

INDUSTRIAL AND LABOR

NEW POSITION OF PRESIDENT FOWLER, OF O. & W.

Placed at the Head of the Metropolitan Securities Company, Which Will Finance the Consolidation of the Street Railways of New York.

President Thomas P. Fowler, of the New York, Ontario and Western railroad, who has been made president of the Metropolitan Securities company, has been prominent in railroad affairs since 1883.

He began his career as a lawyer for the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, after graduating from the Columbia College Law School.

Not long after his graduation from Columbia, the Philadelphia and Reading and other railroad companies engaged his services in legal matters.

His election as president of the Metropolitan Securities company, which was no surprise to men acquainted with the affairs of that corporation, also makes him president of the Interurban Street Railway company.

With the first of April the federated trainmen and operators on the Lehigh Valley railroad will in all probability ask for a shorter day.

The men employed on the Wyoming side are going to ask for a shorter day, probably a ten or eleven-hour day, at the same pay as they now receive.

The railroaders state that they perform hard work and have to work twelve hours per day for wages that other workmen must work only ten hours for, and in many instances fewer.

Will Build Fence. A large board fence is being erected around the entire plot that surrounds the South Wilkes-Barre colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company.

This is done because a series of petty fires, presumably of incendiary origin, have been discovered recently in old shanties in close proximity to the shanties.
