HEPTASOPHS' NEW OFFICERS

WERE INSTALLED LAST NIGHT BY D. S. A. CORLESS.

Past Archon W. J. Morgan Was Presented with a Gold Charm—Address by Hon. T. Jefferson Reynolds and Others—Stocking Social at the Plymouth Church—Evan Wednesday Lenten Services—Ash Evans Improving—Weddings and Other News Notes.

At the regular meeting of West Side conclave, No. 211, Improved Order of Heptasophs, held in Iovette hall last evening, the newly-elected officers were installed by District Deputy Supreme Archon William Corless. The occasion being Lincoln's birthday, an oration was delivered by Hon. T. Jefferson Reynolds, member of the First Legislative district.

Short addresses were also made by H. A. Parsons, William Corless, Roger Evans, and others. The retiring archon, W. J. Morgan, was presented with a gold charm, emblematic of the order. A "smoke talk" was afterwards enjoyed by all present. The officers installed were as follows:

Past archon, W. J. Morgan, archon, Charles R. Hill; provost, H. A. Parsons; prelate, John R. Richards; secretary, Stewart Bisecker; financier, E. E. Evans; treasurer, M. P. Daniels; inspector, D. S. Beemer; warder, William C. Scott; sentinel, P. J. Ruane; trustees, L. A. Howell, W. H. Coons, Roger Evans.

Mr. Reynolds' address was an able and eloquent effort. He paid a marked tribute to the memory of the martyred statesman. Among other things, he said: "Every generation has its heroes, its pioneers, its ideals. The people always have been and still are divided, at least into two classes—the many, who with their backs to the sunshine, worship the past, and the few, who keep their faces to the dawn.

"The sympathies of Lincoln, his ties of kindred, were with the south. His conviction, his sense of justice, and his ideals with the north. He knew the horrors of slavery, and he felt the unshakable ecstasies and glories of freedom. He had the kindness, the gentleness of true greatness, and he could not have been a master; he had the manhood and independence of true greatness and he could not be a slave. The memory of Lincoln is the strongest, tenderest tie that binds all hearts together now, and holds all states beneath a nation's flag."

Entertainment and Social.

The members of the Plymouth Congregational church, whose names begin with the letters P, G, H, I, J, K and L, held a stocking social and entertainment in the lecture room of the church last evening. Souvenir stockings were distributed prior to the social and many of these were returned and contained money. The entertainment feature included a number of excellent vocal renditions, together with instrumental and oratorical efforts on the part of the members. David E. ### PETER NEUELS A CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION.

For the Last Four Years He Has Represented the Eleventh Ward on the Board of School Control—Carl Baltus Injured While Coasting on Hickory Street—He Ran Into a Wagon at Cedar Avenue—Social and Reception Tonight at Y. W. C. A. Rooms—Other Notes.

School Controller Peter Neuels, of the Eleventh ward, who is seeking a re-election on the Republican ticket, need have little fear of defeat if the taxpayers of the ward can appreciate his record during the four years he has looked after the educational interests of his ward. He was not on the board twelve months before he became one of its most influential members, and his influence continued to grow as his term progressed. It would be unwise and unfair to refuse the customary second term to an office holder who has more than done his duty.

He made a clean, quiet, hard-working and eminently successful controller. The contemplation of what he will be able to accomplish for his constituents in another four years should be enough to positively assure his election by a big majority. One of the things he has in mind is the erection of a new building in the Second district of the Eleventh ward, to take the place of the rather antiquated No. 5.

A Serious Accident.

Carl, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Baltus, of Hickory street, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon, while coasting near his home. The little fellow, with a number of companions, was enjoying this exciting winter sport on Hickory street. He was descending Cedar avenue, just as a wagon came along at a lively rate. The sleigh ran directly into the front wheel and the little fellow was caught in the spokes.

Before the driver could stop, young Baltus was twisted around several times and received many scalp wounds and also a severe injury to the left forearm. He was carried into the home of Alderman Lenten and tenderly cared for. Dr. Kolb was sent for, and his examination revealed the above injuries, which, while severe, are not necessarily fatal.

GOOD WORK.

Done Daily in Scranton. Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Scranton still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No greater proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case.

Mrs. Margaret Moses, of 1602 Washburn street, Hyde Park: "For a number of years, off and on, I had attacks of dull pain and weakness in the small of my back. Stooling or the least exertion increased it, and at times I was so bad that I was unable to work and had to have the services of a doctor. There was a kidney weakness which was annoying and distressing, particularly at night. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and they were recommended to me by a Mrs. Jenkins, of 112 South Filmore avenue. I procured a box and took them with so much benefit that I got more. I can honestly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any person suffering from kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
