THE MARKETS. Wall Street Review.

New York, Feb. 11.—Today's stock market showed a further expansion in the dealings, and the great irregularity of the market continued. The price levels were rather better supported than yesterday, but many important stocks took an advance at new points.

The steel market was very quiet on the day of holiday. There was obviously some mixing, with some prices showing a slight advance. The expectation of coming deals would not be realized. This was especially the case among the local companies.

The closing was active and irregular. Total sales amounted to $1,400,000. The market was characterized by the same interest. Texas and Pacific was advanced on the strength of the increase in the price of cotton. The market was characterized by the same interest.

The following quotations are furnished The Tribune: American Sugar 12 1/2, 12 1/2, 12 1/2. Atchafalaya 7 1/2, 7 1/2, 7 1/2. Brierley 4 1/2, 4 1/2, 4 1/2.

THEATRICAL. LYCEUM—Robert Mantell as "Hamlet." Night, Academy—May Fiske Comedy Company. Afternoon and night. STAR—New Night Owl. Afternoon and night.

"The Incident." Those who were not at the Lyceum last night to see "The Incident" will miss it for all time. It will never come this way again.

The play is a sweet, beautiful story of "love, hate, jealousy and revenge." It is a story of illegitimate births, delayed marriage, enormous, unattainable ambition, immaturity, immaturity and various other things which are the story of a man's life.

A very capable company, unfortunately, is wasting its talent by depicting its intriguing scenes. Louis Leon Hale, the leading man, Lillian Leigh and David Hancock do exceptionally clever work. Maude Clark Shaw and Edith Danby also merit very creditably.

May Fiske Company. Standing room only was the condition at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon and last night, when the May Fiske company played "Peg Woffington" and "Neil Gwynn."

This afternoon, "The Little Flagg" will be presented, and tonight, "The Gold King."

Robert Mantell. "Hamlet," the play to be produced by Robert B. Mantell tonight, under the management of M. W. Hanley, certainly is an old timer, having been often repeated, but unlike many of the modern dramas is still vigorous and serves well to demonstrate the resiliency of that great tragedy.

To dilate upon the work of Mr. Mantell would only be a repetition of what the American public is fully aware, and the announcement of his appearance at the Lyceum theatre will be heralded with pleasure by theater-goers in general. Mr. Mantell will be seen tonight in "Hamlet" and tomorrow night in "Neil Gwynn."

"Up York State." The new company play, "Up York State," with David Higgins and Georgia Waldron, its authors, at the head of a fine company, will be at the Lyceum Saturday matinee and night. This new drama is an interesting and most original, and original type, well told, and set in the proper, but not overdone atmosphere of true realism. It has all the marks of the skillful workmanship of one who knows how to do every section of an audience. It has pathos, patriotism, humor, sparkling dialogue, and occasionally realistic and powerful drama, at just the right moment.

Evelyn Blair, the noble-hearted girl who sacrifices her love and hopes to pay an honest debt, is the heroine of "Up York State." And the Darling Green of David Higgins will rank now on as one of the best offerings of the stage. Seats ready Thursday morning, 9 o'clock.

Paderewski. Never before has such genuine interest and unbounded enthusiasm been shown in this city and vicinity as is evinced in the coming of the great pianist, Paderewski, to this city. The possibility of our having such a musical genius in our midst has aroused all who appreciate genuine merit and the means will, without doubt, fill the arena on this occasion. The news of his coming seemed to many as too good to be true, but the realization of the fact is most convincing. The same interest is being shown in the coming of the great pianist, Paderewski, to this city.
