PATROLMAN BADLY INJURED.

Set Upon by Five Ruffians On South Main Avenue.

Patrolman H. T. Bradshaw, who is doing duty on the South Main avenue beat, was assaulted by a half dozen ruffians at 12:15 o'clock yesterday morning and knocked down, kicked and brutally beaten by his assailants. He prudently sought his ground, landed his man, and afterwards located three others who were in the crowd.

The crowd had just left a saloon at the corner of Elyon street and South Main avenue and were acting in a disorderly manner, when the patrolman commanded them to be quiet, and ordered them to move on.

One of the men, Timothy Jones, of Elyon street, was drunk and disorderly and the officer ordered him to move on, when he retorted that he would not until he got ready, whereupon Bradshaw placed him under arrest.

Four or five others immediately jumped on the officer and knocked him down and kicked him in the face and on the head. After Bradshaw succeeded in freeing himself from the crowd, it was necessary for him to pull his revolver to protect himself.

All the assailants but Jones made their escape, and he was taken to the Jackson street police station by Bradshaw. The officer has several cuts and bruises about his face and head, and his legs, arms and body are bruised from kicks he received.

Warrants were sworn out yesterday for the arrest of David Edwards, of Elyon street, Thomas Noyle, of Hampton street, and William Gray, of Elyon street, and together with Jones, all four were held in jail for a hearing this evening.

STRIKERS ARE DEFIANT.

Wouldn't Appoint a Special Committee to Wait on Mr. Silliman—Insurgents May Return to Work.

An unsuccessful attempt was made at last night's meeting of the street car men's union to secure the adoption of a motion providing for the appointment of a special committee of members to wait upon Chief Manager Silliman with a view to settling the strike inasmuch as that official has announced that he will have no further dealings with the executive board. The motion was put and defeated. Secretary Kugler said after the meeting:

"The men have decided tonight that if Mr. Silliman wants to talk settlement he'll have to do it with the executive board or with the union as a body. There will be no committee appointed."

President Shaw was not present at the meeting. He is out of town.

The insurgents, who were behind the move to have a new committee appointed, held a meeting after the union meeting but refused to make any statement in regard to the publication. It is probable that the insurgents, who now number about forty, will return to work within a day or two.

COTTON HELD IN BAIL.

He Is Accused of Robbing an Intoxicated Man.

William Cotton, the man arrested on Friday night, charged with robbing a railroad man from New Jersey, named Charles Kinney, of $40 and a gold watch, was given a hearing before Magistrate Howe on Saturday and was held under $500 bail for his appearance in court.

Patrick Mahon, an old man, who was in Kinney's saloon on Spruce street at the time the alleged robbery was committed, was the only witness examined. He testified that Kinney had been drinking in the place for some time and becoming intoxicated had fallen asleep in a chair in the back room. Cotton, he swore, went through Kinney's clothes taking his purse and a gold watch.

Cotton couldn't furnish a bondsman at first and had to go to John F. M. Aylesworth, the Penn avenue saloon keeper, later furnished the necessary bail.

SMALLPOX IN CENTRAL CITY

A MILD CASE DISCOVERED IN FOREST COURT.

Edward Vinol, leader of the Orchestra at the Star Theatre, is the latest victim—has been ill since Wednesday and played in the Theatre, which has been ordered closed—Thousands of persons vaccinated free on Saturday in all parts of the city.

After having been successfully confined to West Scranton for five weeks, smallpox has at last reached the central city. Edward Vinol, leader of the orchestra at the Star theatre, who resides at 311 Forest court, was on Saturday found to be suffering from a mild attack of the disease.

Vinol complained of headache and backache on Wednesday and Thursday, but kept on with his duties at the theatre until Friday, when he became too ill to go to work. On Saturday a rash broke out on his body, and he summoned two physicians, who thought he was suffering from chicken-pox, but who called over Dr. Paine to make an investigation.

The latter diagnosed the case as one of smallpox, and reported it to Superintendent Allen of the bureau of health, who ordered the house quarantined. Special officers were immediately assigned to guard it. Vinol is not confined to his bed and moved freely about his home yesterday. Quarantined with him are his wife, his mother and his two children. He can offer no explanation as to the manner in which he contracted the disease.

THEATRE CLOSED.

Superintendent Allen yesterday ordered the theatre closed for the present week, and perhaps a longer period. The theatre will be thoroughly fumigated before it is again reopened. Dr. Allen holds the view held by many medical authorities that smallpox is contagious from the very moment the first symptoms of the disease manifest themselves. The doctor does not agree with the view held by some authorities that it is not contagious until the rash appears.

"I believe," said he yesterday, "that smallpox is contagious from the very moment it manifests itself until it has run its course, and I propose to shape my policy in dealing with it with this view in mind."

Assuming the doctor's theory to be a correct one, it would appear that a number of persons have been exposed to the disease by coming in contact with Vinol since the first symptoms developed.

Free vaccination was given on Saturday in all parts of the city to an extremely large number of persons, very roughly estimated at from 4,000 to 5,000. The physicians who vaccinated at the several schools were as follows:

SERMON AT CATHEDRAL.

Eloquent Discourse Delivered by the Rev. J. J. Griffin.

Rev. J. J. Griffin, chancellor of the diocese of Scranton, delivered an eloquent sermon in St. Peter's cathedral last night, before an immense congregation of men, basing his remarks upon two of the miracles of Christ—the healing of the leper, the healing of the palsied man, and the story of the man who cast out devils in Christ's name.

The leper's sores, he said, represented the effect of sin upon the body, and the palsied limbs of the palsied man the effect of sin upon the soul. The possession of the soul by the devil, he said, represented the possession of the mind by evil thoughts and suggestions. The healing touch of Christ, he said, removes sin with as much readiness as it removed the bodily ills of the sick, the halt and the blind.

IT STOOD HIM IN GOOD STEAD

PREVIOUS GOOD RECORD SECURES LENIENCY.

Ex-Tax Collector John D. Jones, of Taylor, who Pleaded Guilty of Embezzlement, is Let Off by Judge Kelly With Eighteen Months in the County Jail and a Fine of $2,500—Carbondale Bad Boy Sent to Join His Two Brothers in the Penitentiary—Other Sentences.

In court, Saturday, when the February quarter sessions were concluded, sentences were imposed in a number of the cases in which convictions were had during the second week of the term.

Ex-Tax Collector John D. Jones, of Taylor, who pleaded guilty of embezzlement, was sentenced by Judge Kelly to pay a fine of $2,500. He had eighteen months in the county jail. A lengthy and earnest plea for clemency was made by his attorney, ex-District Attorney John R. Jones. He pointed out that his client had an honorable war record, and was, up to the time of this defalcation, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Taylor. He also read numerous letters from prominent citizens, praying the court to be lenient.

Judge Kelly said he was acquainted with Mr. Jones, and knowing as he did of his previous good character it was a matter of great regret to him to be called upon to impose sentence. He would give due consideration to the petitions for clemency, but at the same time he would have to regard for the fact that Mr. Jones had committed a serious offense against a community, as well as the peace and dignity of the commonwealth, and in consequence a substantial penalty would be imposed. On account of his years, the judge said, he would not send him to the penitentiary. The maximum penalty is a fine of $5,000 and five years' imprisonment.

James Jennings, a street car striker, who was convicted of assaulting Harry McLaughlin, who rode on a car to a ball in St. John's hall, Capouse avenue, was sentenced by Judge Edwards to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Judge Kelly suspended sentence on James Kirk, a 17-year-old lad, who made off with a horse and carriage belonging to Manager J. J. Crogan, of the Anthracite Bedding company, which was used in front of Zerk's restaurant on Penn avenue. Kirk's mother promised that she would keep him out of further trouble.

W. Jesse Travis, convicted of stealing a horse from a neighbor in Benton, was directed by Judge Wound to pay a fine of $1 and spend twenty days in jail.

Michael Kosh, the young Russian, accused of placing obstructions on the Lackawanna tracks, was returned guilty Saturday morning. He did not respond when called for sentence, and a capias was issued for his arrest.

John Hughes, convicted of obtaining goods by false pretenses, was sentenced by Judge Edwards to pay a fine of $5 and costs. He also imposed a fine of $50 and costs on James Miller, of West Linden street, convicted of assault and battery on John Smith, his tenant.

Michael McNulty, convicted of stealing $3 from his room-mate, Charles Piller, was sentenced by Judge Wound to a fine of $1 and thirty days in the county jail.

SENTENCE DEFERRED.

Sentence was deferred temporarily in the cases of Joseph Alcorn, William Gordon, convicted of selling liquor illegally; Lizzie Graham, convicted of assault and battery, and Joseph Choleway, convicted of assault and battery.

The jury in the Chleura-Hineriak case, growing out of a church fight in Olyphant, could not agree, and were discharged.

William Repp failed to respond when called upon to appear and be sentenced to pay the costs in the Silliman case. No capias was issued for him, as the district attorney was given to understand he will pay the costs without attempting to have them remitted.

Exceptions Heard.

On Saturday, Judge Vosburg heard the exceptions in the case of the estate of John T. Williams, deceased. The petitioners claim that money on deposit in the First National bank and the Miners' and Mechanics' bank, of Carbondale, amounting to some three thousand dollars, was a part of the estate, while the executors claim that John T. Williams having endorsed on the passbooks that the money should be payable to the sons, the money belonged to them. Judge Vosburg reserved his decision.

Attorneys C. A. Hattenberg and J. H. Torrey appeared for the widow, Ann Williams, while Hon. E. N. Willard appeared for Thomas J. Williams, and H. D. Carey, esq., represented David J. Williams.

MISS FREEMAN'S RECITAL.

Fine Programme Rendered in Her Studio Saturday Evening.

The large studio of Miss Cordelia Freeman was crowded to overflowing Saturday evening to listen to the fine programme given by her pupils, with the assistance of Miss Julia C. Allen and Mr. Charles Russell, the violinist.

Among the pupils who appeared for the first time at this occasion were Miss Ethel Smith, with a very pretty mezzo-soprano voice, and Miss Mattie Poole, who sang the difficult Wekerlin waltz exceedingly well. Arthur Frantz gave "In a Year," with much sentiment and fine enunciation. George E. Haak rendered "The Sentinel" in a very spirited manner, displaying a voice of wide range and fine dramatic power. The New Store

Is now open, and although we have not been able to get everything in as presentable a condition as we had hoped to, still there are so many beautiful things to be seen in the various departments that the visitor will overlook the many imperfections in arrangement and the many finishing touches that may be lacking.

We hope to see you among the hundreds who will visit this model home furnishing store during the next few days. We feel proud of our new home, as it has been pronounced by many experts as perfect in its construction. Every floor is admirably arranged for the goods it was intended to display and from the basement to the roof there is not a foot of space that is not as well lighted, by natural light, as the open air.

Come and bring your friends. The New Store and the New Stock will be a revelation to you.

quid soprano showed to great advantage in Lyne's "Spring Song," the effect of which was greatly enhanced by Miss Allen's beautiful playing.

Mr. Russell played most exquisitely the obligato for the superb "Yearnings," of Tschalkowsky, which was sung in splendid voice by Mrs. Uthman. Everyone must have felt grateful for the appearance of Mr. Russell upon the programme. He is so fine an artist and his playing, technically and temperamentally, gives such rare satisfaction that it is no wonder that his hearers, like Oliver Twist, clamor for more.

FIFTY LESS APPLY.

Unexpected Decrease in Applicants for Liquor Licenses.

Fifty less licenses have been applied for in Scranton city this year than in 1901. The following table shows the comparison:

	1901.	1902.
Hotels and restaurants	160	107
Wholesalers	27	29
Bottlers	9	8
Brewers	6	5
	199	149

Only 128 of the 281 applicants in 1901 secured and took out licenses. At this rate, the number of licenses that will be taken out this year would average about 130. It is safe to say, however, that the discrepancy between the applications and the licenses granted will not be as great this year as last year, for the reason that the applicants this year knew at the time of applying whether or not they could stand the increased license fee.

The city controller estimates that there would be 150 licenses taken out this year. If there is a falling off of only half the number that the law of averages would indicate, the city will be shy about $10,000 in its expected revenue from liquor licenses.

W. H. FISHER REMEMBERED.

Presented with a Gold Watch by His Workmen.

The employees of the Allis-Chalmers boiler shop on Penn avenue, presented W. H. A fourth player for Scranton's ball team has been signed, by Manager Lawson. He is Ernest Schmeltz, who has played as first baseman, the last four years with the crack Pittston Brothers amateur team. He was recommended to Manager Lawson by a number of competent judges as a very promising youngster. He is 24 years of age, a six-footer and weighs 175 pounds.
