue, and were released for the first time yesterday, the quarantine having been placed on William J. Brace, whose wife died, and Mrs. George Lewis, whose husband died in the same house, have escaped the disease. They were vaccinated prior to the outbreak.

FREE VACCINATION.

The resolution, passed by council, providing for free vaccination, has been approved by recorder Connell, and it is expected that the work will be done in the public schools where all who have not been vaccinated can be accommodated. Dr. Allen has also approved of the resolution, which provides for free examinations after vaccinations.

Dr. John O'Malley, chairman of the special committee of the board of control, appointed to attend to the vaccinations of school children, stated yesterday that he is of the opinion that a large majority of the children are now vaccinated, and instead of opening the different schools to the public for free vaccination, favors the selection of some central place where the work can be done.

Dr. Allen, of the bureau of health, will confer with Dr. O'Malley on this matter today, and a decision will be reached regarding the time, place and other details of free vaccination.

No. 18 school, which was closed last week to permit of fumigation, will continue close indefinitely, by order of Dr. Allen.

M'GOVERN JURY IS DIVIDED

Report Had It They Stood Seven for the Plaintiff and Five for the Defendant—Likely They Will Ask the Court This Morning to Discharge Them—February Session of Criminal Court, Which Opens Today, Has Four Murder Cases Listed—Other Court Matters.

At 12 o'clock last night the jury in the case of Owen McGovern against the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, retired to their cot, hopelessly divided on what the verdict should be.

Report had it that seven favored a verdict for the plaintiff and five a verdict for the defendant. They stood this way from the first, and yesterday battled frequently, without changing their standpoint.

Saturday afternoon at 4:50 o'clock they went into court and asked to have read to them the charge of Judge Newcomb on various of the questions involved. The judge concluded not to have the charge read, but stated substantially what he had said to them on the matters on which they wanted enlightenment.

It is expected they will go into court this morning and ask to be discharged. They have been on the case since last Monday. The taking of testimony and closing addresses of the attorneys consumed five days. Judge Newcomb delivered his charge at the opening of court Saturday morning, and at 10:30 they retired. By the time court opens this morning they will have been out deliberating forty-eight hours.

The men comprising the jury are: Michael Bielen, vet. Scranton. George Blake, mill hand, Jermy. David Clark, laborer, Scranton. C. J. Gillespie, secretary, Scranton. Charles Hoffman, farmer, Jefferson. James Hebert, barber, Peckville. John D. Jones, machinist, Scranton. James H. Keane, carpenter, Scranton. M. D. Manly, clerk, Danmore. James Russell, farmer, Fall. F. C. Swartz, carpenter, Scranton. John Wright, driver, Scranton.

C. J. Gillespie, secretary of the Scranton poor board, is foreman of the jury. The case was very carefully and ably tried. The lawyers were of the best at the bar. For the plaintiff were O'Brien & Martin and I. H. Burns. The defense was represented by Major Everett Warren and W. H. Jessup, jr. Major Warren went into the case only a week ago, succeeding the late ex-Judge Jessup as leading counsel. It was the first big negligence case in which Judge Newcomb presided.

CITY COMMITTEE MEETS.

Addressed by a Number of Prominent Republicans.

There was a largely attended meeting of the Republican city committee, Saturday night, at which the subject of organization was thoroughly discussed and plans for the campaign set afoot. Addresses were made by Chairman C. E. Chittenden, T. H. Dale, ex-Recorder James Moir and ex-Representative John R. Farr.

The general opinion was that it was possible to conduct the campaign without using money. By energetic work the committee men, it is believed, can secure enough volunteer assistance to get out the full vote.
