Stand by the Standard

In baking powder, Cleveland's is the standard, the powder of highest reputation, greatest strength and absolutely pure. It renders the food more healthful and palatable, and is most economical in practical use.

Cleveland's Baking Powder is never sampled, sold by schemes or lotteries, gifts or giving salesmen gold watches or commissions. The housewife gets in the purest and best of baking powders the whole value of the money she pays

If you value good, pure food, let your baking powder be "Cleveland's."

The Ottumwas.

The Ottumwas, under the auspices of the trockway Lecture bureau, entertained a small Brockway Lecture bureau, entertained a small but very well pleased audience at the Lyceum last night, and those persons who stayed away through unwillingness to breast the evening storm, have a well-founded grievance against the inclemency of the weather. The entertainment, musical and literary, was as varied as it was brilliant, and that it was appreciated is evidenced by the fact that the encores swelled the programme to double its original length. gramme to double its original length.

The quartette that bears the name of The Ottumwas consists of Edward Weeks, Harry E. Paris, E. W. Peterson, George H. lott, and furnished the backbone of last evening's entertainment. Their singing of Tennyson's beautiful "Bugle Song" and "Remember Now Thy Creator," by Rhodes, were the best of many well ren-dered selections, Mr. Van Veachton Rogers, harpist, played a "Rhondo Brillianti," by Codefroid and a fantasy woven out of old Southern airs. As an encore to the first selection, he gave an exquisite rendi-tion of "Annie Laurie."

Charles T. Grilley, a very versatile impersons or, as shown by his handling of French-Cana-lian, negro and "way down East" dialects and Miss Julia Van Deusen, an elecutionist, con-tributed much toward the success of the enter-tainment. Her reading of 'The Death of Cigarette" from Ouida's "Under Two Flags," was full I pathor and vividness

"The Bonnie Brier Bush."

In the matter of dramatic criticisms, some he earlier critics who might be classed as belonging to the old school have been brought to task by the younger men as having soured on the stage and become pessimistic as to the future of the drama, both in this country and in Engand. Perhaps, no critic has suffered greater misepresentation in this regard than that scholarly Winters, of the New York Tribune, It is true only twelve that Mr. Winter has had no patience with a clap not counting trap romanticism that has been derived from popular novels and which as dramatic works have proved to be a sad failure. But that Mr. Win-ter has not lost any of his keen appreciation of the really good in the drama was singularly dem-onstrated by his review of Mr. J. H. Stoddart, when he first appeared in a dramatization of lan Maclaren's Scottish classic "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush." Mr. Winter was not only enthusistic over the play but paid an eloquent tributo Mr. Stoddart as a master of his art. Here ar

a few things that he said:
"In Mr. Stöddart's acting, the effect is so af flicting and lamentable that it seems above al art, and scarcely can be born. Nothing so simply louching, so reverend, so awful in its tremendor purpose of justice and so deplorable in its weak ness of human grief has been seen on our stage In the element of simplicity—in that something that comes straight from the heart and goes to the hearts of others-this impersonation of Lach lan Campbell transcends anything of its clas-the present day has ever known. For any paral lef to it, in our stage history, the observer must recall such embodiments as those of Blake and Burton and Gilbert, the Last Man and Old Dornton. In the passionate struggle between religiourage and human feeling, Mr. Stoddart produced indeed, an altogether unexampled effect. It does ot seem to be acting-it had all the truth of reality. The performance is one that everyone should see. It adorns the theater. It vindicates the uses of the drama. It is an honor to human ature, and it will prove of great public benefit ings as a pure play and a great actor are griev Surely there is no ring of the pessimistic in his. It is the enthusiasm of a scholar and e a critic who has waited long and patiently to find a fit subject for his masterly commendation "The Bonnie Brier Bush" comes to the Lyceum this afternoon and evening. Special holiday matince will be given at 2.15.

Mann and Lipman.

Louis Mann and Clara Lipman make a return visit to the Lyceum Tuesday evening next, pre-senting their highly successful comedy, "All on Account of Eliza," with its tremendously tunny second act. It is in this portion of the piece that the stars find their best opportunities. The that the stars and their loss epochs work by Miss Lip-act begins with some dainty work by Miss Lip-man, as the young schoolmistress, surrounded by Electric City Wheelmen teams rolled the room unaided, one must see the play, for the reason that no adequate description of the fracus can be given. There are never less than half a dozen curtain calls at its finish.

Andrew Mack. Tom Moore was endowed with a double gift rom nature-he was born a poet and a musician too. He was rhyming and singing from childhood up. The peculiar habit which Irish mothers have of singing ballads into their babies' cars contributes largely to creat in their children a musical other was herself a magazine of Irish songs. A new musical comedy, called "When Reuben Comes to Town," the work of Herman Perley, musical director of the Anna Held company, will have its first production part Saturday night. have its first production next Saturday night at Amsterdam, N. Y. The judgment of Rich & Harris in closing the tour of Louis Mann and Clara Lipman in "The Red Kloof" and returning them to "All On Account of Eliza," has been well endorsed by the results. It was simply transferring these stars from a moderate success to a big hit, as events have proved. People wanted to seen them in a real comic play to the extent of $5,000 more or the week, it seems. Another instance where the public insists it knows better than the actor what it wants to him in.

During Mary Mannering's tour of the l'acific coast cities earlier in the season, she appeared in several performances of "Camille." She gave such a really successful and artistic portrayal of this great emotional character that Frank McKee, her manager, immediately decided that he would present her in the role, surrounded by a notable ast, during a special tour of the principal cities the coming spring. Last Tuesday Mr. McKee ar-ranged with Mr. James K. Hacket to play the part of Armand with Miss Mannering. Contracts have not yet been signed with other artists, but Mr. McKee has negotiations under way, which when completed, will give this notable piece on of the strongest casts ever seen in it in this William Seymour will direct the re

A new preparation for the cure of catarrh has attracted much attention in the past few months and has met with great favor from the medical profession not only because it is remark ably successful in the cure of catarrh, but also because it is not a secret patent medicine; anyone using it knows just what he is taking into his sys acts on the blood and mucous membrane, hydrastin for same purpose to clear the mucus from head and throat and red gum of eucalyptus tree to destroy catarrhal germs in the blood.

All of these antiseptic remedies ar combined in the form of a pleasant tasting tablet or lozenge, and are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and many recent tests in chronic catarrh cases have established its merit beyond question. Dr. Sebring states that he has dis carded inhalers, sprays and washes and depends entirely upon Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in treating nasal catarrh. He says: "I have had patients who had lost the sense of smell entirely, and whose hearing was also impaired from nasal catarrh, recover completely after a few weeks use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. I have been equally successful with the remedy in catarra of throat and catarra of stomach. I can only explain it on the principle that catarrh is a constitutional disease, and that the antiseptic properties in these tablets drives the catarrhal poison completely out of the system."

Dr. O'Dell says, I have cured many cases of catarrh of stomach in past four months by the use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets alone without the use of any other remedy and without dieting. The tablets are especially useful in nasal catarrh and catarrh of the throat, clearing the membranes and overcoming the continual hawking, coughing and expectorating, so disgusting and annoying to catarrh sufferers.
