W. G. Baker, for several years an employe of the Review, left on Saturday for Burlington, Vermont, to accept a position on the Daily News as solicitor and collector.

The following sad case comes from Waverly, only a step over the state line. The funeral of a mother and child was held at that place, whose deaths are alleged to be due to Christian Science ministrations. The mother had been under "healer" treatment for some time for asthma. A daughter was born to her about two weeks ago. It is alleged that a few days later the "healer" threw open the windows of the room in which the mother and child lay, despite remonstrances of the nurse, and allowed the cold winds to blow on the patient, saying "God has charge of the woman, and no harm can befall her." Pleuro-pneumonia and death followed. The babe in the meantime, received little attention. It was placed near the stove when the mother was taken worse and when taken up the child was dead.

Springvile, Feb. 18.—On Tuesday evening last the members of Vesta Lodge, No. 187 D. of R. met at the home of Mrs. Anna T. Grattan for one of their popular socials. There was a good company present and the occasion was a very enjoyable one. There will be others in the near future. Little Coral Culver is still confined

Last Wednesday afternoon the body of Hal Stone was brought here for burial having been shipped from the West. He had relatives living near here and others in Wyoming county. who came with the body. Interment was made at the Newton cemetery where a number of others of the Stone family are buried. If our informant is correct his age was about twenty-five years. He was a son of Benjamin Stone who owns the farm on which the cemetery is located.

It is safe to say now that the papers transferring the Springville hotel from A. E. Rodney to Theodore Williams have been signed and delivered. The transfer will be made April 1. Leda Terry and Mary Thomas visited Over there his horse got a little "fly" and ran away, overturning cutter and driver. Jack came back Friday with the cutter badly broken up and left it in the shop for repairs. No other damage was done.

Notice has been given that the building now used as a post office will be rented to other parties after April 1. This means that the office will be moved away and into a place where it will be an inconvenience to nearly every but the postmaster. It is claimed the reason for moving it is that the party now using it will not be allowed to sell confectionary after April 1, as it will be contrary to the terms of the lease given by C. A. Hungerford to the parties who rent his store. Hungerowns both buildings and he could not rent the store unless concessions were

"San Toy," Tomorrow Night.

'Ottawa play-goers expected much from 'San Toy,' which was presented last evening at the Russell theater. Its fame preceded it and its name immediately placed it in the same class as the 'Geissa,' the 'Mikado' and kindred tuneful conedies that have been so much enjoyed. The groduction is pre-eminently a musical one, and with the large number of singers the choruse were given with a dash and lingle that was thoroughly refreshing and elicited generous rounds of applause. "The Bonnie Brier Bush." J. H. Stoddart, who is starring this year, under the management of Kirke La Shelle, in a drama-tization of Ian MacLaren's Scottish idyl, "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," has been addressed hundreds of times by hundreds of different people, on the question as to whether he was a Scotchman. In each instance, Mr. Stoddart answered affirmatively. His very temperament and nature seem to have all the gentleness, leavity and what one might call sombre sweetness of the High-land follows.

When Ian MacLaren (Rev. John Watson, D. D.) first came to America, especially to witness the initial performance of his play, he met Mr.
Stoddart, and, in the course of the conversation, usked him if he was a Scotchman. Mr. Stoddart replied that he would rather Dr. Watson would wait until after the performance.

As the curtain went down on the last act, Dr.
Watson asked to be taken immediately to Mr.
Stoddart's dressing room. He grasped him by the hand and said: "Sir, you are not Mr. Stoddart, you are Luchlan Campbell, and if I ever had the slightest objection to my book being dramatized, it is now absolutely dispelled, for dramatized, it is now absolutely dispelled, to here on this stage I have been taken back to eatch a breath of Drumtochty atmosphere." DONNES. Wall Street Review. New York, Feb. 18,-The restrictive influe pon trading of yesterday's storm was litted t ay, yet the volume of trading was only about all a million shares. There was some show half a million stares. There was some show of strength during the morning hours, but it dwindled during the day and the market generally turned downward. Some stocks which had the advantage of early advances did not suffer materially on the day, but the general level of prices at the end was lower than yesterday. The distinctination to trade in the stocks of the great railways systems, especially of the transcontinental group, was very marked. Speculative optimion is in a perplexed state as to the merits of the Metropolitan Street railway plan. The machinery of the plan is so complicated and the bearings of its operation so obscure that little can be made of it and the general public is inclined to look askance at the securities involved. The inter-its operation so obscure that little can be made of it and the general public is inclined to look askance at the securities involved. The interest of insiders is supporting the price of the stock pending the completion of the plant is obvious; but the price ran off more than a point in the late dealings today. This had a deterrent influence on speculation elsewhere. The same was true of the weakness of Amalgamated Copper which lost 2% on the day's dealings. The futility of the efforts to advance Southern Pacific and Sugar were additional influences in the same direction. The development of new points of activity among the stocks seldom active or of little general importance continued to be a feature, but other stocks of the same class recently advanced suffered from profit-taking. There was buying to some effect among the Coulers, which was especially conspicuous in Reading second preferred and New York, Omiario and Western. Lackawanna made a spurt of six points but reacted four. Profitable demands upon the coal companies are said to be more than they can supply, and there are surmises also of proposed further consolidation of the ownership of these roads. Another group which was active and strong was the Southwesterns. Conjectures are rife of plans looking to financial consolidation in this group, also. The strength in the group gave way with the decline in the rest of the market. The closing was irregular, but there was only slight rullies. Total sales today, 567, 600 shares. Wabash debenture B's constituted the bulk of the bond market, but they lost practically all of their gains. Total sales, par value, 85,300, 600. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call. New York Grain and Produce Market
