

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

TUNKHANNOCK.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Tunkhannock, Feb. 1.—Miss Eva Moss, of Philadelphia, Pa., attended the chaffee concert at this place on Friday evening and remained over Sunday to visit friends.

Mrs. Eugene Cadalso and daughter, Carmela, of East Temon, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter W. Stark, at their home on Wyoming avenue.

The grand jury at the January term of court reported in favor of a free bridge across the Susquehanna river at North Mohopany. The act of 1899 provides that a petition may be presented to the county commissioners, and if such request shall be refused by commissioners, it may then be laid before the grand jury, and if the grand jury finds in favor of it, the commissioners are required to proceed to take the bridge, figuring the value by means of an appraisal, etc., as provided for by the act, if the matter cannot be amicably adjusted. It is said that the commissioners have been advised that the law is unconstitutional, and will refuse to do anything unless compelled by mandamus proceedings.

The petitioners think they also have done all that they could reasonably be expected to do, and that it is now the other fellow's move. A similar case is said to exist in an adjoining county, but the features of that case are reported to be more complicated still. Unless the law is found to be unconstitutional by the courts, the finding of the grand jury seems to fix the question in favor of a free bridge.

Mrs. Thomas Yates, of Pittston, who was called home by the serious illness of her mother, returned to her home on Saturday. Mr. DePue is slightly improved.

Mrs. Edward L. Chaffee returned home from Rome, Pa., on Friday, where she was called by the serious illness of her mother.

John Gilroy, who is holding a position as telegraph operator at Owego, is spending a short vacation with his parents here.

Squire Dennis J. Harley, of Meshoppen, an old-time justice of the peace, was calling on friends in town on Saturday.

The Women's Relief corps ladies are making arrangements for an entertainment, to be given soon for the benefit of their relief fund.

The county commissioners will receive bids until noon of Tuesday next, for delivering the ballots and supplies for February election.

The funeral of Mrs. Adam Aoe, of West Toga street, took place on Saturday afternoon. The remains were interred at Strimling's cemetery.

Mrs. Asenath Armstrong is ill with quinsy, at her home on Susquehanna avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Phillipson will remove to Carbondale, where he has employment as a contractor.

The concert given at the Methodist church on Friday evening by Prof. Chaffee's class in singing was a pronounced success, and the house was filled to its full capacity.

William Blakelock, of Sayre, an engineer on the Lehigh Valley railroad, passed through this place on Saturday on his way to Nicholson, where he will spend a few days with his mother, at Sponty Street, with friends in town.

Major H. W. Bardwell attended court at Montrose last week.

DUNMORE DOINGS.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the School Board—Council Will Meet Tonight—Other Notes.

The school board held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday evening with all members present except Mr. Miller. Superintendent Howard's report for the past month showed a total enrollment of 2,470 pupils with an average attendance of 2,255, making an average of 85 per cent. in regular attendance.

A request was received by the board that they send as many delegates as possible to the seventh annual convention of school directors which meets in Harrisburg on February 12 and 13. It was decided that the members who could arrange to go be given permission by the board to attend at the expense of the board.

The tax duplicate for 1897 which was first in the hands of W. C. Burke and afterward of W. E. Correll, was settled at a meeting of the board as a committee of the whole on January 20. It showed the total amount of duplicate was $26,255.11; $17,451.99 of that amount had been collected by Mr. Burke, leaving a balance of $8,803.12 remaining when the duplicate was turned over to Mr. Correll.

Of this amount there remains to be collected only $641.51. The board will arrange for another meeting with the tax collector in the near future when the remaining duplicate will be settled.

Miscellaneous bills to the amount of $1,072.11 were ordered paid. The superintendent was instructed to make out the pay rolls for the month which will be approved at the next meeting.

The matter of the election of a teachers' union was brought up and the board took a recess for ten minutes, which lasted much longer, but evidently the deadlock remains as tight as ever as there was no election.

Council Meeting Tonight. The council will meet in regular session tonight when it is likely some important developments in the sewer matter will take place. The decision of the court on Friday has removed all the obstacles heretofore in the way of beginning the building of the trunk sewer. It is likely at tonight's meeting definite action will be taken and means devised for the letting of contracts at once.

The building of the sewer will make quite a difference in the conditions of the treasurer and undoubtedly will make the fight for that office wax warm at the coming election. The office of councilmen will also grow in importance to the tax payers of the borough as much legislation affecting their pockets will necessarily be enacted.

It will certainly behoove every voter to see to it that he votes on election day for the men for that office whom he would select to have charge of work of this kind, if it were a private matter being done for himself, and he alone footing the bills.

It would be a popular move if the council would take some action relative to the proper numbering of the houses of the borough, as in the present condition it will be almost impossible to deliver mail in many sections.

Religious Services. The services at the Presbyterian church last night were in charge of the Christian Endeavor society. It being the occasion of the twenty-first anniversary of the organization of the society. The church had been prettily decorated for the occasion, with an abundance of flowers and tropical plants, and presented a very attractive appearance.

PRINCETON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Princeton, N. J., Jan. 29.—The mid-year examinations are in full swing, and are at present the one great, engrossing feature of the university life. They will continue until Feb. 6, at which the divisions will be announced, a number of unhappy youths will return sadly to their native land, and an air of peace and good will will pervade the hearts of all those who have successfully gone through the ordeal.

About seven per cent. of the Freshman class was dropped last year, and the per centage this year will probably be about the same.

The Junior promenade will be held on the night of Feb. 7. Committee from the three upper classes have been appointed to take charge of all the arrangements for the dance, and it promises to be among the most successful of recent years. Princeton will be invaded by pretty girls from the big cities, and their appearance on the campus is being eagerly awaited.

Although Princeton has not Yale's famous fence, upon which the bold, bad Sophomores sit during "prom" week to gaze on the aforesaid pretty maidens, the lack of such an accessory has never seriously interfered with the Soph's enjoyment of "prom" week here.

The Kneisel quartette gave its second concert here last Monday night, at Alexander hall. These talented musicians are great favorites in Princeton, and they are always greeted by a large-sized audience.

The Columbia basketball team met the varsity five last Saturday and was defeated by the over-whelming score of 22-3. The local team's next match with collegiate opponents takes place Feb. 8, when Lafayette will be played at Easton. A return match is scheduled here, Feb. 19.

The Princeton gymnastic team, under Captain Moore, will participate in the Triangle gymnastic exhibition, Feb. 14, by Yale, Princeton and New York university, at the latter's gymnasium.

Professor Jesse Benedict Carter was last Wednesday married to Miss Kate Benedict Freeman, of East Orange, N. J. On Saturday, Prof. and Mrs. Carter sailed for Europe. Professor Carter is probably the most popular member of the faculty, among the members of the Freshman class, at least. He is in charge of Freshman Latin, and conducted a course of exceedingly interesting lectures on Roman history this term. Prof. and Mrs. Carter will spend February, March and April in Italy, and May in Sicily.

THE WOOLING OF THE SEA. "Oh, come to me," cried the passionate sea. "To his love, the glittering sand; Let me give you a kiss—it will not be amiss— And I'm not asking much when I beg you for this."

THEATRICAL.

TODAY'S ATTRACTIONS. LYCEUM—"A Trip to Buffalo." NIGHT, ACADEMY OF MUSIC—Savette Dramatic company. Night. STAB—Dainty Paris Boulogne. Afternoon and night.

"A Trip to Buffalo." It was noteworthy during the month's engagement of Sousa's band at the Pan-American exposition that "Salome," the most notable hit of the day, by William Lorraine, was played at the Lyceum theatre every day which was followed by Bandmaster Sousa in preparing his programme. It is on record that every request program in the Lyceum theatre, which was given to the Lyceum tonight. Everywhere the musical numbers of the piece are attracting more favorable attention and comment than are given to the most popular comic opera on tour.

"Colorado." Charles Frohman will present Augustus Thomas' latest successful play, "Colorado," at the Lyceum theatre, Tuesday evening. This drama depicts with charming strength of situation and novel marshalling of characters, plausibility of the money-making scheme of a Rocky Mountain mining camp, has been declared to be entirely worthy of a place alongside the other great success of some other "Colorado," "Arizona." It has just finished a prosperous tour at Wallack's theatre, New York, where its striking scenes filled the audiences with enthusiasm. About seven per cent. of the Freshman class was dropped last year, and the per centage this year will probably be about the same.

"Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhué." Joseph Murphy, the leading refined Irish character comedian in two of the most successful plays ever written, "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhué," will be appearing at the Lyceum, Thursday night next.

Mr. Murphy is one of the few actors who belong to the class of which the late Joseph Emmett was a member. He is a native of New York, and is pleasing to his audience. He does not cheapen his talent by bidding for popular approval in a vulgar manner, but adheres rigidly to the line of character acting. He is a well-matched, deep, resonant voice and a splendid stage appearance. He is, in fact, one of the few men who are so fortunately endowed for portrayal of character that he is able to do so without any of the usual requirements of the most successful actor.

"Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhué" possess every element of dramatic construction, romance of plot, stirring action, literary quality, and scenic beauty. They are also the product of a man who is almost a perfect actor. Mr. Murphy is supported by an excellent company of actors, who have for the principal male roles and Francis Carter, who has attained corresponding degree of popularity.

New Sawtelle Company. The East Side in New York has given numerous writers inspiration for plays, the first being "The Streets of New York" over thirty years ago. The latest being "The Angel of the Alley" by Theodore Kraemer, author of the "Volunteer Organist," and it is safe to say that it is the best play from this writer's pen. It introduces a very original character, that of a New Yorker and the local scenes introduced are familiar show places to those visiting New York. The setting is at the "Big Flat" on East 10th street, in the old building, the "Big Flat" on East 10th street, in the old building, the "Big Flat" on East 10th street, in the old building.

Dainty Pares Burlesques. A revelation of comedy, burlesque and vaudeville briefly describe the performance of the Dainty Pares Burlesques, which Manager Herold's vaudeville troupe is presenting at the Star for the next three days with matinee shows. On the bill are said to be two decidedly lively burlesques under the titles of "Tommy's Foolishness" and "The Angel of the Alley," both ingeniously staged and carefully interpreted by a full and competent company of entertainers. Many new and original creations are said to be introduced in the burlesques, and the troupe is especially distinguished by clever humorists and pretty chorists. The olio which increases includes such well known artists as Louise Carter, and her troupe of "The Angel of the Alley," and originalities: Mlle. La Touche, premier lady contortionist, in forward and back bending; Sisters Lottette, in choice selections of the song; "Shadrach" and "Barnum," in their late creation, entitled "Don't Leave the Room"; Honan and Kearney, Irish comedy and boxing artists; the Graham, America's leading sketch team; illustrated songs, making in all, without fear of contradiction, the strongest attraction extant.

TWO OF A KIND. From the Detroit Free Press. Waiting at the Union depot was a round-faced man with an attractive countenance, eyes that invited confidence, and rather a high forehead, shaved from a few forelocks. He was dressed in clericals and looked the part. When the old farmer took a seat after buying a ticket for Scranton he was still conversing with the minister. The minister brought the talk around to pick-pockets, and men who feel you out of your money, and expressed a great deal of dread of them. He urged on this topic until a man of a row was heard from the outside, and he expressed a desire to see what was the matter. "Here you are, my friend," said the minister, "and you have a fine one."
